FUNERAL OF BOOTH VIEWED BY 34,000 FERVID DISCIPLES

No Pomp or Mourning Symbol Marks Ceremony for the Salvation Chief.

FLAG OF ARMY ON COFFIN

Forty Bands Massed on Platform; King's Equerry and Many Officials Present.

SERVICE GREAT PRAYER MEETING

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Funeral services for the founder of the Salvation Army, Gen. William Booth, were held at the Olympia tonight. In accordance with the traditions of the organization they were without pomp or symbols of mourning, but were carried out with fervor and impressiveness.

Thirty-four thousand persons participated in the function. Nearly half of them wore blue coats and red jerseys or bonnets with the red ribbon so familiar on the streets of the cities of the world where the army is established.

The body of the general, in a plain pine coffin, rested high upon a white catafalque in front of the big platform across the end of the hall, where all the chief officers of the organization were seated and where forty bands were massed.

First Flag Above Coffin.

The crimson flag of the army "of fire and blood," which the general unfurled on Mount Calvary, was planted above the coffin. A bank of flowers, composed of the tributes sent by members of royalty and many societies, were behind it.

Flags of various nations in which the commander in chief had waged campaigns and the standards of the older divisions of the army were arranged in front of the platform.

The front rows of chairs before the coffin were filled with representatives of various bodies and also the equerry for the king, several mayors in their robes and chains of office, a delegation from the stock exchange, ministers and clergymen of all the protestant churches and Jewish rabbis, and many notable personages were seated throughout the house.

Service Mammoth Prayer Meeting.

The service itself was not only a memorial but a mammoth meeting of prayer and praise.

The most solemn moments of the long meeting were when the coffin was borne along the center of the hall to the sonorous music of the dead march in "Saul." A small procession representing many branches of the Salvation army, carrying the flags of their respective countries, preceded it.

Immediately before the body a brigadier bore aloft the crimson flag which the general raised at Jerusalem and under which he died at Hadley Wood, and following him marched the officers from foreign countries.

Then came the new general of the army, Bramwell Booth, and his wife, both wearing uniforms of commissioners and members of the Booth families.

Thousands Join in Hymn.

Every seat on the floor and in the galleries was taken when the service began, and several thousands of persons were banked around the outskirts of the hall, half of whom could not see over the shoulders of those in front, but who could hear and take their part in them.

When the bands began with the well known revival hymn, "The Better World," the ocean of voices took up the strain and sang three stanzas of it. Then every one bowed his head in silent prayer.

The bands broke into the dead march at the conclusion of the prayer, and the thousands rose and turned toward the entrance where appeared a cluster of white tipped flags.

Amid reverent silence the white catafalque was wheeled along the aisle to a position in front of the platform, where its escort broke to the right and left and mounted the steps.

Bramwell Booth in Prayer.

Bramwell Booth immediately reached his chair, where he fell to his knees and buried his face in his hands. The assembly then sang "Dear Savior, I can never repay the debt of love I owe."

Commissioner Lawley, the late general's right hand man, made a brief extemporaneous prayer, and this was followed by the hymn, "Pass me not, O gentle Savior."

Commissioner Adelaide Cox offered prayer and with a great murmur of voices every one repeated the Lord's prayer.

The congregation then read silently from books several extracts of the late general's writings, the reading being interspersed by hymns, one sung by children and another by all the women in the hall.

Revival Service Begun.

Silent reading, alternating with hymns, continued for half an hour, following which a true Salvation Army revival service was conducted and an invitation to sinners and backsliders to come to "The Mercy Seat."

Dozens of persons forced their way through the crowded aisle to the mercy seat on either side of the platform, where they knelt in prayer.

In some cases the police were required to force a way for the penitents.

Striding back and forth on the platform, Gen. Bramwell Booth, swinging his arms above his head, led the singing, pausing frequently to remind sinners that the dead leader had given his life to saving them. The revival service was concluded with the singing of "His blood can make the vilest clean; His blood avails for me."

The most impressive feature of the solemnities then followed. All the soldiers of the army rose and recited the covenant of fidelity, pledging themselves to be faithful soldiers of the Lord.

BLAMES A POLICEMAN FOR DEATH OF RICH PUBLISHER.

Valet of Thomas Noyes Declares Bluecoat Knocked Employer Down, the Injury Inflicted Proving Fatal.

Washington, D.C., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—Behind the death of Thomas Noyes, millionaire publisher and owner of the Washington American league baseball team, whose death a week ago Wednesday was attributed to pneumonia, lies a pathetic tragedy which the Noyes family are investigating.

Charles Simbley, for thirteen years valet to Mr. Noyes, has made affidavit that Noyes came to his death through having been struck down on the night of Aug. 17 in front of the fashionable Farragut apartments by Policeman Charles M. Mundle. His story is backed up by two of the Farragut's elevator boys.

The valet says Noyes left his apartment at 10 o'clock the night of his death, and walked one block. He stood whistling when he was approached by Mundle, who protested against the noise.

Noyes had a habit of raising his hand before speaking, generally placing it on the arm of the person addressed. According to the valet's affidavit, when addressed by the policeman, he raised his hand, and was immediately felled by a blow from Mundle's fist. The policeman denies the story.

JILTED BY 'APOLLO' SHE HAD EDUCATED, GIRL THROWS ACID

Annie Raffelson Has Farmhand Taught to Read and Sent to Medical School.

SELLS EGGS TO HELP HIM

Milzenmacher Plans to Marry Another and Benefactor's Love Turns.

HE GOES TO HOSPITAL; SHE TO CELL

The romance of Annie Raffelson and her "Apollo" burned itself out last night.

A dash of carbolic acid flung into "Apollo's" face by the girl gave the final fiery touch to it. The acid did not "forever mar Abraham Milzenmacher's fatal beauty," but it marked him and burned his hands so that he may not work with probe and scalpel for some time to come. It also marked out the parting of their ways. Milzenmacher went to a hospital and then to his home. The girl is locked up at the Maxwell street station.

The flinging of the acid, according to the story told by the girl to the police, was an act of desperation prompted by the rejection of her love by Milzenmacher after she had given him six years of self-sacrifice and devotion.

Almost by her efforts alone, she said, she had raised him from a place as an illiterate hired man on her father's farm to a position as teacher in the Hebrew institute in Chicago and the prospect soon to be realized of a physician's degree at the University of Chicago.

Deemed Her Beneath Him.

Having reached this point of vantage, Miss Raffelson said, Milzenmacher had leisure to look around and take in his changed situation. Then, she declared, he discovered the girl who had helped him was "beneath him." Another girl, this one wealthy and accomplished, made a stronger appeal to his educated eye. Without so much as thanking her for what she had done for him, she asserted, Milzenmacher jilted her and prepared to marry the other woman.

The attack was made at Center avenue and Twelfth street. Milzenmacher had walked into a laundry with a bundle of linen. The girl, without his knowledge, had been following him.

When he came out Miss Raffelson sprang at him and threw the contents of a bottle of carbolic acid on him.

Milzenmacher shouted for help and the police came. The girl made no attempt to escape. She did not deny having thrown the acid.

Tells of Her Shattered Romance.

Miss Raffelson is said to have made the following statement to the police:

"My father is a farmer living near Sheboygan, Wis. For the last two years I have been living at 1220 South Sawyer avenue. I threw the acid at Abraham because he had broken his promise to marry me. I have done everything a woman could do for a man, and now he has deserted me for another girl.

"We met first six years ago. He was 16 years old then, and so was I. He had just come to this country from Europe. He had no money and no education, but then, as always, he was handsome. The first time I saw him I called him Apollo, because I had heard the expression "As beautiful as Apollo."

"Abraham could not read or write. All he had was his strength. He could do farm labor for my father. But as soon as I saw him I fell in love with him. I think, too, that in those days he loved me. We got to be well acquainted. Soon it was agreed between us that we should marry.

They Plan for the Future.

"Then we began to plan for the future. I thought it would be fine if he could become a doctor. So I set out to educate him. I got my school books and taught him the rudiments of education. Under my tutorage he learned how to read, write, and figure. After four years he had a fairly good common school education.

"Two years ago we decided that he should come to Chicago and study to become a teacher. We thought that as a teacher he would be able to earn enough money to put him through some good medical school. After that we promised each other we should marry.

"Abraham had a little money and I had saved some. We made a fund of it and he left Sheboygan. As soon as he reached Chicago he got a job in a suit manufacturing plant. He did not earn much, but his job gave him time to study. To eke out his expenses and provide him with the books and the good clothes he had to have I gave him the money I made on the farm in Sheboygan by selling butter and eggs.

Starts Study of Medicine.

"Last year Abraham was able to pass his examinations, and some one who was interested in him got him a place as a teacher in the Hebrew institute, where he had been studying. As soon as he was made a teacher he entered the University of Chicago medical college.

"When he entered the university Abraham sent for me to come to Chicago, so I could be near him. I got a place in a department store, so I would not be a burden to him, but would be able to help him with my savings.

"After I had been here a little while Abraham's feelings toward me seemed to undergo a change. I could not understand it at first. Then, by accident, I discovered he was corresponding with a Sheboygan girl. She is Miss Minnie Fredelmann. Her people are wealthy."

Milzenmacher lives at 1112 South Center avenue. He denied the truth of Miss Raffelson's statements last night. "I always thought," he said, "that she was in love with my brother."

BRINGING THE CHILDREN BACK TO SCHOOL.

[Copyright: 1912: By John T. McCutcheon.]

CHILD DROWNS AT CLARENDON BEACH

Little One Loses Life in Shallow Water While Guards Stand Near.

ROUSES NEIGHBORS' IRE.

Antipathy of residents of the north shore to privately owned bathing beaches in that part of the city was aroused by two incidents yesterday. One was the drowning of a little girl in two feet of water at the Clarendon beach.

The other incident was the reopening of the North Shore beach, which had been ordered closed by Mayor Harrison after an attack on a little girl there by two men.

The child drowned was Hedwick Von Meding, the 10 year old daughter of Hans Von Meding of 4226 Perry street, secretary of the Roofers and Builders' Supply company.

Charles Wilkinson of 18 Chalmers place and Charles Palm of 729 Montrose avenue stumbled over the girl's body in the water, not ten feet from the shore. Wilkinson ran for a doctor at the Park View hospital near by.

Mother's Story of Tragedy.

The mother's story of the drowning is as follows:

"I had been bathing with my children, but had become chilled and left the two alone while I went in to dress. Victor, my 12 year old son, followed me and opened the bathhouse locker for me.

"In a few minutes he came running back, asking me if I had seen Hedwick. I said no. Then I thought she might have been drowned because she couldn't swim much. We ran to the beach and couldn't see her anywhere.

"I called to several of the life guards to go in and look for the child. They just stood there and laughed at me, telling me it would be impossible for my girl to drown with so many people in the water around her. For at least five minutes I stood there, pleading with them to go out. 'There is no danger of her having drowned,' they would answer. 'She has just got out of sight somewhere and will return.'

Young Men Find the Body.

"Ten minutes later two young men yelled from the shore that they had found a drowned girl. I covered my face with my hands, afraid to look, knowing that it was my little girl. When they laid her on the sand I looked and saw it was Hedwick."

Dr. Emil Torrell of the Park View hospital arrived in a few minutes with several interns and nurses. The pulmotor was telephoned for. Before it came the doctors worked without a stop for an hour. When it arrived the work was taken up again and continued until nearly 6 o'clock. There was not a sign of returning life. Dr. Torrell said he thought the girl was dead before she was taken from the water.

"She must have been struck by a large wave and knocked down," he said. "She could swim but little, I understand, and when a thing of that kind happens to a child of that age she becomes so frightened she could not rise out of the water."

The manager and life savers at the Clarendon beach denied they had refused to look for the child.

"The mother did not even tell us her child was missing," said the manager. "In fact, I did not know of the trouble until one of the doctors had arrived."

Beach Reopening Is Surprise.

North Shore residents were surprised last night by the reopening of the North Shore bathing beach.

Mayor Harrison had revoked the license of the beach on Aug. 9 because a 9 year old girl had been attacked by two men in a photograph gallery there. The case was not reported to the police by the lessee of the beach, Mrs. Amelia Cleys, who says she acted on the advice of her attorney.

The two men charged with luring the child into the photographer's dark room were held to the grand jury yesterday in the Sheffield avenue court. They are Frank Osborn and A. W. Smith. Their bonds were fixed at $1,500 each.

The revocation of the beach's license was one of the first acts of the mayor on his return from a vacation. It was reopened after he had been out of the city only a few hours. The mayor acted on the recommendation of Police Captain Madden and W. L. Bodine of the board of education.

Woman Refuses to Talk.

Mrs. Cleys would not say on what authority she resumed business. She referred information seekers to her attorney, who could not be reached. Police at the Town Hall station say they believe she acted on an injunction issued two years ago restraining the city from closing the beach.

Joseph G. Tyssowski, attorney for the Improvement Protective association, which has done much to keep the Wilson avenue section clean, was indignant at the reopening of the beach.

"The owners waited until the mayor departed from the city and then started up," he asserted. "They did not dare act while he was here. I suppose they secured an injunction restraining the city closing the place. I will look into the matter in the morning."

DR. HUGH T. PATRICK HURT IN AUTOMOBILE COLLISION.

Physician's Car Encounters That of William King at Goethe Street and Dearborn Avenue.

Dr. Hugh T. Patrick of 1428 North State street was bruised last night when his automobile collided with the machine of William King, 2305 Calumet avenue, at Goethe street and Dearborn avenue.

Dr. Patrick was driving his machine east on Goethe street and King was driving south on Dearborn avenue. The wind shields and lamps on the cars were broken. Dr. Patrick's injuries were not serious.

Ethel Anderson, who is 4 years old and lives in Chicago Heights, had a narrow escape from serious injury at night when she was knocked down by an automobile owned and driven by Dr. George A. Colin, 2018 Lawrence avenue, at North Clark and Center streets. She fell between the front wheels and the physician stopped the car before it had passed over her body.

Joseph Mentra of 921 North Robey street, a messenger boy, was severely injured when he was struck by an automobile in front of 157 North Dearborn street. The chauffeur took the boy to the Practitioners' hospital.

VILLAGE OF LEBANON, OHIO, WIPED OUT BY CLOUDBURST.

Houses That Remain Standing Flooded to Their Upper Stories—No Loss of Life Reported.

Dayton, O., Aug. 28.—A cloudburst is reported to have wiped out the village of Lebanon, county seat of Warren county, tonight.

Houses that remain standing are flooded to the upper stories, and thousands of dollars' damage done.

No loss of life has been reported.

Lebanon has a population of 2,698, according to the last census.

POLICE STOP USE OF 'PUSHMOBILE'

Chief Says Complaints of Pedestrians Forced Him to Outlaw Novelty.

BOYS TO PROTEST TODAY.

Chief of Police McWeeny issued an order last night prohibiting the use of the "pushmobile," a crude vehicle made out of a piece of board, a pair of roller skates, and a soap box. Boys in all parts of Chicago immediately planned to visit the city hall today and demand that the order be rescinded.

In outlawing the device the chief has closed an industry that gave employment and amusement to thousands of youths. It was a "home" industry—the pushmobile being assembled in the basement or rear yard.

Boy Says He Is Inventor.

Tony Maratta, who resides in South Clark street, says he is the inventor of the "pushmobile."

Tony is an Italian. He did not patent the invention.

Tony gave his first demonstration of the "pushmobile" about July 15. He sped up and down Clark street, between Polk and Harrison, and he was the envy of every boy in "Little Italy."

By fastening a plank about four feet long and six inches wide to a pair of roller skates, one at each end of the board, and nailing a soap box on the front end, he had a vehicle that found popularity at once.

Spreads Over City.

Other boys in the neighborhood made "pushmobiles," and the fever soon spread to all sections of the city. The son of a millionaire was as much interested in the new device as the boy whose parents were poor.

It is estimated that 10,000 of these home made vehicles are now rolling along the sidewalks of Chicago. The "chauffeur" pushes the vehicle with one foot, the other resting on the board. He holds on to the soap box to keep his balance and to steer the machine.

A good healthy boy rolling a "pushmobile" can make more noise than a boiler shop. Pedestrians have to get out of his way or have their shins skinned or legs broken.

Many Complain to Chief.

"I have received numerous complaints about these so-called pushmobiles," said the chief, "and decided to suppress them.

"Complaint has been made to me that aged persons have been injured, and nervous women have become hysterical at the approach of the pushmobile. I'm sorry for the kids, but this new fangled wagon will have to go."

MASKED MOTORISTS HOLD UP AND ROB CITIZEN IN HYDE PARK.

Auto Containing Five Highwaymen Stops at Curb While Pair Level Revolvers at Victim and Take $10.

While Richard Smale was on his way to his residence, 5225 Woodlawn avenue, at 11:30 o'clock last night he was intercepted near Fifty-sixth street in Kimbark avenue by a large green touring car containing five men.

The automobile stopped at the curb. Two men quickly leaped from the machine and leveled revolvers at Smale.

Smale attempted to make out the features of the pair, but handkerchiefs concealed their faces up to the eyes, over which hung the lowered brims of slouch hats. They took $10, rejoined their three companions in the automobile, sped away unhindered down the street, and vanished in the gloom.

U.S. TO END WAR IN NICARAGUA; SENDS MARINES

Taft Expects 2,000 There in 5 Days; Stops Order for Troops.

WORSE THAN BOXERS

Barbarism Menaces the Lives and the Property of Americans.

BUSY DAY FOR PRESIDENT

On Board President's Train, Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 28.—President Taft, who this morning directed the Tenth infantry, U. S. A., now at Panama, to proceed at once to Nicaragua to aid in protecting the lives and property of Americans and foreigners, tonight rescinded his order. From his private car in the Rochester railway yards the president wired to the acting secretary of war to recall the order.

A sufficient force of marines, the president said tonight, would be in Managua, the Nicaraguan capital, and Corinto, its principal seaport, early next week to insure the safety of American lives and property.

2,000 Marines There in Five Days.

The president's action tonight came at the close of a day spent largely in considering telegrams from the state, war, and navy department heads in Washington. The president expressed tonight to friends on his car the belief that there will be more than 2,000 United States marines on Nicaraguan soil by next Tuesday.

A long telegram tonight from the commander of the United States gunboat Denver in Nicaraguan waters said the insurgent leaders had given assurances that they will open the lines of communication from Corinto to Managua.

The Nicaraguan government itself asked for assistance from the United States and stands ready to aid in opening the railway line to the coast from the capital.

The message to the president said the rebels possess five locomotives and the government five. All ten of these may be put at the disposal of the United States if necessary. The recall of the order for the dispatch of the Tenth infantry followed the receipt of this telegram from the Denver.

Suffering Untold Horrors.

The president did not conceal his anxiety tonight over conditions in the Central American republic. In Managua and Corinto and other towns the situation is not now especially dangerous to Americans, but in other parts of the country the revolution is not in hand and pillaging of all sorts has been going on.

The people of Nicaragua, the president was informed, are suffering untold horrors and Americans are suffering in many instances with them.

To friends tonight Mr. Taft said if the senate had agreed to the proposed treaty with Nicaragua which he advocated on his long trip last fall the misery existing today would never have arisen.

Under that treaty the United States, he said, would have administered the customs of Nicaragua, and since the customs are about that country's only source of revenue, there would have been little to attract a revolutionist who wouldn't care to tackle the United States.

Why Order Was Rescinded.

During the day the president received several long messages from Acting Secretary of State Huntington Wilson in Washington. His order to the Tenth infantry to advance on Nicaragua was issued in Beverly just before he left for Columbus, O., where he will speak tomorrow. Messages from Mr. Wilson were received at Albany, N. Y., and at other points east of Rochester, and telegrams from the navy department also kept coming to Mr. Taft's private car.

Neither the state nor navy department wished to see United States troops sent into Nicaragua. The custom in similar cases has been to land marines. The president said today that while the sending of a regiment of infantry would not be an act of war, he would prefer to use marines, if an available force could be found quickly.

His telegrams to Washington evidently were fruitful, for he was of the opinion tonight that the navy had found enough marines to look after every American and all American property that might be endangered.

If he finds the situation critical later he will not hesitate to use the army, but he was hopeful that the insurrection and government leaders will see the futility of trying to make it uncomfortable for American citizens

WILL ESTABLISH ORDER.
BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—The United States government is to establish order in Nicaragua at once. Within a week's time it is expected that 2,000 marines will be in that country to protect the lives and property of Americans and foreigners.

Alarming reports of atrocities committed in the Central American republic early in the day caused President Taft to order troops sent there.

The president ordered the Tenth regiment of infantry, now at Panama, to proceed immediately to Nicaragua to aid the navy in the occupation of that country. Tonight he revoked the order.

The exact reason for this change has not developed. It is explained officially that the revocation was due to assurances from the rebels that they will permit American marines and blue jackets to travel without hindrance.

Joint Policy Against U. S.

But behind this is information which has reached the government that the Latin-American states are decidedly restive over the attitude of this country toward Nicaragua. It is known that some of them are in communication with each other with a view to the observance of a joint policy in certain eventualities.

It is extremely doubtful if their exchange of views will be productive of any hostile opposition to the United States. The administration will not permit the attitude of the Latin-American republics to interfere with its decision to protect the lives and property of Americans and foreigners.

The marines and blue jackets now in the disturbed country will be reinforced by the marines now en route on the Prairie. In addition the Tenth regiment has been directed to hold itself in readiness to proceed at a moment's notice to Corinto if they are needed.

Worse than Boxer Uprising.

Conditions in Nicaragua are exceedingly grave. A dispatch received by the state department today, signed by 125 Americans at Matagalpas, told of the killing of a German named Nielson. The dispatch appealed for protection.

Charges of barbarism—acts even worse than those of the boxer rebellion—have been received within the last twenty-four hours. They include attacks on women and children, the shooting of women, firing by the rebels on flags of truce, burning of soldiers, and starvation of political prisoners in dungeons.

The state department late tonight received news which caused fears that a general Central American outbreak may result from the Nicaraguan situation. A belated dispatch from Minister Weitsel refers to an "eruption of refugees of the late Zelayan régime from Honduras into Nicaragua."

This was taken by the department to presage a widening of revolutionary operations.

Fear U. S. Occupation.

The situation is complicated by the attitude of the big and little republics of Latin America. They are apprehensive that the United States is going into Nicaragua to stay.

Since this government began the construction of the Panama canal they have believed our aim was to acquire all the territory between the Rio Grande and the Canal Zone. To reassure them, the state department, by direction of the president, has sent a circular note to all the countries concerned, describing the conditions in Nicaragua, and making it clear that as soon as peace and order are established, American marines will be withdrawn.

It is extremely difficult to forecast, however, how long that will be. The administration recognizes that it would be foolish to go to the expense of sending a large force to Nicaragua and then, after nominal peace has been secured, to withdraw. This would mean another revolution in short order, and the dispatch of a second expedition as soon as peace and order are restored.

May Pursue Roosevelt Policy.

The president and his advisers will consider the idea of pursuing a policy identical with that Col. Roosevelt followed in Santo Domingo. Americans will be placed in charge of the customs houses, from which the revolutionists, through temporary possession, obtain money.

A new agreement will be made between the government to be established, under which a certain percentage of the customs collections will be applied to the payment of the outstanding debt and the rest will be turned into the Nicaraguan treasury to meet the expenses of running the government.

All this will take time. During the session of congress next winter, the president will explain the situation to the senate and will insist that it is the duty of the senate immediately to ratify the new agreement in order that the stable conditions established may continue.

If Woodrow Wilson should be elected the senate unquestionably would reject the agreement, and the status quo would be maintained until the new president determined what policy to pursue.

It may be there will be some fighting—following the landing of marines, but the general impression prevails that the revolutionists, who are practically in control of the situation, will recognize their inability to cope with the United States and will surrender to the inevitable.

New Election Similar to Panama's.

Under the treaties of Washington, signed by the five Central American republics, recognition cannot be accorded to any government which may come into power in any of the republics as a consequence of a coup d'état or of a revolution, "so long as the freely elected representatives of the people thereof have not constitutionally reorganized the country."

In other words, even if the revolution now on were to succeed the government it would establish would not be recognized by the United States, Mexico, Guatemala, Honduras, Salvador, and Costa Rica.

It is not at all likely that the government now in power will continue even with the approval of this country. To satisfy all parties, the president will direct that a new election be held. The people will be allowed to express their choice freely, just as did those of the republic of Panama.

Panama Case as Precedent.

The Panama case is cited as the precedent the administration is following, though the conditions on the isthmus were different from those in Nicaragua.

There is an intense anti-foreign feeling, the American legation and American consulates are in danger, two Americans have been killed, and others are in peril.

Europeans are clamoring for protection, and their governments have informed the United States that they expect this government to act. Failure to do so would mean their intervention.

It will be the duty of the American forces to prevent the destruction of the railroad and telegraph lines, to defend foreign life and property, and to bring about as early as possible the restoration of peace.

Who is behind the revolution has not been ascertained. It would surprise no one, however, should it appear that it is being financed by ex-President Zelaya, who was driven by this government into exile. Zelaya was canny enough to establish a foreign bank account and is said to have plenty of funds at his disposal.

May Help Peace in Mexico.

The administration is hopeful that its prompt action in Nicaragua will stir the Mexican government to suppressing the insurrection with which it is coping. Conditions in southern Mexico particularly are bad.

They have engaged the attention of the administration for some weeks, but nothing has been done, because it is realized that the dispatch of troops to the neighboring republic will lead to a long struggle.

In view of the short time remaining between now and March 4 next the president does not feel justified in biding his successor to the prosecution of a war which probably would last several years.

U. S. MEN AT MASSACRE SCENE.

CORINTO, Nicaragua, Aug. 28.—Commander Warren J. Terhune and 200 American sailors and marines from the gunboat Annapolis and the collier Justin, now lying in Corinto harbor, today forced their way through territory controlled by the revolutionaries to Leon, midway between the Pacific coast and Lake Managua. It was there that the Liberals rose in arms on Aug. 19 and at night massacred the sleeping soldiers of the garrison.

The Americans found the Liberals hostile to their advance and it became necessary for Commander Terhune to threaten to attack Leon before the insurgents would allow the train bearing his detachment to enter the town. Rioting had subsided and the Americans found the city resuming its normal appearance.

After conferring with the Liberal leaders Commander Terhune withdrew his force from the city, 100 marines proceeding to Managua, the capital, and the remainder returning to Corinto.

FRANK MORRISON DEFENDS "WE DON'T PATRONIZE" LIST.

American Federation of Labor Secretary Asserts Right of Unions to Refrain from Dealing with Opponents.

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—Secretary Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor, testifying today in the famous hatters' case, asserted the right of unions to refrain from buying or dealing with any one opposed to trade unionism.

He identified several "we don't patronize" lists, published in the Federationist, and said the executive council frequently took action because of the unfair attacks upon it.

The stand taken by Secretary Morrison today was similar to that of himself, John Mitchell, and President Gompers in the Bucks Stove and Range boycott case. In that instance the federal Supreme court imposed prison sentences on them for contempt of court, saying they had violated an injunction forbidding the publication of unfair lists.

Mr. Gompers will be called to the witness stand tomorrow.

AVIATOR BURNED TO DEATH.

Bursting of Petrol Tank in Flight Ends the Life of French Army Officer.

DOUAI, France, Aug. 28.—Lieut. Louis Felix M. Chandenier of the aviation corps burned to death today while flying in his aeroplane.

He started from this city for Chalons on the test necessary for the acquisition of the pilot's certificate. When he reached Crecy-sur-Seine, about half the distance, his petrol tank burst into flames and the machine crashed to the earth.

The young officer's body was consumed. He belonged to the Eighth infantry regiment and had been attached only a short time to the aviation section.

KAISER'S HEALTH IS BETTER.

German Emperor Takes Long Walk and Later Disposes of Accumulation of State Business.

CASSEL HESSE-NASSAU, Germany, Aug. 28.—Anxiety concerning the health of Emperor William has disappeared. His majesty is now practically as well as ever. Only a slight hoarseness betrays his recent indisposition. During a long walk in the grounds and along the promenade of Wilhelmshoe castle early in the day the emperor set his companions a lively pace, swinging his cane vigorously. Then he attended to a quantity of state business that had accumulated during his illness, but during the afternoon took a little relaxation on the advice of the court physicians.

TROOP K CAVALRYMAN DROWNS.

Enters River with His Horse and Sinks When He Is Kicked in the Head.

Racine, Wis., Aug. 28.—A member of troop K, Fifteenth United States cavalry, in camp two miles northwest of the city, was drowned today. His name could not be learned. He went into the river on horseback, was kicked in the head and sank. Troop K is on its way from Camp McCoy to Fort Sheridan.

The body of the young man taken from the lake at the foot of Twelfth street on Tuesday has not been identified. It has been viewed by scores of persons in undertaking rooms at 736 South Wabash avenue.

OBITUARY.

JOHN G. HENDERSON, LL. D., Chicago attorney, and author of "Henderson's Chancery Practice," died last Tuesday night at his residence, 3752 Sheffield avenue. He was 75 years old and had been ill for several years. He is survived by a widow and two children. Interment today in Jacksonville, Ill.

EDWARD D. HOSMER, a Chicago attorney whose residence is at 39 East Schiller street, died suddenly yesterday in Gull Lake, Mich. He was 68 years old. He became ill with dropsy several days ago, but his condition was not regarded as serious until yesterday.

REBELS MENACE U. S. BORDER

Gen. Wood Inquires Whether More Troops Are Needed.

GENERAL WILL INVESTIGATE

American Killed by Looters in Home in Chihuahua.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 28.—Increased activity of rebel bands on the Mexican border as the result of the breaking up of the main army of Orozco is creating a grave situation on the American side of the line.

Gen. Wood, chief of staff, today wired Gen. Steever of Fort Bliss, asking whether he wished further reinforcements for the border patrol.

The war department, to be ready for further calls for troops, has taken steps to send troops from the Pacific division within a few hours after receipt of a request from Gen. Steever.

Gen. Walter S. Schuyler, commanding the department of California, was today directed by Gen. Wood to proceed immediately to the southern boundary of his department and take charge of the troops there.

General to Investigate.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 28.—Gen. Schuyler will leave the presidio immediately for Fort Huachuca, near Nogales, Ariz., to investigate conditions on the border. He will keep in touch with Gen. Steever and will also report direct to Washington.

Until his report has been made no troops will move from California.

American Killed by Looters.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 28.—While defending his home against Mexican looters, William Jackson Stevens, an American colonist at Pacheco, Chihuahua, was killed yesterday, according to advices received at the colony headquarters here.

DOG'S BITE FATAL TO GIRL

Child Dies in Convulsions After Three Days of Suffering.

BITTEN ONE MONTH AGO.

Boy Mangled at the Same Time Shows No Trace of Rabies.

Esther, the 3 year old daughter of D. A. Cannon of 3712 Eberly avenue, Austin, died yesterday in Pasteur institute, after having been in convulsions for three days. She was bitten by a mad dog owned by Melvina Baker, living at 2222 Austin avenue.

During the last three days of her illness the little girl's condition was such that the nurse who attended her and her mother, who was constantly at her bedside, wore rubber gloves to prevent infection.

The child was bitten four weeks ago. She and William Giega of 3826 North Albany avenue were playing with the dog when it attacked them. A policeman shot the beast and an examination of its head disclosed hydrophobia. The girl's wounds were cauterized and she was taken to the institute. The Giega boy has exhibited no symptoms of the disease.

Vicious dogs bit eleven Chicagoans during the twenty-four hours ending at noon yesterday. The majority of those bitten were children.

ADMITTED BIG BOMB PLOT?

Prosecutor Says Man Who Killed Self Furnished Dynamite.

THREE INDICTMENTS LIKELY

Boston Mill Owners May Face Charge of Conspiracy.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—E. W. Pitman, the wealthy contractor who killed himself yesterday in Andover, furnished the dynamite planted during the Lawrence strike, according to a statement made by District Attorney Pelletier today.

The prosecutor says Pitman revealed a plot concocted by big mill men the object of which was to put blame for the dynamite on the strike leaders.

The report of the grand jury investigating the conspiracy charge is expected tomorrow. It was rumored at the courthouse today that indictments probably would be found against three Boston men—two mill owners and a dealer in mill supplies.

Prosecutor Pelletier in telling about Pitman's admissions to him said they met recently in a Boston hotel.

Says Pitman Gave Names.

Pelletier says Pitman gave him the names of friends who joined him in the conspiracy and also admitted getting the dynamite. Pitman, the prosecutor says, told of meeting the parties to the conspiracy in Boston.

John J. Breen, who was convicted in Lawrence of placing the dynamite, corroborated Pitman's story, Mr. Pelletier said. Breen, according to the district attorney, was asked by the plotters if he could use the dynamite, and he said he could.

How It Was Delivered.

As related by Pelletier, Pitman then was approached and said he thought he could get the dynamite. After the two meetings in Boston Pitman met Breen and arranged to get the dynamite and meet Breen later at the same place.

Pitman went to Saugus, got the dynamite at a quarry, returned to Boston with it in bags, and delivered it to Breen, who went to Lawrence with it.

URGES STRICTER MARRIAGE LAWS

Bar Association Asks States to Put More Restrictions on Issue of Permits.

STANDS UP FOR COURTS.

Resolution Adopted Denounces Proposition for the Recall of Judges.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—Louis J. Behan and one or two other Chicago lawyers are attempting to have the American Bar association recommend a law forbidding the issue of marriage licenses except in cases where the applicants produce physicians' certificates of good health. The propose that the association advise every state in the union to enact such a law. They would fix a heavy penalty on the physician who issues a certificate fraudulently or without adequate inquiry.

"Every one who marries should be in good health," explained Mr. Behan. "When I was assistant county attorney and assigned to the insane court I saw the awful results of improper marriages. Some of the leading physicians of Chicago have urged the necessity of such a law. Dean Sumner of the Chicago Episcopal cathedral refuses to perform the marriage ceremony for those who do not have a certificate of good health."

Would Amend Marriage Laws.

The association today recommended a form of marriage law to every state in the union. It prohibits common law marriages and requires that at least five days shall elapse between the application for a marriage license and its issuance. In that period the official issuing the license may investigate the representations of the applicants. This officer may require the applicants for a license to convince a judge of that particular jurisdiction that the certificate should be issued. During the five days the names and addresses desiring the license shall be posted in a conspicuous place.

If this recommendation becomes law in Illinois and Michigan, the Chicago lawyers here predict the summer marriage mills across the lake will be put out of business and several justices of the peace in Cook county will lose most of their marriage patronage.

Summary of Day's Work.

The association settled down to a consideration of a number of important questions today. Action on a few of them is summarized as follows:

Reiterated opposition to the recall of judges.

Adopted resolution opposing repeal of the bankruptcy law.

Recommended uniform laws in all states on child labor and bills of lading.

Urged the United States Supreme court to adopt reforms in federal court procedure.

Recommended that all states adopt the federal pure food and drug act.

Declined to condemn the police system of third degree.

Declined to recommend law prohibiting the detention of innocent witnesses by police.

Refused to adopt resolution recommending increase in salaries for federal judges.

Approved of bill for insurance system in District of Columbia.

Accepted resignation of William R. Morris, one of the three negro members of the association.

For Election of U. S. Judges.

Col. James Hamilton Lewis of Chicago presented a plan to one of the committees for the election of federal district judges by the voters in their respective districts and the appointment of the judges in the federal appeal courts for a term of seven years. It will probably be acted upon tomorrow.

The longest debate of the meeting was on the resolution to increase the salaries of the federal judges.

The resolution was recommitted to a committee.

At the evening session Senator George Sutherland of Utah delivered an address on the courts and the constitution.

"It is becoming fashionable to speak of the constitution," he said. "It is no longer respectable to profess the ancient faith in the learning and integrity of the courts."

Referring directly to Col. Roosevelt, the senator said:

"Mr. Roosevelt has suggested as another expedient the recall not of judges, but of judicial decisions, which in effect would be to render a judicial decision by what practically amounts to a show of hands at the polls."

CONVICTS GROGAN; FINES HIM $200

Judge Gemmill Finds West Side Political Boss Guilty Contempt of Court.

DEFENDANT IN APPEAL.

Jurist, in Passing Sentence, Denounces the Prisoner as Scorner of the Law.

"Boss Barney" Crogan, west side politician, was fined $200 yesterday for contempt of court by Municipal Judge Gemmill.

Grogan refused to pay the fine and was held in custody for an hour, while his attorney took out a writ of error before Judge Ben M. Smith of the Appellate court.

After notice of the appeal had been sent to Judge Gemmill the latter gave Grogan his freedom on a bond of $800. Grogan's bondsman was Henry S. Berger, assistant corporation counsel, who scheduled two vacant lots in Pullman as surety property.

Grogan's citation for contempt was issued by Judge Gemmill upon a petition of Assistant State's Attorney Louis Pinderski. The petition alleged that Grogan had sworn falsely in making application for a bond for William Waite before Municipal Judge Wells.

Attorney Makes Discovery.

Grogan represented, according to the application, that he already was surety on one $1,000 bond. Pinderski discovered that he was surety on $2,000 worth of bonds, and a new $1,000 bond was discovered yesterday, making an aggregate of $3,000, instead of $1,000 when the Waite bond was given.

It was said that powerful political pressure was brought to bear to prevent the contempt hearing against Grogan.

Grogan appeared in Judge Gemmill's court in the Desplaines street station after adjournment yesterday morning. The judge ordered him to be at his city hall courtroom at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the "boss" was present on time.

Must Conform to Standard.

Judge Gemmill, in sentencing Grogan, said that ever since the organization of the Municipal court, efforts had been made to have the bond giving procedure conform to a certain standard so that the court may at all times be advised of how many bonds any certain bondsman was surety on.

"It was for such a purpose that the present form of schedule was adopted and the questions printed thereon," the court said. "Counsel for Mr. Grogan has stated that Mr. Grogan has hurried to the police station to help unfortunates out of trouble and get bonds for them. The abuses of the bond giving procedure the court has in mind does not have to do with the unfortunates that have been mentioned.

"The court means such men as Clarence White (alleged dynamiter, for whom Grogan signed bonds)—he is not poor or unfortunate, and perhaps some of us know something of his record. The surety who comes in and let ordinary crooks, pickpockets, and thieves out should be held to a strict compliance of the court rules. We have here before us two schedules for bonds in which the answers are untrue, flagrantly untrue.

Prisoner Is Denounced.

"I don't know how a court can enforce obedience to its rules if the parties are permitted to come in and get prisoners out of jail on false statements about the value of their property and the amount of the bonds they are surety on. My opinion is, Mr. Grogan, that you didn't give to the court the consideration to which it is entitled, that the whole thing was light and trivial to you, and that it made no difference what statements were made in the bond schedules.

"I have come to the conclusion that the only way to enforce obedience is by inflicting fines. In my opinion Mr Grogan is guilty here of contempt and I shall fix a fine of $200."

J. W. Sutton, attorney for Grogan, made a motion for a stay of execution to give time to perfect an appeal to the Appellate court.

"It is not in my power to do that," said the judge, "and I cannot release Mr. Grogan on a bond until your writ of error is filed. There can be no exception in this case."

Grogan's Bonds Are Exhibits.

Mr. Pinderski presented the evidence against Grogan in the form of the bonds which were on file in the Municipal court when Grogan gave the Waite bond of $2,500 and in the application that he was on only one other bond for $1,000.

"That was the Mullaney bond, I take it?" the judge asked Grogan, who was placed on the witness stand.

"No. I thought the Mullaney bond was for a misdemeanor," the witness replied. "I meant the bond for Ed Hogan. He was a rooming house keeper sent to jail for contempt last spring when the judge was investigating lodging house vote frauds."

"That bond is a new one to the court," said the judge. "That makes your total amount of bonds $3,000 before you signed the $2,500 Waite bond. Had Judge Wells known that he probably would not have accepted the Waite bond, for the aggregate would have been too much for your realty property schedule of $10,000."

Court Shows Discrepancy.

"Now, Mr. Grogan," said the judge, picking up one of the bond schedules, "here on Aug. 15 I find you gave a bond, and on the application you say you are on two bonds for city cases, while two days later you say in the Waite bond that you are on only the Hogan bond of $1,000. There is a discrepancy. You were on the Hogan bond on Aug. 15 as well."

"I don't know anything about that bond application on Aug. 15," Grogan replied. "I never said how many bonds I was on. A police sergeant at the Desplaines street station approved that bond. He never asked me a question. I didn't tell him anything about my other bonds."

"You say the sergeants fill out bond schedules without asking any questions?" asked the judge. "I don't believe that, but if they are doing such reckless things it is time the court knew of it."

Grogan's attorney argued for clemency for his client on the grounds that Grogan intended no wrong and that the matter of the bond irregularities was simply a mistake.

PICKS DETECTIVE AS "PAL."

Alleged Pickpocket on Street Car Confides in Policeman and Is Arrested.

James Smiley, an alleged pickpocket, offered to make some "easy money" for Detective Phillip Carroll early yesterday on a Madison street car.

"There's a lot of easy money in this car, and we can get a load of it if you'll help me," Smiley is alleged to have said. "You stand on the front platform and jostle the passengers as they get out and I'll get their coin."

Carroll nodded in approval and watched Smiley operate. The man failed to find any money. Then the detective made the arrest on a charge of attempted larceny.

Pocahontas' Father Stays His Angry Braves in Playground Drama

MYRTLE McGOWAN — LOUIS JAROVE — WILLIAM WHITE — DANIEL JELENIS — ALBERT KUMFERT

LORETTA FOX — EDNA FORBES

Eight year old Loretta Fox enacted the stellar rôle of "Pocahontas and Captain John Smith" so earnestly last night that many of the 800 persons who watched the performance went up and kissed her when the play was over.

The play was staged by the children of Christopher playground, Twenty-second and Robey streets. Thirty girls and boys, coached by Miss Irene Skinner and Miss Harriet Schmidt, took part in the production. The "how-do-you-do" polka was danced as an interlude between the first performance and the playlet "The House of the Heart."

Captain Smith—you would never have known that Clara Miller was the captain if her big hat had not fallen off—placed his head on the rock in obedience to the command of the fierce chief who was Pocahontas' father.

Angry Indians were at the point of crushing the head of the unfortunate captain when little Pocahontas ran in and threw her arms about him. Then the big chief interposed.

The day's entertainment was the conclusion of the annual field day at Christopher playground. In the afternoon an athletic field day was held.

TELLS BEST WAY TO GET BABY

FREES HER OF KIDNAPING.

Mother Doesn't Blame Accused for Holding Infant Both Love.

"The most natural way to possess a baby is to get married and have one of your own."

"Guess you are right, your honor," replied Miss Nellie Sullivan to Municipal Judge Scully's epigram apropos the case before the court. Miss Sullivan blushed, smiled, and having secured her dismissal, ran out of the courtroom and up to her residence at 3842 Emerald avenue.

Acquitted of Kidnaping.

Miss Sullivan just had been acquitted of a charge of kidnaping. Mrs. Margaret Crotty, her accuser, who resides at 3422 May street, failed to appear against her. Eleven months old Timothy Crotty had been held for ransom by Miss Sullivan for his own board bill. For five months Timothy had been in charge of Miss Sullivan, who is 23 years old, while the Crotty family, because of financial misfortunes, could not care for their baby.

According to Miss Sullivan, $60 worth of time and food had been consumed by Timothy in the five months that he was in her care. Besides, she had grown attached to the child and did not want to give him up, when Mrs. Crotty asked for him. Miss Sullivan also told Mrs. Crotty she had learned Mr. Crotty was planning to steal Timothy, and "if he did" — she showed Mrs. Crotty a revolver. Then Mrs. Crotty appealed to the police. A patrol wagon with two policemen was necessary to separate Miss Sullivan and Timothy.

Threatens to Sue Mother.

Miss Sullivan told Judge Scully she knew she could not keep another woman's child, but she loved the baby and she thought Mrs. Crotty ought to pay her something.

"Since I have not received my money I am going to sue Margaret for it," said Miss Sullivan.

"But you did not think you had a lien on the child, did you?" asked the judge. "You want to be mighty careful after this. The time when a human being could be held to satisfy a debt has long passed in this country."

In the meantime "Timmie" Crotty, unransomed but safe in his mother's arms, cooed with his mother, who was happy over her possession.

"I am so happy to get my baby back I did not want to see Nellie punished," said Mrs. Crotty. "He is the sweetest baby that ever lived, so I could not blame her much for wanting to keep him."

WOMAN MAYORALTY CANDIDATE URGES TAX ON BACHELORS.

Mrs. Rae Copley Raum of San Diego, Cal., Proposes Safeguard Against Race Suicide.

"A direct tax of at least $100 a year should be levied upon every man over 25 years old who has not taken a wife. Such a tax is needed as a safeguard against race suicide," said Mrs. Rae Copley Raum, candidate for mayor of San Diego, Cal.

Mrs. Raum, who is a sister of Congressman Ira C. Copley of Illinois, a suffragist, and an attaché of the Red Cross society, is stranded in Chicago by a breakdown of her automobile. She is motoring from coast to coast and advocating woman mayors in the cities where she visits. At present she is at Hotel La Salle, pending the repair of her car.

"A city is nothing more than a vast household," she said. "Women experts in household matters should be mayors of all progressive cities. The governments of cities should be divorced from politics."

Mrs. Raum's theory of a bachelor tax is not one that would tend to coersion, she says. She believes a man should consider it his first duty and highest privilege to take a wife, and if he does not do so he should pay something to the community for his 'supineness.'

KIDNAP ANOTHER CAR VICTIM.

Closed Automobile Spirits Injured Man Away and Police Begin an Investigation.

Police are investigating an alleged kidnaping of a street car victim who was injured at Archer and Wentworth avenues yesterday. Witnesses said the man was taken away in a closed automobile. The man was said to be James Markin, 524 West Twenty-seventh street. He was struck by a car of the Chicago City Railway company, of which Leonard A. Busby is president.

EVANSTON PARENT BARS OUT "SURPRISE BRIDE" OF HIS SON.

D. J. Gilliland Gets Shock When He Hears Young Man's Chicago Romance Culminates in Asbury Park Wedding.

"He can't bring his bride here."

That is the way D. J. Gilliland, a wealthy manufacturer, residing at 1327 Church street, Evanston, felt last night when he received first knowledge of the marriage of his son, Pierre N. Gilliland, to Miss Grace Hurd Connorton of Chicago.

The senior Gilliland was not angry. He seemed only hurt that his son had not given him his confidence in this affair of the heart.

The pair were married yesterday at the First Baptist church at Asbury Park, N. J., by the Rev. W. A. Atchley. They at once started on a honeymoon trip through the Berkshires and the White mountains in the Gilliland motor.

The father knew nothing of the marriage.

"It is news to me," he said. "I never heard of Miss Connorton. I did not know he was keeping company with a girl. He never even hinted at marriage to me. I think he should have told me something about it. I should like to know about the girl and her connections.

"Yes, he has lived part of the time with me, but he cannot bring his bride here.

"I met him in New York a week ago Thursday. He was going to Asbury Park then. He said it was on a pleasure trip."

According to a dispatch Pierre Gilliland, who is 26 years old, motored from Chicago to Asbury Park. It is said he met Miss Connorton in Chicago only a few weeks ago. She recently went to Asbury Park. Gilliland followed. He found her at the Plaza hotel with her grandmother, Mrs. G. E. Hurd. He proposed and was accepted. Miss Connorton is 18. Her Chicago address is not known.

Gilliland is employed by the Duntley Manufacturing company in the Harvester building.

BRIDGE PARTY FOR ICE FUND.

North Shore and Lake View Club Women Will Entertain in Rooms of Traffic Club.

Women of North Shore and Lake View clubs will give a summer bridge party this afternoon in the rooms of the Traffic club, Hotel La Salle. The proceeds from the sale of tickets will be contributed to THE TRIBUNE ice fund.

BOATS REACH CHICAGO BY ILLINOIS-MICHIGAN CANAL.

Bring Cargoes of Cement from La Salle, Showing Practicability of Waterway —Urge Improvement.

The Peerless, with the barge Red Wing in tow, both loaded with cement, docked at East South Water street at 4 p. m. yesterday, completing the all water route from La Salle, demonstrating that the Illinois and Michigan canal is still navigable.

No serious difficulty was encountered en route. The experiment was conducted by the Chicago Portland Cement company at the suggestion of the La Salle Commercial club, and many Illinois Valley manufacturers who are interested in the development of the inland waterways of Illinois. The test is accepted as proof of the feasibility of a plan now under way to establish a regular water route between La Salle and Chicago.

"The improvement of the Illinois and Michigan canal," said Norman D. Frazer, president of the cement company, "should receive the early and unanimous support of the legislature. The waterway, seventy-three miles in length, is practically useless in its present condition, but if improved it would relieve the congestion of railroad traffic in the Illinois valley and provide the manufacturer with greater shipping facilities.

"The canal represents an investment of $9,000,000, and the spending of a little more for its improvement would make it of some value to the commonwealth. The canal commissioners are enthused over the success of our test shipment and additional effort will be made to have the Illinois legislature appropriate $1,000,000 for suggested improvements."

WRITS SERVED ON 'MOVIE' MEN.

Two Chicagoans, on Way to New York, Cited to Appear in Federal Suit Against Film Trust.

George K. Spoor, head of the Essanay Film Manufacturing company, and W. N. Selig, president of the Selig Polyscope company, were served with summonses yesterday to appear for trial in the suit brought by the government against the alleged moving picture trust. The writs were served as the men were taking a train for New York.

U. S. RAIDS VICE DISTRICT

Government Agents Give South Chicago Strand a Sensation.

THOUSANDS SEE DESCENT.

Dozen Arrests Are Made and Others May Follow.

Thousands of workmen, just released from their day's toil at the South Chicago steel mills and other big plants in the neighborhood, yesterday watched United States deputy marshals and immigration agents swoop down on The Strand, South Chicago's red light district.

While they watched, four of these resorts were raided and depopulated of their inmates. A dozen persons were taken into custody. These included the keepers of three houses and women whom they harbored. A fourth keeper is still at large, but the authorities are looking for him and expect to find him.

One Girl Imported.

The raids were made by Immigration Officers Dr. Percy Prentis, Ward Thompson, B. A. Plumley, C. H. Paul, and Deputy United States Marshals Edwar Marseilles, Charles Schrimpl, and Bert Meyers.

One of the girls, according to a statement made by Dr. Prentis, was imported to America and brought to Chicago, her name being registered with the United States immigration officers at Washington, D. C. The other girls taken as witnesses, it was said, probably will be cited to show cause why they should not be deported.

Hope to End Traffic.

"We have not yet obtained sufficient evidence to prefer any formal charge," said Dr. Prentis. "It is understood that persons in South Chicago have been importing girls for immoral purposes, and in the arrests we believe we have a part of the band that has conducted the traffic.

"Further action against them will be based on information we obtain from the girls."

SHIFTS CAPTAIN'S SON.

The second letter of the committee of fifteen to Mayor Harrison began to show definite results yesterday. The committee consists of citizen having in hand the suppression of vice in Chicago. As a result of the letter to the mayor, Policeman John P. Ryan, son of Capt. Michael Ryan of the Twenty-second street station, was taken off the special duty of "booking" the inmates of the disorderly houses of the district. He was sent to the West Lake street station.

When the committee's representatives were investigating the cases of trafficking in women and harboring upon the outcome of which the mayor closed five resorts and a saloon they reported they found the younger Ryan more of a hindrance than an aid in their work. It was said to be natural for him to make every effort to protect his father, who commands the district.

PARLOR PLACE FOR COURTING.

Judge Gives Advice to Mother Who Objects to Her Daughter Keeping Late Hours.

"Don't let your daughter keep company with young men whom she is ashamed to bring into your house," was the advice given by Justice Boyer of Evanston yesterday when a mother was arraigned for whipping a girl she charged with having induced her daughter to keep late hours with young men.

Mrs. Hannah Olson, living at 1806 Lake street, had been arrested for attacking Margaret Strahs of 1814 Lake street. She first whipped her daughter, who is 15 years old, and then tried to punish Miss Strahs.

"If a young man is courting your daughter," said the justice, "let him do his courting in the parlor, where you can see what is going on."

He then dismissed the case.

GRADUATES FROM 'HOG ALLEY'

"Eddie" Morris Serves Apprenticeship to Be Yards Baron.

RISES INTO OFFICE JOB.

Tutors Are Hard Headed Professors of Swine Buying Art.

Edward Morris Jr. at the age of 19 has begun his course of apprenticeship which one of these days is expected to make him one of the barons in the Union stockyards. The young man, a son of Edward Morris, president of Morris & Co., has got as far as the general office, where he now is a minor clerk.

It has taken Edward Jr. eight months to land in the general office of his father. He arrived there by the route of the hog, sheep, and cattle pens. He began to wear tailor made clothes and stiff collars only last week, after eight months in knee high boots, corduroy trousers, blue flannel shirts, and brown duck coats.

The young man has not yet worn off the tan of eight months out of doors. In that time he has been communing with swine, sheep, and cattle, and also with stockyards dealers, whose experience made them able to teach the heir to the Morris kingdom some bitter lessons.

Gives Up Luxury at Del Prado.

Edward left his comfortable suite of rooms at the Del Prado hotel, where he had lived during part of his course at the University of Chicago, and entered the stockyards eight months ago. He had been a social light at the university. All he had to do was to study and play like other students. His instructors were scholarly persons in faultless attire. The air at the university and the Del Prado is excellent.

The young man knew little or nothing about the stockyards when he was placed on the pay roll of Morris & Co. and told to find his way to the hog alleys. Here he was introduced to a new instructor, George Chandler, who is professor of hog buying for the company. His new class room consisted of several acres of hog pens, probably more odorous than any other section of the yards.

Hooray! A Green Hog Buyer.

It took the stock yards speculators who deal in margins and make a good living at it about a fraction of a second to discover there was a green hog buyer in the alleys.

Edward Morris Jr. was cordially received. He found his college popularity had not left him. He was more popular wading through the hog alleys in his high boots and corduroys and blue shirt and duck coat than he had ever been in his life.

Every one was helping him out and giving him bargains in hogs. Edward Jr. grasped the opportunities right and left and bought.

After he had bought Prof. Chandler looked over the results of the early lessons and shook his head. Edward Jr. had been stung and stung badly. Morris Sr. is said to have taken a hand in the early hog alley training with advice something on this order:

"Eddie, those heavy packers you bought were a frost. They dressed out poorly, and they had no quality. Don't let those sharks put anything over on you down there. Make them take off the light hogs. They are not our kind, see?"

Learns Hog Buying Alphabet.

It took Edward Jr. several bitterly cold January days to see through the alphabet of hog buying, according to his friends in the yards. He spent four months in the hog alleys, and toward the end of that time he had learned the subject of hogs to such an extent that he was trusted with big deals.

Then he was promoted to the sheep houses, where he learned right off to distinguish between goats and sheep. That was comparatively easy, the goats having whiskers. He was taken in hand by Prof. Billy Mooney, chief sheep buyer, and taught how to grade ewes, wethers, yearlings, bucks, and stags.

After two months with the sheep the millionaire's son was put in the cattle pen, where he has worked for the last two months as a buyer among the range cattle and in the Texas division.

Edward Jr. is generally known as "Eddie" by this time in the stockyards. He acquired a roan pony and a saddle about the time he became cattle buyer.

Proves His Capabilities

"Eddie has become a good stockman," said one of the cattle buyers of a competing company yesterday. "He is a wise kid for his years and a hard worker. He has been putting in six days a week and ten hours a day ever since he began work here. He has never put on any airs.

"Last winter, when it was colder than blazes, Eddie stuck to his post in the hog pens, and many a day he'd send for a can of coffee and a couple of sandwiches and eat in the Morris shanty in hog alley. Once in a while he'd fare better down at the Saddle and Sirloin club."

One Year for Knife Wielder.

Attentions to a 15 year old girl were the indirect cause of Ernest Harris, married, living at 217 South Center avenue, being sentenced to one year in the bridewell and fined $100 and costs yesterday. He was found guilty of having stabbed Thomas Reynolds, brother of the girl, who had objected to his visiting her.

MARRIED TWICE ALL IN ONE DAY

Half Cousins Find State Law Upsets Original Plans for Nuptials.

WEDDING IN KENOSHA.

Second Ceremony, Performed in La Grange, Has Other Unusual Features.

Married in the morning in Wisconsin and in the evening in Illinois, Wilfred C. Kellogg, of a prominent Battle Creek, Mich., family, and Miss Anna B. Kellogg of La Grange, felt they were firmly united as man and wife. They were so sure of it they left immediately for a wedding trip to Colorado.

The double ceremony was necessitated by the laws of Illinois forbidding the marriage of cousins, a law with which they were unfamiliar until a few days ago.

It happens that they are not regular cousins, either, their grandfather having married twice and their fathers being only half-brothers; but the prospective Mrs. Kellogg-Kellogg thought the margin of safety a bit too narrow and decided to be married where the laws are not so unpleasant.

Make Secret Trip to Kenosha.

Unwilling to let their friends know of their dilemma, the couple left La Grange yesterday morning and visited Kenosha, where Judge George W. Taylor performed a civil ceremony.

Then they hurried back to La Grange in ample time to make final preparations for the elaborate home wedding at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. William Samuel Sadler of 56 Sixth avenue. Mrs. Sadler is a sister of the bride.

And the La Grange ceremony had other peculiarities, for at the same time the clergyman, the Rev. Joseph Hayes Chandler, married Miss Sarah Mildred Willmer and Edward Van Bond, whose wedding was originally planned for next spring.

Miss Willmer was originally scheduled to be a bridemaid for Miss Kellogg, but two weeks ago she was convinced it would be a good plan to be married instead of simply looking on. Her place as chief attendant was not filled. Instead the only attendant was Miss Lucille Kellogg, the 16 year old niece of Miss Anna Kellogg, as bridemaid, with little William Samuel Sadler Jr. and Mary Parsons as flower children.

Romance of Childhood.

Miss Kellogg, the daughter of Smith Kellogg of Pomona, Cal., was trained for a nurse at her uncle's sanitarium in Battle Creek. Another uncle is W. K. Kellogg of breakfast food fame. She lived in Battle Creek in early childhood and grew up with her half-cousin, but did not know she was in love with him until a few months ago, when, after many years' separation, each learned that the other was still unmarried—and single because of a mutual liking.

Having wasted so much time single, they decided to marry forthwith. And the laws of Illinois could not prevent it.

Miss Willmer had her own little romance. She is a lyceum reader and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin John Willmer of Three Oaks, Mich. Last winter she became acquainted with Mr. Van Bond as manager for her tour.

Their plans for a wedding six months hence were easily altered. Miss Willmer decided it would be simple to change her bridemaid's gown into a wedding gown.

SAYS SHE HYPNOTIZED HIM INTO LOVING HER DAUGHTER.

John Leonard Tells Court He First Felt Malign Influence at Mrs. Crimmins' Thanksgiving Dinner.

John Leonard, who lives at 1718 West Thirty-third place, told Municipal Judge Hopkins yesterday that Mrs. Ida Crimmins had hypnotized him into loving her daughter.

Mrs. Crimmins charged Leonard with annoying her daughter. She lives at 3640 Archer avenue.

"He says I've got him hypnotized," said Mrs. Crimmins, "and he is continually asking me to fix his head."

"Well, I think I am right," declared Leonard. "On Thanksgiving day I had dinner with her, and ever since then I can't think of anything but that girl."

The court held the defendant as to his sanity.

NEW PARTY MEN TO MEET FRIDAY

Nominees for Congress Will Be Picked in Many of the Districts of Illinois.

REPUBLICANS SEEK AID.

Several Candidates with Marked Progressive Tendencies May Win Indorsement.

Progressive congressional conventions will be held throughout the state Friday to select either nominees for congress or indorse those candidates of known Progressive tendencies nomianted by other parties.

With the exception of the Sixth district, where Arthur W. Fulton, Republican nominee, will be indorsed by the Progressives, new party selections may be made in all of the Cook county districts, it is asserted.

Congressman George E. Foss of the Tenth district is reported to be flirting with the Progressives, but the indications are that Alderman Charles W. Thomson will be put up to oppose him.

No Name Suggested.

Thus far no one has been suggested to run against Congressman W. W. Wilson in the Third, Lynden Evans in the Ninth, nor in the Eighth district, now represented by Thomas Gallagher, Democrat.

In the First district Lawrence Heyworth is being groomed for the Progressive nomination, Thomas D. Knight in the Second, and S. J. Napieralski in the Fourth.

A lively contest is promised in the Fifth district, which Congressman A. J. Sabath, Heart-Harrison county leader, represents. Mr. Sabath has been attacked by his Jewish constituents for his action on the abrogation of the Russian treaty. Dr. E. F. Napieralski, John Siman, John Feinan, Werner F. Ruske, and Louis Clusman are among the Progressives who seek the nomination. There is a possibility of Louis Gartenstein, Republican nominee, being indorsed.

E. C. Armitage is a candidate in the Seventh district.

Congressional Conventions Called.

The congressional conventions in Cook county thus far announced are:

First district, La Salle hotel; Second district, Woodlawn Masonic hall, East Sixty-fourth street and Lexington avenue; Third district, Barbee's hall, West Sixty-ninth street and Wentworth avenue; Fifth district, Kopf's hall, West Fourteenth street and Blue Island avenue; Seventh district, Wicker Park hall, 2040 West North avenue; Eighth district, Schoenbofen's hall, Milwaukee and Ashland avenues; Ninth district, Red Star inn, North Clark street and Germania place; Tenth district, Hamilton hall, 4737 Evanston avenue. All the conventions will meet at 8 p. m.

The opening of the Progressive county campaign is set for Monday night at a Twenty-first ward meeting, to be held in North Side Turner hall.

Friction in the county organization may be aired at this meeting. It developed yesterday that the trouble came when Medill McCormick and State Chairman Chauncey Dewey requested the retirement of John F. Bass as head of the county organization.

Bass Ready for Fight.

Bass demurred, it is said, and is expected to resist any effort that may be made to displace him. Col. Dewey favors either Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the state committee, or Charles E. Merriam for county chairman.

Senator Dixon, who expects to depart today or tomorrow for a western tour, is attempting to settle the differences among the subordinate chieftains.

Cecil Lyon of Texas and Judge Ben Lindsey of Denver were visitors at Progressive national headquarters during the day.

Judge Lindsey, who has been campaigning in Vermont, reported that the prospects are bright for the Progressive state ticket.

Col. Lyon, Progressive national committeeman of the Lone Star state, will have charge of the Roosevelt special on the colonel's western tour. He departed at night for New York to arrange for the long trip.

Oak Park Progressives have perfected an organization and adopted resolutions pledging support to the national and state Progressive tickets.

SENATOR JONES WON'T RESIGN.

Declines to Heed Demand of Republican Committeemen and Sticks to Progressive Party.

State Senator Walter Clyde Jones, who returned yesterday from a two weeks' vacation, declined in a letter sent to David F. Matchett to heed the request of forty-three of the ninety-six Republican precinct committeemen in his district that he resign because of his announced allegiance to the Progressive party.

"I propose to affiliate with the quick, not the dead. The Republican party is a corpse," writes Jones. "I was elected by the people of my district, not the Republicans merely. I propose to continue to represent the people who elected me.

"If perchance I owe my allegiance to the Republicans of the district, then I still represent them, since the great majority of the former Republicans are now Progressives."

DENEEN DENOUNCED BY FUNK

Asserts Governor Failed to Call Special Session Until Forced.

BETRAYED PEOPLE, CHARGE.

Support of Taft Declared to Be Indorsement of Stolen Nomination.

Sterling, Ill., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—State Senator Frank H. Funk, Progressive candidate for governor, today declared Gov. Deneen has betrayed the people of the state. Mr. Funk was speaking at the fair grounds.

Among other things, Senator Funk said the governer, in face of the public demand for it, had refused to call a special session of the legislature to permit a presidential primary law until it was shown two-thirds of the members of both houses favored the plan. He also asserted Gov. Deneen was the only Republican governor who refused to declare his own choice for president before the primaries and that he had refused to comply with Col. Roosevelt's request that he and his friends should refrain from voting in a boss-ridden and stolen convention.

A large part of Senator Funk's address was devoted to explaining the Progressive platform.

Mr. Funk did not spare words in his attack on the governor.

Refused People Opportunity.

"I assert," he said, "that Gov. Deneen, in the face of an acknowledged public sentiment in favor of it and until it was demonstrated that more than two-thirds of each house of the Illinois general assembly were in favor of a presidential preference primary law, absolutely refused to call an extra session of the general assembly which should give the people of this state their rightful opportunity to express their choice for president of the United States.

"Gov. Deneen was the only Republican governor in the United States who refused to declare his own choice for president of the United States before the primaries. He did not fall into line—if his weak and lifeless action can be so called—until the Saturday before the Republican national convention in Chicago and then not until he was assured that he had been successful in forcing the selection of Roy West as national committeeman from this state.

"Gov. Deneen refused to comply with Col. Roosevelt's request that he and his friends should refrain from voting in a boss ridden and stolen convention.

Responsible for Clark's Selection.

Gov. Deneen is responsible for the selection of Robert D. Clark of Peoria as one of the delegates at large to the Republican national convention, a man who opposed with his vote every motion and every plan of Col. Roosevelt's supporters to have the national convention honestly conducted.

"Therefore by his support of President Taft, who was repudiated at the polls by the Republican voters of Illinois, Gov Deneen has indorsed and is sustaining a stolen nomination for the highest office in the gift of the American people and has aligned himself with the odious bosses of the country, of whom Penrose and Aldrich and Guggenheim are shining examples. And in the face of this unenviable record Gov. Deneen is now parading himself before the people of Illinois as a Roosevelt Progressive, hoping by such action to further intrench himself in the office of governor of this state. Away with such political righteousness which under the cloak of 'party regularity' seeks to fasten boss rule upon the long suffering people."

FOUR POLICE INSPECTORS MUST TESTIFY ON GRAFT.

New York District Attorney Will Subpœna More than 100 Witnesses in Graft Investigation.

New York, Aug. 28.—Four police inspectors and one civilian employé of the police department, all under suspicion by District Attorney Whitman of having shared in graft levied upon disorderly houses and gambling resorts, will be called to take the stand in the course of the John Doe proceedings before Justice Goff.

The John Doe procedure will permit of the examination of the suspected officials before they are legally accused and without obligation on the part of the state to grant them immunity.

Mr. Whitman has more than 100 witnesses whom he is prepared to subpœna for the inquiry, and it is understood that the testimony of a large number of them will point to the alleged participation of these five men in graft.

BOARD RULE IN NEW ORLEANS.

Commission Form of Government Is Adopted—Also Initiative and Referendum.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 28.—A commission form of government, including the right of initiative and referendum, was adopted at the special election here today, 23,000 for and 2,119 against. New Orleans is the largest city in the United States which has adopted the commission rule.

RUIN TO BUSINESS IN MARSHALL PLAN

G. W. Perkins Finds That Result in Charter Revocation as "Trust Remedy."

FOR FEDERAL CONTROL.

Says Vice Presidential Candidate's Policy Would Smash All Industry.

New York, Aug. 28.—[Special.]—Gov. Marshall, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, in his Maine speech yesterday said "the way to handle the trust question is by forfeiture of charter." George W. Perkins of the Progressive national committee today discussed this matter, saying:

"I notice Gov. Marshall says the way to reach the corporation question is to forfeit corporation charters, and that this can be done because a corporation is only a creature of the state. I also notice the Republicans claim that they have settled the corporation question through the Standard Oil and tobacco dissolution suits. The Progressive party believes that neither Gov. Marshall's solution nor Mr. Taft's dissolution program will be accepted by the public as a satisfactory or permanent settlement of the corporation question.

Eliminate Evil; Preserve Good.

"We stand for the elimination of the evils and the preservation of the good wherever they exist, whether in business or in politics. The Democratic party is at this moment posing before the country as a Progressive party and yet in one of the first utterances its vice presidential candidate makes (and mind you, this is the candidate that would president over the United States senate if elected) is to smash all large business to smithereens.

"The Democratic tariff plank says the Democrats are going to adjust the tariff, but do it in such a way as not to disturb business. Mr. Marshall's utterance of yesterday shows how they are going to handle the corporation question without disturbing business.

"It is the first official utterance we have from the Democratic party as to just what they are going to do with big business. It is clear and to the point. There is no misunderstanding it. They propose to revoke charters and in this way absolutely wipe the corporations out of existence. I suppose they will do this without disturbing business.

Commercial Power Not Feared.

"The Progressive movement recognizes that the corporation is an essential part of modern business; that the concentration of modern business in some degree is both inevitable and necessary for national and international efficiency, but that the concentration of vast wealth and power under the corporate system, unguarded and uncontrolled by the nation, has placed in the hands of a few men enormous, secretive, and irresponsible power over the daily life of citizens, a power insufferable in a free government, and certain of abuse.

"We do not fear commercial power, but we insist it shall be exercised openly, under publicity, under supervision and regulation of the most efficient sort, which will preserve the good while eradicating and preventing evils, exactly as is now done with our large national banks and with our great railroad systems."

M'KINLEY AMERICA'S HIGH PEAK

New Alaska Mountain Reported by Dora Keen Identified by Government Experts.

Washington D. C., Aug. 28.—Mount McKinley overtops all other peaks on the North American continent after all, despite a report of discovery of a hitherto unknown mountain of about its height in Alaska.

Coast and geodetic survey experts have identified this latter peak, reported by Miss Dora Keen as Mount Steele. It is only 16,439 feet high while McKinley towers more than 20,000 feet.

GIVE UP HOPE FOR HARMONY

Hearst-Harrison Democrats Plan Own County Campaign.

STATE LEADERS WILL MEET.

Executive Committee Today May Assess Candidates.

Harmony died in the Democracy of Cook county last night.

Recently the candidates for county office tried to bring together Sullivan, Harrison, and Hearst, but the three couldn't agree.

Disciples of the H-H contingent got together at the Briggs house in the evening. They held a wake over the corpse of Harmony. A. J. Cermak sought to defer the interment. He pleaded so earnestly that he gained consent to put the corpse in a receiving vault.

Proceed with Campaign Plans.

A. J. Sabath, congressman from the Seventh district, presided. He was skeptic as to the ability of the life savers to restore Harmony, but agreed to give them another chance. In the meantime he proposed that the H-H men proceed to gobble everything political in the county not nailed down, including all the precincts and wards.

If the Sullivantites in the future should desire to unite with the H-H crowd Harmony will be resurrected. They will be welcomed with open arms, providing they leave their sidearms at the door.

Chairman Sabath asserts only five wards—the Third, Seventh, Thirteenth Fourteenth, and Thirty-first—were unrepresented in the H-H meeting. He expects two of the five to come in before the next conference.

"We will proceed to organize while the harmonizers continue to seek peace," he said. "We will be fair and will recognize in the county organization duly elected ward committeemen chosen by accredited precinct committeemen. We will follow strictly the principle of majority rule."

Appoint Usual Committees.

William Brennan of the Twelfth ward handed Harmony its death blow. He intimated that there "ain't no such word" and moved that the H-Hrs get down to business. They did by appointing the usual campaign committees.

Frank Paschen is chairman of the organization committee, to which Mr. Cermak's harmony plans were referred. Peter Reinberg was placed at the head of the finance committee, H. A. Bergman of the speakers' bureau, and P. J. McKenna of the publicity department.

Authority was given the finance committee to increase its membership. Outsiders may be taken in if they are good collectors, it was agreed.

Without noise the Sullivan clan has been quietly building up its fences for several weeks. John McGillen is director of the Sullivanites.

A meeting of the Democratic state executive committee is slated for today at Hotel Sherman. Campaign details will be discussed and assessments may be voted against the various state candidates.

PLANS FREE WATER POWER.

Secretary Fisher Will Permit Development for Municipal and Irrigation Purposes.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Interior Fisher plans to grant free permits for the development of water power for municipal purposes and for irrigation without any rental charge.

These permits will be granted under new regulations governing waterpower development on the public lands outside of the national forests, which were promulgated by Secretary Fisher before leaving for Hawaii.

Secretary Fisher will impose such conditions in these grants only as may be necessary to insure that the benefit which is conferred will be enjoyed by the citizens of municipalities and by the irrigators for whom it is intended rather than by the middlemen who may construct and operate the works.

BRANDEIS GIVES WILSON HIS AID

Boston Lawyer Says Democratic Nominee Is His Idea of a Progressive.

VIEWS AGREE ON TRUSTS.

Governor Explains to Italians His Criticisms of Abuses of Immigration.

Seagirt, N. J., Aug. 28.—Gov. Woodrow Wilson talked about trusts for two hours with Louis D. Brandeis of Boston, who had luncheon with him. Mr. Brandeis as he left the executive's cottage declared he is a progressive in politics and that Gov. Wilson is his idea of a progressive.

"We discussed social and industrial problems," he said, "and naturally the Sherman anti-trust law. We took up the La Follette-Lenroot bill, the Oldfield bill, and other measures to amend the Sherman law, but concluded that none of these went far enough.

"Gov. Wilson is a constructive statesman able to solve these problems and I found him in accord with my views on the trust question. We talked about the defects in the third party platform. It was a talk about the best interests of the workingman."

Mr. Brandeis said he probably would make a number of speeches on behalf of Gov. Wilson, discussing the trusts and the tariff.

Called On by Italians.

A delegation of Italians from Essex county, N. J., through their spokesman, Antonio Petroni, told the governor those who had seen fit to criticise his views on immigration "had made a mountain out of a mole hill."

"Intelligent Italians," said Mr. Petroni, "prefer to have their own opinion in the matter and are willing to allow the historian the latitude that writing of impartial history requires. Intelligent men do not construe intelligent criticism as reproach."

Explains Immigration Views.

The governor in his response said:

"In my history I referred to conditions which did exist when I wrote and which afterward were corrected by legislation. These abuses were brought about mainly by steamship companies attempting to force immigration, and I believe in legislation that will correct all abuses.

"I am learning all the time and the chief benefit of my present occupation is that I am informing myself and enlarging my education. I hope to be at it long enough to learn from people like yourselves things as they really are."

Will Speak in Pennsylvania.

Gov. Wilson left here at 5:30 o'clock for Philadelphia, where he planned to spend the night. Tomorrow he will go to Harrisburg and to Williams Grove, Pa. At the latter place he will deliver his first campaign speech outside of New Jersey and will deal especially with the tariff and the relation of the farmer to the government.

The Best Tonic for That Tired Feeling

Is Ten Minutes Rest Daily in a Big Tub of Warm Water.

Next to a vacation in the woods there is nothing so invigorating or rejuvenating.

The daily bath is a refreshing stimulant. It puts vitality in tired brains and bodies.

The Doctor says there is nothing to compare with it as a tonic to help us build up our constitutions.

Unquestionably it is the cheapest of all the boons to health and comfort that are available to rich and poor alike.

Here in Chicago it is simply inexcusable folly to live in a house where the lack of hot water ever deprives anybody of a daily bath.

Because—for the small sum of $17.00 you can buy a little gas water heater that will provide a tub-full of new life for every member of the family any hour of the day or night.

The same heater will also provide an abundance of hot water for the wash tubs and kitchen sink.

We have installed fifty thousand of them in as many homes.

Why not make your household a present of one to-day?

Phone Randolph 4567 and we will send a salesman to see you, or, you can call and inspect the several types of heaters at our down-town exhibition room—or at any of our branch stores.

COLONEL TO TRY TO WIN VERMONT

Progressive Chief, Starting North, Says Taft Has Chance in Six States.

CLAPP LETTER SUNDAY.

Roosevelt Asserts Penrose Should Be Ousted on His Own Testimony.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—There are only half a dozen states, Col. Roosevelt said tonight, which he believes President Taft has a chance of carrying. One of these, he said, is Vermont, in which he is to spend the remaining half of the week in a speaking tour.

He will make his first speech at Bennington tomorrow.

He left tonight for New York, to take a train for the north.

"I know Vermont is a state which President Taft looks upon as safe ground," said the colonel, "but the fight is by no means over, let me tell you that.

"I have heard that many of the Republicans there are saying they will support Wilson anyway, in order to beat me. How much truth there is in these reports I do no know, and I do not think any one does. I do not want to appear as a prophet, but I am going to make my fight as hard as I know how."

Support from Plain People.

Col. Roosevelt said that in Vermont all the power of the monied organization is against him. In such a state, he said, he always estimates that two-thirds of the people must be for him to win an election in the face of this opposition.

"In Vermont, as all over the country," he continued, "my support is coming from the plain people. Wherever we win it will be due to them, largely to the farmer and the wage-worker."

Col. Roosevelt announced tonight that the letter to Senator Clapp, which will tell his side of the controversy over Standard Oil company contributions to the 1904 campaign, will be made public on Sunday. In it he said he would go into some details to show the relations of Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania with the Standard Oil company, and Archbold's effort to influence the administration.

Favors Ousting of Penrose.

The colonel said Senator Penrose ought to be expelled from the senate. He based his assertion on the testimony which Penrose gave before the senate committee and compared the revelations there with the conditions disclosed in New York by the police investigation.

Col. Roosevelt has taken this position, he said, in the letter to Senator Clapp.

"On his own testimony I would have Senator Penrose thrown out of the senate," he asserted.

He made this statement after he had read from what purported to be an extract from Mr. Penrose's testimony before the senate committee to the effect that he had advised John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil company to make a second contribution to the 1904 campaign, lest the company encounter difficulties in certain quarters.

Col. Roosevelt said in his opinion this was an offer of protection from the government in return for a contribution, and that it did not differ essentially from the sale of police protection in New York.

He said he was delighted at the turn taken by the investigation, because it was furnishing capital campaign material for him, such as the Lorimer affair gave him in the spring campaign.

"Lorimer is done for now," he said, "and I am indebted to Senator Penrose for filling the war chest with ammunition again."

"Hurry! Hurry! This Way to the Big Show," Cry Ballyhoo Girls.

Bright eged girls in red, white, and blue panniers with caps to match have been selected to "ballyhoo" for the big society circus to be given in the arcade near Wilson avenue today, tomorrow, and Saturday. Twenty-five girls met yesterday to practice.

"Right this way, ladies and gentlemen! Right this way to the big show!" chortled Miss Adeline Millspaugh.

"That's too tame!" exclaimed Miss Katherine Swearinger. "You want to say, 'Come right in, folks—see the human allegator swallow the hippo, of Borneo! He eats 'em alive! Hurry! Hurry!'"

Every gentle art of feminine persuasion will be used to divert the sidewalk traffic into the great arched doors. Besides calling attention to the circus the young women will sell "circus wares." There will be red lemonade, bonbons, peanuts, and chewing gum.

After it is all over the woman's club expects to realize a sufficient sum to add substantially to the fund for a clubhouse.

TAFT'S LAST TALK ON POLITICS MADE

Says Voters Will Have to Decide Without Any More from Him.

HOME FOR CENTENNIAL.

President's Ultimatum Given in Massachusetts on Way to Ohio.

Springfield, Mass., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—President Taft, in a speech delivered from the rear of his train today, notified the voters that so far as he is concerned they will have to make up their minds politically without hearing further from him.

"I am not here to make a political speech," he said. "I have given that up. But I am here to respond from my heart to your cordial reception. I believe there is some politics going on, but I am not here to take part in it. So far as I am concerned you will have to make up your mind without hearing from me further, but it is always an inspiration to come through Springfield, to meet its intelligent citizens, and to receive the welcome which uniformly you have been kind enough to give me.

Makes Quip on Congress.

"I am going on a trip to my home state to celebrate its 100 years of political life, and I am going to have something to say to the people of Ohio on this subject, but not on politics.

"You will excuse me from speaking further, I know. I have just finished a long session of congress, and while the experience of being associated with that distinguished body is most interesting and honorable, there are things that I can enjoy more in hot weather."

Last Political Speech from Car.

At Pittsfield President Taft said:

"I am not here to burden you with a political speech. I have made all the political speeches from the end of a Pullman car that I ever expect to make. If I have any case to submit to the American people I am going to submit it on facts without further argument."

FLINN GIVES ULTIMATUM TO HILLES ON ELECTORS.

If Penrose Is Kept Out of State Fight He'll Take Roosevelt Men Off Republican Ticket.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—The elimination of Senator Boies Penrose as a factor in Pennsylvania state politics is a condition upon which William Flinn, the Keystone Roosevelt leader, promises to withdraw the Roosevelt electors from the Republican ticket.

"Just what we will do depends in a large measure on the plan of Penrose to put an entirely new state ticket in the field in opposition to the Washington ticket and the one regularly nominated by the Republican state convention," said Mr. Flinn.

"We do not feel that there would be any use in having the Roosevelt electors resign from the Republican ticket if any such thing is attempted by Penrose. Chairman Hilles of the Republican national committee and all the rest of the Taft people understand our position in this particular and it needs no further discussion now."

Mr. Hilles, in a statement published here today, denies there was any deal regarding the state ticket, but asserts that the only opposition to the ticket is that it contains the name of Roosevelt electors.

DR. WILEY AGAINST COLONEL.

Roosevelt Supported by Worthy but Misguided People, He Thinks—He's for Wilson.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, pure food expert, said today he is against Col. Roosevelt's presidential ambitions and will work for the election of Wilson and Marshall.

"I am strong for Gov. Wilson," he said. "Col. Roosevelt is supported by many worthy people, misguided, I believe, who think he is the only real progressive. I am a progressive, but I believe in being progressive in principle and not limiting my progressiveness to a single man.

"Roosevelt is backed by interests that are not friendly to real reform, and who are the real opponents of progressive principles. I cannot tolerate any such alliance."

PUBLICITY THE NEW KEYNOTE

Republican Campaign Managers Plan Startling Innovations.

TO USE COUNTRY PAPERS.

Charles F. Scott, Western Press Agent, Promises to Shatter Traditions.

"Publicity, publicity, and more publicity!" is to be the new keynote of the Republican campaign.

Catch phrases, use of country newspapers on a scale never before attempted by a presidential candidate and hundreds of other schemes which will bring President Taft to the attention of the voting public are to be utilized by the Republican national committee.

Charles F. Scott, in charge of the western publicity bureau for Mr. Taft, departed from New York yesterday, carrying with him the details of many plans which he expects will do much to keep the Taft ticket before the people. Besides the usual number of text books and the usual routine campaign literature, the new "stunts" are expected to aid the Republican campaign.

"The publicity program will be full of snap and life," said Mr. Scott before his departure. "We will get away from the hidebound conventions and bring out many novel features designed to attract public attention. After I have seen Mr. Hilles I will be able to give a detailed account of the 'stunts' that will be used."

The campaign of the Republican leaders to bring the negroes into the Republican fold, or at least keep them away from the Progressive camp, brought forth one result yesterday, when it was announced that George W. Ellis, former secretary of the American legation in Monrovia, Liberia, had attached himself to the Taft cause and made an official statement to that effect.

Asks for Habeas Corpus Writ.

William F. Burns, an attorney, yesterday began habeas corpus proceedings in the Superior court to obtain the release of Harry Miller from the Twenty-second street police station, where he is held in connection with the killing of Joseph Gallagher, a chauffeur. Burns says the police refuse to book Miller.

"SERVICES" LAST ALL NIGHT

Residents Ask Police to Suppress Persian Organizations.

A neighborhood protest against alleged all night antics of members of a Persian cult in the Full Gospel Assembly of Christ, at Montana street and Sheffield avenue, has been made in a series of massmeetings.

The last meeting was on Monday night. Ald. Jacob Hey of the Twenty-third ward attended. The residents demanded that the cult, led by "Brother Ersham," be forced to evacuate. The alderman went to Police Chief McWeeny, who promised to investigate.

"Those people have been there for eleven months," said a man who lives across the street. "We have finally come to the point where we feel that they have got to keep quiet or get out.

"At first it seemed kind of funny, but after a while we ceased to be amused. Their regular meetings last until about 10 or 10:30 o'clock, and after that, after the majority of the people go home, the real excitement begins. The preacher leads. The followers raise their voices, moan and groan, and lie down on the floor. The hair of the women comes down as they yell at the top of their voices. I have seen them leave the church at 6 o'clock after an all night service.

"There is an upstairs room which I understand can be entered only by those who are baptized. This is used for the loudest and longest services. The trap doors which separate this room from the main one can be raised so as to make one room, but they are always lowered for the secret ceremonies. A short time ago they held one service in Persian in the upper room and another in English in the lower. It was awful."

MUSSELMAN HAS BIG LEAD IN PRIMARIES IN MICHIGAN.

Grand Rapids Man the Choice of Democrats as Head of the Ticket in That State.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 28.—Incomplete returns from yesterday's state wide primary election give Amos S. Musselman of Grand Rapids 3,488 majority over his only opponent, Secretary of State Fred C. Martindale, in the Republican gubernatorial contest. It is generally conceded, however, that the latter has won the victory.

Alfred Lucking, Democrat, of Detroit, apparently won the contest for the United States senatorial nomination. Incomplete returns give him a majority of 1,751 over his opponent, George P. Hummer of Holland.

Francis O. Lindquist continues to lead Representative F. H. Dodds in the race for the Eleventh district congressional nomination and Frank Buell was practically conceded a victory over Representative George A. Loud in the Tenth district.

Says Economic Unrest in Europe Convinces Him Roosevelt Is Man Needed for President.

New York, Aug. 28.—[Special.]—Alexander H. Revell, Chicago member of the Progressive party national executive committee, got in today from his seven weeks' vacation in Europe. He was accompanied by Mrs. Revell. They visited England, Germany and France and spent a month in Carlsbad.

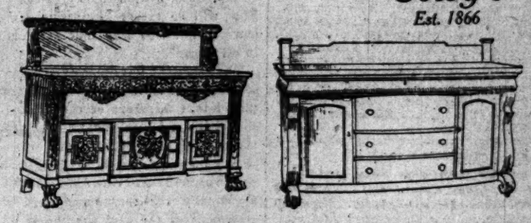

Mr. Revell said his observations of economic unrest in Europe had strengthened his opinion that Col. Roosevelt is the man to deal with the present situation.

HOOKWORM DUE TO HOUSE FLY?

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—Dr. Lillian H. South, state bacteriologist, has found that the common house fly carries the egg of the parasite that causes the hookworm disease. Prof. Wickliffe Rose of Washington, D. C., disbursing secretary of the Rockefeller fund, says that the work of Dr. South has done more for the permanent eradication of the "scourge of the south" than that of any other investigator in the field.

FUTILITY.

The Democratic candidate for vice president of the United States, reports a dispatch from Augusta, Me., "spoke here tonight on the tariff and the trusts. His solution of the trust problem is the revocation of the charters of illegal corporations and criminal prosecution of officers of monopolistic concerns—or 'a few shaved heads,' as he puts it."

It would be discourtesy to an amiable gentleman to name the course of treatment indicated for a head which produced this proposal for the trust problem solution. If there is anything that is inexcusable at this stage of trust discussion, it is the assumption that punitive measures directed against either corporations or their officials are adequate or even in some cases desirable or just, in the present state of the law. What is needed even more than the punishment of willful offenders is assistance to business men who would like to respect the law if either they or their lawyers knew where the line of obedience runs. Threatening such men with "shaved heads" may keep them from pushing their business forward, may paralyze their energies, but it doesn't solve the trust problem or get us an inch nearer solution.

THE HARVESTERS.

The boards of trade and other organizations of the middle and far western states are issuing appeals for help. They want harvest hands. They need men to help gather in the crops. They look to the city slums for these men.

This call of the west holds endless possibilities and endless misery—all depending upon the individual who answers it.

The man who works in the city for $8 or $10 a week with no prospects ahead of him, chafing under drawbacks, but seeing no way out, may find this call to the harvest field the opportunity of a lifetime. Short of duration as the job is, it takes him to the west and gives him a foothold there right from the start.

While working in the harvest field this man will gather scraps of information from his associates which will enable him to get something to do after the harvest season is over. Eventually, proceeding from job to job, he will get hold of a permanent means of making a livelihood in the west. He will have bid the city slum good-by forever.

The man, on the other hand, who, to put it charitably, is a temperamental worker, who borders on the down and out class, and has little will power and less stamina left, will wish he had never started for the western harvest fields. After the brief season of work will be over he may find himself stranded in a strange land, far from the generous free lunch counter which is there to cheer him in the city slum.

The harvest spells opportunity, but it doesn't spell easy opportunity.

IN CASE OF WAR.

Gen. Robert K. Evans, chief of the division of militia affairs, commenting upon the recent maneuvers in various parts of the United States, says that some observers laughed, some wondered, but the more immediately concerned have wept. The regulars were fifty-eight men short to the company, and the militia sixty-eight, and Gen. Evans declares we couldn't put 20,000 trained cavalrymen and artillerymen into the field "if our lives depended upon it."

But Gen. Evans does not seem to estimate in our war strength all the military experts and seasoned soldiers who as congressmen are ever ready to threaten carnage against any foreign foe. In case some misguided power should tempt destruction by beginning hostilities against us the president would immediately put that profound master of the art of war, Chairman Hay of the house committee on military affairs, at the head of our forces. Gen. Hay would call Gen. Ainsworth from his retirement, and a most sanguinary card catalogue campaign would follow.

Meanwhile our mastery of the sea would be assured by one staggering victory won by the editor of the New York Evening Post as admiral of the fleet, who, besides conquering the foe, would establish forever the folly of costly naval preparation by using editorials and peace society pamphlets as ammunition.

But anyway, war is a thing of the past. We haven't had a war for fourteen years.

IS IT?

Is our country a melting pot of the races?

Prof. Alfred E. Zimmern, formerly of Oxford, says: "America is not a melting pot; it is a pot of varnish."

Prof. W. M. Davis, formerly of Harvard, says it is a "melting pot, a living prophecy of future international peace."

Mrs. Edmund Pendleton of Calumet avenue, discussing the arrival of a prominent Chinese merchant as a neighbor, says: "Dear me! How cosmopolitan we are becoming! We have negroes out here now, and a few Goths and Visigoths. I suppose a Chinese or two won't do any harm. No, I am not surprised. I have spent the best years of my life in our house on Calumet avenue and I wouldn't think of leaving now. In that time I have seen a great many changes and have grown callous to them. I am sure I shall have no objection to Chin Foin, and if he keeps the Knight house up as well as the Knights did I think I shall welcome him."

Mr. J. W. Scofield, also of Calumet avenue, said: "I'd rather have a Chinese any day than some other nationalities."

Mr. Charles J. Furst says: "If Chin Foin is a gentleman we shall welcome him."

Mrs. C. E. Seaton says: "I think Chin Foin will be rather interesting. We are learning out this way that there is good in all races."

The American Bar association says: "Resolved, That, as it has never been contemplated that members of the colored race should become members of this association, the several local councils are directed, if at any time any of them shall recommend a person of the colored race for membership, to accompany the recommendation with a statement of the fact that he is of such race."

There are nearly 10,000,000 negroes in the melting pot.

THE PLANTING OF DYNAMITE.

The suicide of a witness about to testify before a Massachusetts grand jury dramatically centers attention upon an investigation which otherwise might have escaped it. Evidence, to which the suicide was to have contributed, will be given to the Suffolk county grand jury to establish an alleged plot of Boston men to plant dynamite in Lawrence for the purpose of discrediting the textile strike. A man named Breen, who already has been found guilty of placing the dynamite, is said to have confessed and implicated certain mill owners.

When the McNamaras were arrested they and other labor leaders at once asserted that they were victims of a "frame-up," a plot exactly like this now charged in Boston. The outcome of their trial disposed of that theory.

It is possible that Breen was a real dynamiter now implicating mill officials to get even, and such a counter frame-up doubtless will be alleged, sincerely or as tactics, by the latter. The suicide is said, however, to have confessed in corroboration of Breen's story, and it is rumored that District Attorney Pelletier has other evidence.

It is hoped there will be a full exposure. If workmen plant dynamite to blow up employers and employers plant it to hang workmen, our American optimism will realize that the increasing emphasis upon social reforms in our politics is not all buncombe concession to the sentimentalists.

A PROPER CAUTION.

Secretary MacVeagh, being a citizen of Chicago, as well as a cabinet officer, has decided not to be hasty in giving up plans for condemnation of the Crane site until he is assured that the Pennsylvania will not build a freight station there. Secretary MacVeagh thinks that the conjunction of freight tracks and elevated railroad tracks at this point and for blocks south would be a very poor addition to the "city beautiful."

This point of view will be appreciated in Chicago. The Pennsylvania has maintained one of the worst eyesores in the city for many years and its directors cannot be trusted to show enough interest in Chicago to forego any advantage for the city's sake. It is a great pity this station with all its tenants could not have been moved down to the Twelfth street terminal center. But since that is impracticable, the situation should be made as little offensive as possible. In time electrification and putting all trackage underground will mitigate the present nuisance.

NEXT Wednesday morning, we conjecture, Mr. Taft will eat a hearty breakfast of bacon and eggs, with hot rolls, potatoes, and coffee, after which he will call for the morning paper and proceed to read with elaborate carelessness the election returns from Vermont.

IT is the Atlanta Journal's proud boast that it "covers Dixie like a dew." The esteemed Journal, we infer, has a sort of wet blanket mortgage on the entire south.

LITERARY recreations of Richard Harding Davis: "They were too crafty to at once attack New York itself. A widow lady they met," etc.

THE "pushmobile," which has taken possession of Chicago all at once, is an ingenious device whereby a boy with an old pair of roller skates can make them cover fifty times as much space as heretofore on the cement sidewalks.

ONCE in a while the "invisible government" materializes, and then you see what it looks like.

FOR another good example of what a paved roadway ought not to be, see Western boulevard, north of Fifty-fifth street.

SO MANY persons have been held up by highwaymen in the neighborhood of Forty-third street and Ellis avenue that it is time they were complaining to the Friend of the People about it.

IN A MINOR KEY.

Wrong Guess.

Nan—I've seen your new young man, and I should call him a diamond in the rough.

Fan—Well, he's susceptible of some polish, I'll admit, but you haven't classified him correctly; he's a Jasper.

Hasty Inference.

"Bob, if we're going to see a ball game tomorrow I want to know a lot more about the game than I do. Tell me some of the fine points of it."

"All right, Myrtle; I'll begin with what's called the squeeze play, and——"

"No, you won't! I'm talking about baseball!"

Unconventionalities.

"You're a sort of forty-second cousin of mine, are you? Well, I never lend money to relatives. Close the door as you go out, will you?"

"Binks, the only things I dislike about you are your looks, your actions, and your conversation."

"We'd get along most amicably, old chap, if you would hibernate in the winter and go to the north pole in the summer."

"What I admire in you, Squinchley, is the easy, natural, unaffected manner in which you can swear to a lie."

"Muggleton, I don't wonder that you and Gormley are not friends. He's a gentleman."

Eager to Help Him.

The city editor looked over the manuscript the caller had handed him.

"If I run this item, madam," he said, "I shall have to use the blue pencil on about nine-tenths of it."

"O, that's too much trouble!" she exclaimed. "Let me have it again, and I'll write it all with a blue pencil!"

How to Keep Well. By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit or the subject is not suitable letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations and where a stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

SWIMMING HOLES.

C. H. Mills writes: "In one of your articles you asked the question, 'What town pays any attention to its swimming holes?' If it is not too late to give you an answer to that question may I do so by replying, Grand Rapids, Mich.? And in giving this answer I explain what is being done this summer in conducting municipal swimming holes, for most of them are simply natural, good, old fashioned swimming holes, the kind that fathers and grandfathers of today used to love to patronize when they were kids.

"Grand Rapids is at present supporting and efficiently supervising nine municipal swimming pools. They are not the ordinary style of modern cement or marble public baths. They are the good, old fashioned, natural swimming holes, like the ones that daddy used to love years ago when he was a boy, the kind that holds a strong temptation for many a poor little 'kid' to play hookey from school in the spring or autumn.

"First of all, the city has used two places in the main river of the town, one behind a freight depot, where there is a high running dam, and the other about a mile out of the center of the town, where a railroad bridge crosses and the bank of the river is thickly set with timber. Another swimming hole is in an old unused power canal, and another is made out of a dammed creek in a vacant lot behind one of the large factories.

"In wandering through one of the wildest wooded portions of the city's most natural and beautiful park we find a natural basin filled with running spring water, which constitutes another of these pools. Still another occupies the spacious cavern which was made years ago by blasting in an old plaster quarry, and two others are natural basins, which happen to lie in the center of other city parks. Only one out of the nine is a symmetrically constructed cement pool. And that one is a deviation from the usual plain square or oblong shapes.

"Each of these places has a competent swimming director in charge, who gets right in with the boys, organizes games and water sports, looks after the safety of all the patrons, and plays the part throughout of the jolly, good natured big brother. In one week there were nearly 14,000 bathers, which proves the people's appreciation of what the city is doing for them in this respect. Would it not be a good thing if more towns and cities would follow the example of Grand Rapids and pay more attention to their 'swimming holes'?"

Recently Miss Rumbold, secretary of the public recreation commission of St. Louis, kept statistics of those using the Soulard bath house. Of the men using the pool, 50.7 per cent could swim, boys 65.4 per cent, women 13.5 per cent, girls 33.5 per cent. She thinks St. Louis children are better swimmers than their parents. It seems strange that in American cities where most of the grown people have come from the country the children are better swimmers than the grownups. Perhaps the patrons of the Soulard bath are mostly foreigners, who have come from inland countries.

However, it does not speak well for St. Louis that only 65 per cent of the boys and 33 per cent of the girls can swim. It must be that St. Lou has not been as wise as Grand Rapids. It certainly has the usual assortment of clay holes and ponds. Maybe it uses them as does Chicago—as places in which to drown children. Here our lake bathing season closes on Labor day. The park lakes and clay holes are good swimming places for another six weeks. But LO, the boy must do in stealth and in danger what he should be encouraged to do, but watched over so as to be secure, trained so as to get the most out of them.

Every community in size from Rienzi, Miss., to Chicago, Ill., should follow the lead of Grand Rapids, at least so far as watching over and developing its swimming holes.

HOUSEHOLD FLY TRAP.

The United States Department of Agriculture, bureau of animal industry, gives these directions for household fly trap six inches in diameter and twelve inches high:

Buy two sets of six inch embroidery hoops. Use two of the small and one large hoop for the trap. Tack twenty inches of twelve inch wire screening on the inside of the smaller hoops. The cone requires twelve inches of twelve inch wire screening cut in a half circle, with a six inch radius to the circle. Lace the selvage edge of the screening together with wire or linen thread. Tack the circular edge of the screening on the inside of the lower cylinder hoop. Cut a hole one-half inch in diameter at the top of the cone. Cover the cylinder with a piece of cloth held in place with the large embroidery hoop. Place trap over a bait of sugar and vinegar, high enough from the table to allow flies to get underneath. Clean the trap by scalding the flies, removing the cloth, and shaking the dead flies into the fire.

CALOMEL.

O. E. W. writes: "1. Please give the proper dose of calomel for a man 50 years old to take. 2. Is it harmful or healthful? 3. How is the best way to take it? 4. Is sal hepatica good to take after taking calomel, or is Pluto water better? 5. Some doctors say calomel is salivating, others say not. Which are correct?

REPLY.

1. Two grains taken in four doses half an hour apart. Personally, I think the quicker calomel as a purge is discarded the better off we will be. The old idea about "touching the liver with calomel, etc.," was just talk.
2. About half and half.
3. Tablets.
4. Either is proper.
5. Large doses of calomel may salivate, particularly if the teeth are dirty. As it is given today, as a purge, it practically never salivates.

TUBERCULOSIS.

Miss E. A. B. writes: "I have been suffering with pain in about the middle of my back for several months, also in left shoulder, especially when standing. I am losing weight and have a tired feeling most of the time. I have been having headache almost continually for six months. Are any of these the symptoms of tuberculosis? I have a brother ill with that disease."

REPLY.

A brother with tuberculosis, loss of weight, tired feeling all the time make a combination that might mean tuberculosis. Get a diagnosis.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1912: By the Brentwood Company.]

SIR DERRICK WERNHER, who recently went through the bankruptcy court in London only a few days before the death of his father, Sir Julius Wernher, the famous South African multimillionaire, has just been cleared by the French courts of all criminal intent in connection with the charges of fraud brought against him and a Bavarian nobleman, Hugo von Grundherr, by a couple of the name of Marzy, owners of one of the largest art furniture, tapestry, and bric-a-brac shops in Paris.

It seems that prior to his father's death Derrick, being sorely in need of cash, associated himself with Grundherr, whose acquaintance he had made in London, in an effort to "raise the wind."

They went to Paris and young Wernher purchased there $200,000 worth of goods from the Marzys, paying them with two notes of $100,000 each. The dealers were only too ready to accommodate the eldest son of so great a capitalist as the late Sir Julius, being, of course, ignorant of his financial troubles and his break with his father.

Grundherr, according to the arrangement between him and Derrick, undertook to sell the goods at a profit of at least 50 per cent to people whom he knew in Germany and Austria in time to take up the notes and to divide proceeds.

Instead of doing this, however, Grundherr, who is a captain on the reserve list of the Bavarian cavalry, disposed of everything for about $70,000 and disappeared.

Of course, when the notes fell due Sir Derrick, who had meanwhile succeeded to the baronetcy and little else, for his father cut him off with an annuity of $6,000 a year, was unable to pay, and as soon as the Marzys found that their goods had been sold at ridiculously low prices in Germany they lodged charges of fraud against him and his partner.

Sir Derrick surrendered himself voluntarily, while Grundherr was discovered in London and extradited.

The former has been cleared of any intent to defraud, but Grundherr, who ten or fifteen years ago was a conspicuous figure on the German turf and maintained a racing stable at Berlin, will have to undergo a term of French penal servitude.

Of course, this does not relieve Sir Derrick of his financial obligation to the Marzys, and it remains to be seen whether they will be able to establish any lien upon his allowance.

It is unlikely that either his mother or his brother will be willing to do anything to help him owing to the violence of the scenes that he made at the Wernher residence in London when his father lay dying.

The late Sir Julius repeatedly paid his debts, those which he had incurred as an Oxford graduate alone amounting to $150,000.

A year after settling for those, finding that his son was piling up a fresh load of indebtedness and was running into all kinds of extravagance, including the purchase of a string of racehorses, his father paid out a quarter of a million more and then published a notice in the agony column of the London Times repudiating all further financial responsibility for him.

His creditors accordingly forced him at once into bankruptcy for a sum of more than $500,000, and an undischarged bankrupt he still remains.

When his father's will was opened it was found that the "king of the Kaffirs," as old Sir Julius was nicknamed from his control of the South African stock market, had left the bulk of his huge fortune to his younger sons, Harold and Alexander.

The will further provided that Sir Derrick should receive an annuity not exceeding $6,000 until his thirtieth year and not more than $12,000 after that, the capital furnishing this income being held as a trust fund for his wife and children, should he ever marry. Should he not marry the fund was to revert at his death to his brothers.

Curiously enough, the late Sir Julius, who was a son of Gen. Frederick Augustus Wernher of the German army, was himself taken in by a swindler in France some ten years ago much in the same fashion as his son. In spite of that business acumen which enabled him to rise from the position of a $4 a week clerk in London to be the greatest South African magnate except Cecil Rhodes, far richer even than Alfred Belt, and also to win a baronetcy and the close friendship of Edward VII., he allowed himself to be victimized to the tune of $300,000 by a Frenchman named Lemoine with a plausible scheme for the manufacture of artificial diamonds. Lemoine is now serving out a sentence of fifteen years' penal servitude.

Sir Julius gave up his London clerkship when the war with France broke out in 1870 and served throughout the campaign under the German flag, subsequently emigrating to South Africa, where he won both fame and his fortune.

Among the many reasons why a cessation of the war between Italy and Turkey is desirable is the alarming condition of the cathedral church of St. Sophia at Constantinople, the chief mosque of the city since its capture by Mohammed II. more than 400 years ago.

Built in the sixth century by Justinian the Great, the venerable pile has been so weakened by age and earthquakes that it is in danger of tumbling to pieces.

Last year it was subjected to a most searching examination at the instance of the Ottoman government by the eminent Italian architect Marangoni, to whom Venice is indebted for the restoration of the Campanile.

Marangoni drew up designs of reinforcing work which he regarded as necessary, both for the superstructure and foundations, the cost of repair being estimated at $800,000.

He received an order to begin at once, in view of the urgency of the case, but before he could do so the war broke out, and until it is at an end nothing can be done.

Among the candidates for the office of sheriff of Middlesex, which means the portion of London that lies north of the Thames, is the Rev. H. Cart Delafontaine, a clergyman of the Church of England, and, as some objections to him were raised on the score of his cloth, lawyers have been consulted and have declared that there are no legal obstacles to his election.

True, it is necessary to go hundreds of years back in order to find a precedent; in fact, to prereformation days, the last instance of an ecclesiastical sheriff being that of John de Bedewynde, a priest who was sheriff of Cornwall in 1312.

Jocelyn, bishop of Bath, was sheriff of Somerset in 1223, Peter, bishop of Winchester, was sheriff of Hampshire in 1232, and Richard de Marisco, archdeacon of Northumberland, was sheriff of Dorset in 1212.

The Rev. H. C. Delafontaine's case is different from these ancient ones in that it puts him in line for election, first as alderman and then as lord mayor.

Should he attain the chair of chief city magistrate he would be the first clergyman on record to hold it in all the thousand year history of London.

Letters from Readers Discussing Politics.

HAVE THEM MEET HALF WAY.

Maroa, Ill., Aug. 26.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—It is neither logical nor sensible to continue in the old lineup. It is not practicable to ask the Republicans to come over to the Democrats or the Democrats to come over to the Republicans. But why shouldn't we meet each other half way? C. M. WOOD.

MAKE HIM TELL ALL.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Hearst alleges that if Roosevelt, Penrose, or Archbold don't tell all the truth, he will. It is meet here to ask a few questions on Hearst's attitude. In the first place, how did Hearst get to know the facts in this case? And when he got them, why did he not expose them? Is he blindly running into a trap which will mean his political death or the death of his papers just to attempt the success of Wilson in the coming election? There can be but one conclusion as regards his conduct, and, in my opinion, it is this: Hearst not only perpetrates a scandal by his actions in keeping secret the facts of this immense alleged scandal, but that he is a traitor to the interests of this country, and as such no time ought to be lost in bringing him before the senate committee in order that this affair may be settled. G. W.

KEEP PLATFORM PROMISES.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Of what immediate practical value is it to merely elect a president? He is powerless to carry out his platform promises to the people unless the people also elect a congress in sympathy with his platform. Let's figure that all parties "are tarred with the same old stick"; that Senator Beveridge hit the hidden truth when he called that tar "the invisible government." The Chicago and the Baltimore conventions of the old parties opened the people's eyes to the utter foolishness of party lines dividing the plain people for the benefit of the invisible organized greed whose "tar" was discovered in both conventions. If the people have good "horse sense" they will unite secretly by the Australian ballot; united they will stand, divided as heretofore they remain slaves to invisible greed back of visible government.

When rogues fall out the people get some of these platform promises fulfilled (if they will unite on some one platform). Perkins and Flinn simply "fell out" with the invisible government because they have taken the McNamara-Darrow-Lorimer hint and are too smart to wait for the kick, which, as Perkins truly says, would make this country a poor place for the sons of the oil, steel, and other trust magnates.

In effect they back a new party to stand between the rule of greed and of Debs. Well, let's give them no excuse for nonperformance of their platform contract with the people. Let's landslide! Then if they fail to perform give Debs a chance in 1916.

ROOSEVELT AND THE NEGRO.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 26.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The negro question has been injected into the new Progressive party. The press has said much pro and con respecting the attitude of the party toward the negro. Col. Roosevelt in his letter to Julian Harris of Atlanta, Ga., has outlined his policies for the future contingency of that party. Having read his letter with care, I see no cause for the negro to become alarmed. His letter is filled with wisdom, justice, and sound advice.

Col. Roosevelt is neither the negro's foe nor his enemy. He is not his foe because he does not attack him from ambush; he is not his enemy because he does not throw his dagger from concealed quarters. No mountain nor burning bush hides him from the sight of the American people. He is an inspired leader. Taking him all in all, I think him the most remarkable man America has ever produced. He is a man who stands for justice and fair play. He is a man who will not outrage the sacred rights of men with impunity, nor shut the door of hope in the face of the poor.

JOHN C. BONE.

WAY THE WIND BLOWS.

Arrowsmith, Ill., Aug. 27.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—During a recent visit of the travelers and a part of the office force (including the president) of J. F. Humphreys & Co. to a Keokuk (Ia.) cereal manufactory the taking of a straw vote showed the following:

Roosevelt	17
Wilson	7
Taft	8

LOUIS VIRGIEL.

DOUBTS T. R.'S SINCERITY.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—[Editor of The Tribune.] One of your contributors inquires: "Where do presidential campaign funds come from? Is it true that they are contributed by industrial combinations, trusts, 'plutocrats,' 'railroad kings,' etc? If this be true, why do these industrial forces supply money to elect presidents who profess to be violently hostile to them?" This is delightfully naïve. Of course the person who "professes to be violently hostile to them" is none other than the doughty colonel. Neither Taft nor Wilson has ever made any such professions. The one has made a fair showing as to enforcing the law against trusts and the other will certainly enforce it when elected president.

As for the colonel, he made only the veriest pretense at its enforcement, as shown by the enormous increase in the number of the trusts during his administration, as well as by his granting an "indulgence" to the steel trust to absorb its strongest competitor. It is not to be wondered at that his financial backer is a man whose whole fortune was made by organising trusts. And unless the trusts have lost their senses, they will give him a splendid war chest.

A. JACKSON.

SENATE COMMITTEE AND ROOSEVELT.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 26.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In the action of the senate subcommittee in refusing to allow Col. Roosevelt the opportunity of denying under oath the allegations of Senator Penrose and John D. Archbold, the "old guard" think they have made a strategic move.

However, the people of the country do not consider a sworn statement from Col. Roosevelt necessary, as we would certainly believe the plain statement of Col. Roosevelt in preference to the sworn statement of John D. Archbold, the corrupter of legislators, or of his agent, who was compelled to acknowledge the acceptance of a certificate of deposit for $25,000 from the Standard Oil company while a member of a committee investigating that company.

We do not consider that an oath would add to Col. Roosevelt's truthfulness any more than it would deter Penrose or Archbold from stating an untruth in an attempt to hide their perfidy. G. H. VAN CLEVE.

WHO STARTED ALL THIS?

Chicago, Aug. 26.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In regard to the late Standard Oil scandal it seems to me that there is a certain fact in the case that should not be overlooked. Who started this fuss? Was it not Flinn, who is Roosevelt's manager, who asked Mr. Penrose where the money went? If Mr. Flinn and Mr. Roosevelt knew where it went and that it went to Roosevelt's campaign, what would their reason be to demand an answer from Penrose? It appears to me that Penrose's reply was simply made to gain time in which to think up some excuses and to throw the people off the track.

MARRIAGE AND CITIZENSHIP.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—[To the Friend of the People.]—1. If a citizen of the United States marries an alien, does his wife become a citizen of the United States without being naturalized?

2. If an alien marries an American girl, does he become a citizen without being naturalized? If not, does his wife lose her citizenship?

3. Are these laws uniform in all the states? G. P.

1. Executive order of April 6, 1907, amending the instructions to diplomatic officers and the consular regulations relative to expatriation, citizenship, naturalization, and passports amends paragraph 141 to read in part as follows:

"Any white woman or woman of African nativity, or descent, or Indian woman married to a citizen of the United States is a citizen thereof."

2. The same executive order provides that after paragraph 141 a new paragraph shall be added reading in part as follows:

"An American woman who marries a foreigner takes the nationality of her husband."

3. Yes.

LAKE FRONT IMPROVEMENTS.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—[To the Friend of the People.]—During the naval pageant here a few days ago I took my wife and little girl to the lake front at the foot of Randolph street to get a good view of the harbor and perhaps see some of the maneuvers. This part of the lake front is a disgrace to the city. Why doesn't the south park board, or whoever has charge of the filled in lake front, improve this part of the park? The road along the lake front is no better than a rough country road. There is no sidewalk, and the bank, instead of being terraced and covered with grass, with gravel walks, and benches for the convenience of the hundreds and thousands of people who visit the lake front, are barren and dusty, with mounds of mud and clay scattered all around, just as dumped there a long time ago.

The lake view, from the filled in side of Grant park, should by all means be made as attractive as possible. This part of the park, to thousands of people, is the most visited of all, and I do not see why the authorities in charge should delay any longer improving this most accessible and sought after section of Grant park. I for one will greatly appreciate your efforts toward hastening these much needed improvements. F. HAMMOND.

It is the intention of the commissioners to do all these things when the greater lake front improvements are made.

LOSS OF DECLARATION.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Will a foreigner who has taken out his first citizen papers and lost them have to wait five years more from the date that he takes them out again in order to procure his final papers?

S. E. A.

An alien who has lost his declaration of intention should make application to the court in which it was filed for a certified copy.

ROUTE NO. 23.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Can you find out from the Chicago Railways company how soon they are going to put their new through route No. 23 in operation? And what streets will it be routed on, and where will its north terminal be? Trusting you will give this your prompt attention.

A PROPERTY OWNER.

Route 23 will start at Morgan and Thirty-ninth and will run north to private right of way at Thirty-first, east to Throop, north to Twenty-first, east to Center avenue, north to Adams, east to Sangamon, north to Austin avenue, west to Center avenue, north to Erie, and west to Ashland. The operation of the route depends upon the completion of some special work to be done at Twenty-first and Throop streets. When this is done the companies will begin operating the whole line.

GAS SHUTOFF DEVICE.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly inform me through your valued columns whether there is in effect a state or city law which requires the owner of a store or flat building to install a patent automatic gas shutoff machine or device under penalty. I have received no request to install one as yet, but have been informed that I would soon hear from the proper authorities. My informant was trying to sell me his device. A. C. R.

There is such a law, but of course one does not have to buy any particular device.

NO. 1 SHOULD BRING SUIT.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A, the owner, leases to B three small stores. B subleases to three tenants 1, 2, and 3. July 1 B, being unable to keep up the rent, mutually agrees with A, owner, to surrender the lease. No. 1 tenant takes the lease and begins July 1 as tenant of owner, A. He continues to occupy his store. No. 1 continues to sublet to No. 3, but refuses to sublet to No. 2, as No. 2 to his knowledge is one month back on rent and an undesirable tenant. No. 2 desires to continue as a tenant and offers one month's rent, which is refused. He is given a written [not legal] notice to get out. He is then served with a legal five days' notice, but still refuses to go. Court proceedings following this notice for possession are against No. 1, who holds the lease. Now, how can this No. 2 tenant be ejected? He has had no dealings with No. 1. Lease is for one year, with a ten days' clause. A is legal owner. C. AMRINE.

Proceedings to oust tenant No. 2 should be brought by tenant No. 1. The lease under which tenant No. 2 occupies the premises doubtless provides that it is binding upon assigns of both landlord and tenant. Hence No. 1 has the same right to oust No. 2 as his assignor A would have had. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

ICE SHORT IN WEIGHT.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Please tell me what is the exact weight of a piece of ice 20½x15x7¾. The ice man said it was ninety-five pounds. Can they give ninety pounds and charge for 100 without being prosecuted for giving short weight?

MRS. KENNETH R. SMITH.

The weight is seventy-seven and one-half pounds. The bureau of weights and measures will prosecute for ice short in weight over five pounds.

BLOCKADE; NO TRANSFER.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—[To the Friend of the People.]—On Friday last I was a passenger on an Indiana avenue car going south. A fire broke out in a building at the corner of Hubbard place and Wabash avenue. The fire delayed the cars, and, being in a hurry, I requested the conductor to give me an emergency transfer. He said the company gave no transfers within the loop, and refused, as the cars were running on State street. I insisted it was not a 'transfer,' but a convenience to the traveling public. I request that you ask a ruling of some one in authority on the street car system on this point, as it frequently happens in a city like Chicago.

DAVID REVELL.

The blockade was, of course, a matter beyond the company's control. The complaint with reference to the transfer will receive prompt investigation, and such action will be taken as the facts warrant. CHICAGO CITY RAILWAY COMPANY.

WAS SHE INSANE?

Chicago, Aug. 22.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A man sold real estate three years ago for $1,000. The woman buyer was of peculiar disposition, but had never been adjudged insane and had always transacted business up to that time. She paid part on it, and gave a mortgage for the balance. She has died recently, and the executor of her estate has filed a counter claim, in which he claims the real estate was worth but half the man asked for it, and that he take nothing by the mortgage and pay back the balance. Has this man [the executor] the right to set a price on another's property, and wasn't the transaction regular if she had never been adjudged insane?

MISS CLARA SMITH, 5738 Drexel avenue.

If the purchaser was actually insane at the time of purchase, the transaction can be set aside at the instance of the executor.

DUST AND SPRINKLING.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Last evening South Forty-eighth avenue was almost unbearable because the street car company had not sprinkled the tracks, and it would seem that that condition must be ruinous to their new cars on our street. F. BAKER.

Up to the 17th inst. the Forty-eighth avenue tracks were sprinkled twice a day. Since that day they have been sprinkled four times a day. The paving work now going on increases the dust.

WHOSE IS THE MONEY?

Utica, Ill., Aug. 26.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Not long ago I sold a number of acres of land in West Virginia, reserving all minerals. This land has been leased for oil and gas for many years. Since selling this land the buyer claims the rental on the oil and gas lease is rightfully his. Who is the lawful owner of said lease money? A. V. W.

You are entitled to the rent if the deed reserves such rights. We cannot answer this question without seeing a copy of the deed.

This proves to be a very excellent smoke. The balance are nothing but "ropes," but the same in outward appearance. Has one any recourse if peddler can be located? C. W. MORRIS.

You could recover your money, if the cigars did not correspond to the sample. If this man has no peddler's license he is subject to a fine, and he is in addition criminally liable as a "confidence game operator."

STREETS WILL BE IMPROVED.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I would like to inquire why the street pavement on Argyle street from Sheridan road to Evanston avenue has been torn up during the last six weeks so as to make it impassable to any kind of traffic.

It is impossible for automobiles to come into the street for business purposes and also for teams.

About the only place that teams can cross the street north and south is at the elevated road, and they get stuck there frequently.

Also in this same neighborhood Evanston avenue from Foster avenue to Lawrence avenue is in almost as bad condition. ARGYLE STREET.

These pavements were disturbed for the purpose of installing new sewers. The streets are about to be improved. F. W. SOLON, HALTED BY AN APPEAL.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly let me know when Mildred avenue, between Oakdale avenue and Wellington, will be paved, as I understand the contract has been let since early spring.

A CONSTANT READER.

I beg to advise you that the assessment for said improvement was confirmed May 22, 1912, but certain property owners prayed an appeal to the Supreme court, which was allowed by the County court, and the objecting property owners have until Sept. 1 to file a bill of exceptions. Under the circumstances the board considers it inadvisable to let a contract for the work until the validity of the assessment is passed on by the Supreme court.

CONTRACT WITH SALESMAN.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A man makes a contract to sell goods on a 10 per cent commission, two-thirds to be paid for expenses, the other one-third to be held by the employer to cover losses by cancellation, failures, etc. The employer advanced money when requested in excess of the whole commission and expects to be paid what has been overdrawn.

After signing the above contract, can he hold the employé for the overdraft? Can he collect it? A. C.

Yes, as to both questions.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

NO INQUEST FEES.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—The coroner and his deputies frequently summon physicians and others to testify before them and their juries relative to sudden deaths, and for this service no witness fee is paid. Is there not a statutory fee covering this matter? If so, who is getting the fees? Could I, as a physician, refuse to testify before a coroner unless I was assured of a witness fee? What would be the penalty for refusing under these conditions to testify? I am sure your reply will be appreciated by the medical profession. F. R. B.

A witness at an inquest is not entitled to fee. Failure to appear when summoned without cause subjects the witness to the penalty of a fine.

ADVISE CAR MEN TO ACCEPT OFFER

Leaders Think the Companies' Terms Better than Would Result from Arbitration.

BEGIN ON VOTE TODAY.

Balloting Will End Tomorrow Morning and Be Counted Before Noon.

Leaders among the street car employés, who believe the terms of the final offer by the campanies better than can be obtained by arbitration, yesterday presented their views to their fellow workmen. They made a strong effort to have the vote, beginning this morning at 4 o'clock, approve the signing of the new contract.

A strong influence for acceptance of the offer was the direct statement of W. D. Mahon, international president of the employés' association, that refusal would undo all the work accomplished and leave no recourse but arbitration. It was the first time the men had been told clearly that the strike weapon is denied them by their own laws.

Doubts Chances in Arbitration.

"We cannot put the case before the men more strongly," said one of Mahon's assistants. "We have done the best we could and have obtained tremendously valuable concessions from the companies as regards wages and some of the working conditions. Whether arbitration would result in equally good terms I do not know. If arbitration should be forced, and if its results should be unfavorable, the men will have no one but themselves to blame. We have given them their opportunity."

The presidents of the local divisions said they had told the men all the circumstances leading up to the tentative agreement with the companies and could do nothing but wait for the vote.

"We have done our best to gain proper advances in wages and working conditions for the men," said William Quinlan, head of the north and west side union. "We have gained all that could be gained from the companies. The situation now is up to the men."

"I believe we have obtained the best proposition we possibly could get," said Roland Shelton, head of the south side union. "Whether it would be advisable to go to arbitration I cannot say. It is up to the men."

Count Vote Tomorrow Forenoon.

The vote will end tomorrow at 4 a. m., and will be counted during the forenoon. On Saturday President Mahon and other members of the national executive committee will arrive in Chicago from Detroit, where they went immediately after presenting their report to the Tuesday night mass meetings.

If the surface men approve their leaders' work effort will be concentrated on bringing a quick settlement to the dispute over the elevated railway employés pay and working conditions. This, as less important than the struggle with the surface situation, was made secondary, but it is planned to have the new contracts finally signed at the same time. Conferences between the local committee and Britton I. Budd, president of Chicago Elevated Railways, continued through the day.

LANDLORD HOLDS LOVE COTE.

Emerson H. Nicholoy Cannot Remove Furnishings from Deserted Bungalow in Evanston.

Should Emerson H. Nicholoy return to his Evanston "love bungalow," at 2334 Prairie avenue, and attempt to remove the household goods, he may meet a stern landlord. John Finch said yesterday that Nicholoy has a lease on premises which will not expire until May 1 next, and Finch will oppose any effort to vacate unless a financial settlement is made.

Finch interested himself in the case when it was rumored that Nicholoy and the woman, who for two years posed as his wife, but who in reality is the wife of John G. Coon, would attempt to start a new residence, where they might rest unmolested. None of the furnishings of the bungalow have been disturbed, however.

So far as can be learned, no citizen of Evanston has heard from either Mr. Nicholoy or Mrs. Coon since their disappearance. Mr. Coon is waiting to serve a summons in divorce proceedings.

Sends Out a Call for Dancing Men.

Miss Mary Hotchkiss

"Wanted—man who can dance," was the cry sent out last night by the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority in convention in Evanston. The society's annual dance is set for tonight at Patten gymnasium. These are 230 girls who want to dance.

There has been discovered but seventy-three members of men's "frats" in Evanston to invite to the dance. A shortage of men exists.

"We must find about 175 more men dancers," said Miss Mary Hotchkiss, chairman of the dance committee. "We are becoming desperate. We are willing to advertise for them. We even will appeal to Chicago—to the University of Chicago men—to help us out. Any university man will be welcome. If one can't dance he can find plenty of 'sitters.' There is no age limit and all university men and their friends will be admitted without special invitations."

VILLAINY MADE COURT ISSUE

Pam to Decide Whether Lackaye Will Be Brutal or Polished.

TIED BY TWO CONTRACTS.

Injunction Suit to Settle Whether Star Plays Fagin.

Judge Pam of the Superior court is to decide whether Wilton Lackaye is to be a polished villain—one of the suave, plausible kind—or a wheedling, sneaking villain of the petty larceny class.

This issue will be decided when the judge settles whether Mr. Lackaye is to continue to appear at the Cort theater or whether he can play at the Illinois.

A temporary injunction was issued yesterday by Judge Pam on the petition of Harry H. Frazee, restraining Lackaye from appearing under any other management.

Mr. Lackaye knows he has to be a "bad man," and he does not care where or how, but two contracts which he made, one with Mr. Frazee and one with Liebler & Co., are the cause of the trouble.

Dispute Over Contract.

Mr. Frazee now has Mr. Lackaye under contract to appear as the man who makes all the trouble in "Fine Feathers" at the Cort. This contract the actor says was one for four weeks. Mr. Frazee says it was for as long as the play lasted.

At the Illinois the cast engaged by Liebler & Co. to play "Oliver Twist" includes Mr. Lackaye as Fagin. The latter is as much a villain as the part the actor plays in "Fine Feathers."

Lackaye Wants to Go.

Mr. Lackaye says he has a contract to appear with the Liebler forces from Sept. 1 until Nov. 9, and he thinks Mr. Frazee should let him go. Mr. Frazee, after looking at the box office receipts at the Cort, doesn't think so. Hence the injunction.

Mr. Lackaye says that he is neutral as far as the present trouble is concerned. He admits, however, that he is not overly enthusiastic over his present part.

FLOOD FROM LEAK WAKES HUNDREDS

Geyser Out of Broken Water Main Speeds Night Watchman Spreading Alarm.

STREETS LIKE A VENICE.

Women Save Boy from Drowning; Firemen Board Raft Fleet to Fight Flow.

Residents near Wentworth avenue and Thirty-third street, who in previous summers have complained of a lack of water, got plenty of it yesterday. A thirty-six inch water main under Wentworth avenue at that point burst at about 3:30 o'clock in the morning. From then until noon when firemen and workmen of the city water bureau finally got to the leak the neighborhood looked like Venice on a rainy day.

The whole district from Wentworth avenue to State street and from Thirty-third to Thirty-first streets was inundated. Families in basements were routed from their beds by a deluge of cold water, several persons and many horses narrowly escaped drowning. Cellars were filled, and cellar walls swept away. The property loss will aggregate several thousand dollars.

Geyser Surprises Night Watch.

The main appears to have been defective. There was a pressure on it of forty pounds to the square inch. Louis Feinberg, a night watchman, was passing when the pipe suddenly cracked, and the water burst through the pavement like a fountain.

"Run for your lives!" he shouted. Like Paul Revere, he galloped down the street just a few feet ahead of the water. In a few minutes several hundred were in the street in their night clothes, rubbing the sleep out of their eyes and wondering just what kind of a catastrophe they faced.

Many families, however, did not hear the outcry. Some, whose bedrooms were on a lower level than the street, did not discover what was going on until the water poured into the windows or crept up over the mattresses. Then there was a grand rush for safety.

Wades After Trousers and Shirt.

William Lee, a driver, who was asleep in a basement at 3238 Wentworth avenue, was one of those given a chilly awakening. He awoke to find his trousers and shirt floating gayly out of the door. He got up in a hurry, waded out and aroused other people in the house.

Mrs. Eva Mangen, who has a confectionery store at 3256 Wentworth avenue, heard the trickle of water, got out of bed, and opened her front door. The pent up flood swept her off her feet.

Gordon Thompson, an 8 year old boy, was nearly drowned. He lives on Thirty-third street. With the first alarm of the flood he ran down into the basement to rescue some toys. The water isolated him there, and when Miss Frances Smith and Miss Florence Thompson, responding to his cries, came to the rescue they found him standing neck deep in the water on a box. Half wading and half swimming, they managed to get him safely out of the basement.

Drives Into Water Crater.

William Molak, a paper hanger, was so sure he knew his own business that when the firemen warned him to keep off of Wentworth avenue with his horse and wagon he just laughed at them and drove ahead. Suddenly the horse wallowed into a nine foot hole and disappeared. Molak slid off his seat on the wagon and was swallowed up by the foaming water. He had driven the horse into the hole torn in the pavement by the broken main. Firemen pulled him and his horse out of the hole. Neither was badly hurt.

By sun-up Wentworth avenue and adjoining streets were transformed into a water carnival. Row boats emerged from hiding places where no one had suspected a row boat ever would be. Two boats were found in the basement of the Armour Institute. Rafts quickly were constructed out of lumber from a nearby lumber yard. Boarding this pretentious fleet steered by volunteer gondoliers, firemen sailed out to their posts.

It was a long time before the workmen were able to get at the broken main on account of the force of the current and the depth of the water. Finally, however, the hole in the pipe was choked, the water was pumped off by fire engines, street cars resumed operations, and Wentworth avenue again became dry territory.

LACK NAMES FOR PETITION

Suffragists Not Certain Required Number Can Be Obtained.

TALK OVER THE SITUATION.

Hope Not Abandoned, However, and Work Will Be Continued.

Chicago suffragists were not altogether confident of obtaining the full number of names on their public policy petition when they gathered to discuss it yesterday. The meeting, held in the rooms of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association, Fine Arts building, was presided over by Mrs. Catharine Waugh McCulloch.

It was decided best not to make public the number of names already secured, as many of the petitions have not been turned in. The workers will continue their efforts until Tuesday, the last day for securing names. Every picnic in the vicinity of Chicago on Sunday and Labor day will be covered in an attempt to secure the required 100,000 names.

Will Continue the Work.

"If we are unable to get all the names we need," said Mrs. McCulloch, "we will continue the work and show the list to the legislature next winter. Maybe it will be of even greater assistance then."

Mrs. Lewis K. Torbet had the largest number of names on petitions. She has obtained 1,200 signers.

"It has been a wonderful experience," she said, "and I am glad I have done the work instead of going away for the summer. I have talked with at least 1,800 men. Last Sunday I obtained the signatures of a man who stood in front of Immanuel Baptist church. He said: 'I was down and out last winter, and I was fed at this church. Now I want to give you some money for this suffrage cause.'

"Another man to whom I spoke said: 'I want to tell you that I'm for a wide open Sunday. Are you?' I told him I'd talk that over with him when I wasn't so busy, and he signed."

Chicago Women Praised.

Mrs. Elvira Downey of Clinton, Ill., president of the Illinois State Suffrage association, and Mrs. Martha A. Allen, president of the Tennessee suffragists, made short talks. Mrs. Downey said the women of Chicago are the most wonderful workers in the world. She added that downstate women had done little with the suffrage petition.

Mrs. Rae Copley Raum, candidate for mayor of San Diego, Cal., on the Independent ticket, reached Chicago yesterday with her sister, Miss Edythe L. Copley. They are on a transcontinental automobile trip, and will remain here for several days.

Mrs. Raum is a suffraget and a Progressive. She said she was offered the nomination for congressman from her district on the Progressive ticket, but refused to run because she believed women should keep out of national politics until suffrage is universal.

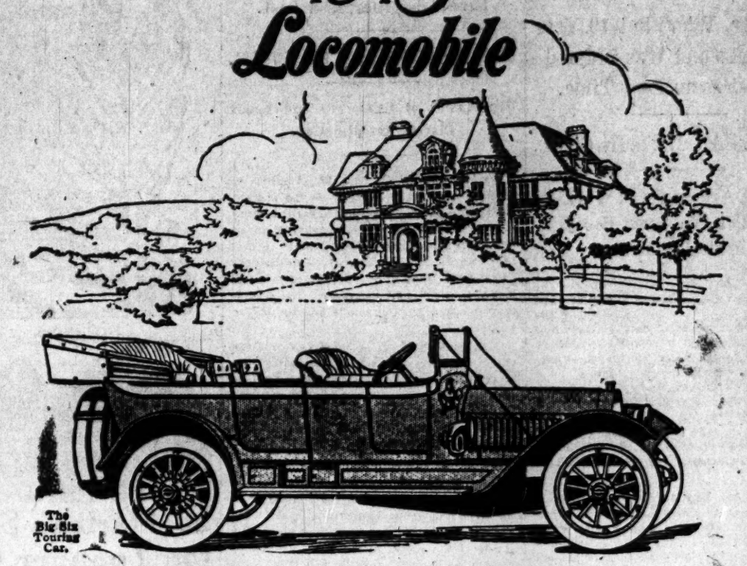

"I am heartily in favor of women participating in local affairs, however," she said. "Running a city is very much like running a large household."

One of her favorite measures is a tax on bachelors.

Work on Maywood Death Mystery.

Partial identification of the body of the Italian found near Maywood on Saturday caused the police to renew their investigation yesterday. The victim is believed to have been Serafino Micuroti from letters found. One theory is that he was followed from Pennsylvania by a jealous rival, who killed him.

SLAYER, "IN JAIL," GOES HOME NIGHTS

Detective, Who Shot 19 Year Old Negro and Was Ordered Held, Has an Easy Time.

POLICE SAY HE'S IN CELL.

But Wife Asserts He Is Working and Can Be Seen Every Morning at House.

The interesting question as to just to what extent Detective Harry J. Bowker of the Stanton avenue police station is "held as a witness" confronted a reporter yesterday when he arrived at the station to investigate a report that Bowker had been jailed.

The detective is accused of assault with intent to kill, his victim having been Lowery Everage, a 19 year old colored boy who formerly lived at 3119 South Wabash avenue. Young Everage died during the afternon at the Provident hospital of wounds inflicted by Bowker.

Shoots Boy as He Flees.

Bowker had arrested Everage on Aug 18 on a warrant charging assault with intent to do bodily injury. This is a misdemeanor. He had taken his prisoner to a police box and was waiting for the patrol wagon when Everage broke away from him and ran. Bowker gave chase for two blocks and then got out his pistol. Everage still continued running and Bowker shot him through the chest.

Edward H. Wright, an attorney with offices at 125 West Van Buren street, on Thursday applied to Judge Hopkins for a warrant for Bowker's arrest. He charges a policeman has no right to use a pistol on a prisoner trying to escape after committing a misdemeanor. Judge Hopkins asked for briefs on the law points involved. The matter was still under advisement when Everage died.

Meanwhile it was given out at the Stanton avenue station that Bowker had been ordered "held as a witness" by Acting Capt. Michael Crotty. The reporter called to see if the order had been carried out.

Say Sleuth's in Jail.

The station attachés said Bowker was in the jail in charge of the turnkey. He was to be kept there, said the desk sergeant, until the coroner's jury had acted in Everage's case. The reporter expressed a curiosity to see a policeman behind the bars of his own jail. This struck the desk sergeant as indicative of a cold heart. That functionary replied promptly that Bowker had made the request that no newspaper men be allowed to see him.

The reporter went away from the jail and got Bowker's residence on the telephone. The phone was answered by Mrs. Bowker.

"You can't see Mr. Bowker now," she said. "He's working nights."

"O," said the reporter, "that's on account of his shooting that young negro, isn't it?"

"Yes."

"Have they locked him up?"

"O, no; he comes home every night," replied Mrs. Bowker. "If you have to see him, come around in the morning."

CALLS NEW YORK MILK BAD.

Secretary of Committee Says Lactic Fluid Sold in Swell Restaurants Is Not Fit to Drink.

New York, Aug. 28.—[Special.]—According to a report made today by the New York milk committee to the department of health, the grade of milk sold in the big hotels and expensive restaurants is not fit to drink. The only difference between a glass of milk sold at some of these hotels and milk purchased at a corner grocery in the tenement district is the price, says Paul E. Taylor, secretary of the milk committee. Publication of the list of places where the milk sold was found to contain from 1,000,000 to 90,000,000 bacteria in each cubic centimeter would, Taylor says, disturb the digestion of many business men and lawyers who have been on a hot weather diet of crackers and milk.

CHILD VICTIM OF AN ATTACK.

Stranger Decoys 13 Year Old Girl Into Vacant House on the North Side.

The police and relatives of Edith Kedney, who is 13 years old and lives at 2213 Sheffield avenue, are searching for a well dressed man about 35 years old who lured the girl to a vacant house and attacked her yesterday. The girl is in a serious condition at her home.

INQUIRY INTO COAL PRICES

Government Wants to Know Who Profits by Increased Cost.

REPORT ORDERED BY HOUSE.

Department of Commerce and Labor Directs Investigation.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 28.—A report to disclose who is profiting from the present high price of coal is promised for the house of representatives by the department of commerce and labor on Dec. 2 next. Secretary Nagel has designated Commissioner Charles P. Neill of the bureau of labor to investigate in conformity with the resolution adopted by the house shortly before adjournment.

Commissioner Neill has made several trips out of the city in search of information and is away now. When he returns on Sept. 10 it is expected he will have sufficiently explored the field so that the trained investigators of the bureau may begin work in a systematic method to gather the desired details.

Recent Increase in Price.

The principal object of the inquiry is to discover how much the cost of coal to the general consumer has been increased as a result of the recent strike in the anthracite regions of Pennsylvania, to which fields the inquiry was specially directed. Representative Diffenderfer of Pennsylvania recently said the anthracite operators had added 25 cents a ton to the price of coal at retail.

In conjunction with the inquiry as to how much the price of coal was increased, Commissioner Neil is expected to ascertain for what reasons and by what means the cost was raised.

Another line of inquiry will be to determine how much the miners were benefited by the strike agreement. In support of the resolution it was argued that the miner did not get nearly all the increase paid by the general consumer.

Case Pending in Court.

Before the report is submitted to the house the Supreme court of the United States probably will have handed down its decision as to the legal situation in the Pennsylvania anthracite fields.

These legal questions arise out of the suit brought by the government against an alleged illegal combination of railroads and railroad coal companies, charged with seeking to monopolize the coal trade in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

FILES SUIT FOR $500,000 IN STEWART BUILDING CASE.

John C. Patterson Names Attorney Noble B. Judah, Edward A. Shedd, Chas. B. Shedd, and Others.

John C. Patterson, one of the fee owners of the Stewart building, yesterday brought suit for $500,000 against Attorney Noble B. Judah, Edward A. Shedd, Charles B. Shedd, Byron L. Smith, and the Northern Trust company.

The suit was filed by Attorney James Hamilton Lewis and follows the recent decision of Judge Richard E. Burke, who in an opinion held that Shedd had no legal right to a leasehold on the property. Shedd acquired the leasehold through buying up the stock of the Merrimac Building company, which was alleged to own a long time lease on the land. By the judge's opinion the leasehold reverts to the fee owners, who will have to reimburse Shedd for the money he has invested.

"It is the same old story," Mr. Judah said last night. "Mr. Patterson fought against the leaseholders for years and a number of times was turned down by the Supreme court. He owns one-twelfth of the fee in the land on which the Stewart building stands. We have no fear of the outcome of the case. I am surprised to hear the Northern Trust company, the trustee, is made a party defendant, for it was the trustee he was enjoined from suing."

Judge Burke returned yesterday from his vacation to give his critics an opportunity to make personal objections. Mr. Shedd, the losing litigant in the case, and his attorney, H. S. Mecartney, both of whom criticised the court last week, did not visit Judge Burke.

Body Found in Calumet Identified.

The body found in the Calumet river near One Hundred and Fifteenth street on Monday was identified yesterday as that of Harry Havens, a bookkeeper, whose home was in St. Louis. The police believe he may have been the victim of holdup men.

Charity Bazaar to Be Given.

Arrangements for a charity bazaar for the benefit of old and indigent residents of Chicago were discussed in Hotel La Salle yesterday by the German Charity association of Chicago. The association was organized twenty-seven years ago by Mrs. M. Sommer, who was for twelve years its president. Its purpose is to provide for old and indigent men and women, regardless of race or creed. The association is affiliated with the Chicago association of Commerce and with the United Charities of Chicago, but much of its work is along independent lines. It was decided to hold the bazaar on the nineteenth floor of Hotel La Salle on Oct. 29, 30, and 31. Twenty booths will be erected in the red room and a German village, card games, and a vaudeville show will be provided on the roof garden. Mrs. Paul Gerhardt is chairman of the bazaar committee and Mrs. Herman Seibt, vice president of the association, is chairman of general arrangements. Mrs. Ida Schrader is president of the organization and Horace Brand, treasurer.

Approves Drama as Aid to Church.

WINONA LAKE, Ind., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—The utilizing of the drama by the church was advocated at the Winona Bible conference today by the Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, pastor of First Congregational church, Topeka, Kas., author of several volumes, one of which has been dramatized.

"The dramatic instinct is present in every person to some degree," he said, "and cannot be rubbed out. The saloon can be abolished, because the appetite for drink is abnormal, but a desire for the drama is natural and normal.

"I use the drama with a serious purpose. When my young people began practicing for the drama 'In His Steps' they regarded it as merely an entertainment and were inclined to treat it in a trivial way, but as they proceeded they became serious and the effect on them was uplifting.

"If one of my young people should write such a play as 'The Servant in the House' or even act in such a drama in the theater, I would feel he was doing a good thing.

"We must discriminate concerning the theater as we do in the matter of our reading. We do not believe in reading all kinds of books. I have requested my people, if they attend any play at a public theater, to get up and leave at once if anything of a vulgar or suggestive character appears. I ask them to do this openly, so it will be known why they are leaving, and to make their reason for leaving known at the box office, and to follow up the matter with an explanatory letter to the management.

"I wish ministers all over the country would join in such a movement. The effect in favor of the right kind of drama would soon be felt. We have nearly lost our right to the name of Protestant, because of our failure to protest when we are in the presence of wrong."

Dr. Sheldon advocated the requiring of health certificates from parties seeking marriage.

"There are 100 ministers in Kansas," he said, "who have agreed to abide by this requirement. I expect Kansas will pass a law making the same requirement. When neither the church nor the state will allow improper marriages we will be able to protect society."

Another innovation he advocated was only one regular preaching service on Sunday.

Bishop E. H. Hughes of the Methodist Episcopal church advocated the observance of a more Christian spirit toward the immigrant.

"If we think the foreigner who comes to our shores owes us a debt because of what our ancestors have done in founding and building up this republic," he said, "we owe the foreigner a debt for what his ancestors have done for us. Copernicus, Comenius, Jan Huss, Sobieski, Kosciusko, Pulaski were all Slavs and we owe them a debt we can never pay."

Club House for Bible Class.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 28.—A. J. Drexel Biddle is seeking a site for a permanent clubhouse for his Bible classes. A building to accommodate about 5,000 students will be erected. More than 3,000 students are already enrolled. As soon as he has secured a site for a clubhouse here Mr. Biddle intends to establish similar headquarters for his classes in Providence, R. I.

New American Cardinal.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—The pope is about to create a new American cardinal, who is to reside in Rome, according to a special dispatch received here. He will occupy a position similar to that of the prelates representing France and Spain in Rome. It is also stated the pope later will create a cardinal in Latin America, probably Mexico.

Economical Housekeeping.

Grape Jelly and Juice.

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

GRAPE jelly, when we can get a large basket of grapes for 14 or 15 cents, or perhaps 12, or even at 20 cents and more, is undoubtedly one of the most economical of all jellies, except apple, perhaps, and the most wholesome.

It is rather a pity that the grapes earliest in the market, which are the best for jelly making, because not very ripe, are two or three times as expensive as those that arrive later. The later ones make a jelly that is good, but it is darker in color and not the beautiful red of that of the earlier grapes.

There are those who make their grape jelly with pure grape juice without dilution. Others cook their grapes with water about a third the depth of the fruit, in order to extract the juice, while others use water enough to cover the fruit.

Some people think they dislike grape jelly, when, as a matter of fact, they but dislike the muddy, undiluted sort. There is a disadvantage in using too much water, for it has to be boiled out, and long boiling may be detrimental to the jelly. It is bound to be, if this long boiling is done after the sugar is put in.

Perhaps it is safest to boil the juice twenty minutes, then add the sugar, and boil just enough to set it, as it were. This may not be more than five minutes.

It is no more necessary to let grape juice drip over night from a bag than it is to use only the pure juice. It but prolongs the task, and makes jelly making seem hateful to those who like to do a thing and get through with it. The whole business may be done in two hours, or less, with hardly a perceptible waste.

A good, well keeping, and handsome grape jelly may be made within an hour from the time the grapes commence to cook. A good strainer with a suitable cloth over it is all that is needed.

The pulp that remains may be put through the strainer without the cloth, and cooked with an equal amount of sugar for a grape marmalade, which must be stirred in cooking or it will burn on. By utilizing this by-product—the marmalade may be used at once or canned—there is no waste.

Grape juice without sweetening is but the intermediate stage in jelly making, and, if put up with care, not only makes a more refreshing drink than the sweetened (that is, many people find this true), but it may then be used any time for jelly.

Grape Juice.—Remove the grapes—purple ones, the Concords—from the stems; wash thoroughly, cover with water, cook until the grapes break and the pulp is cooked, strain, heat, and, while boiling hot, pour into sterilized bottles, and seal. If the bottles or jars are thoroughly sterilized, the juice will keep for weeks and months. When ready to make jelly of, pour it out carefully or siphon it off, so as to avoid any sediment there may be. Any kind of fruit, no sugar needed, may be preserved in grape juice. This is a particularly good way to put up sweet plums, apples, and pears.

The use of grape juice increases every year. It is a splendid food, and pleasant adaptations of it for desserts are being worked out every day. A great deal has been done since the publication of farmers' bulletin No. 175, on "Home Manufacture and Use of Unfermented Grape Juice," but that is valuable for the discussion of the causes of fermentation and methods of preventing it, as well as for other things.

Its manufacture in large quantities is described with appliances, its composition, flavor and quality, its food value and its use. There are also recipes for grape nectar, an invalid drink; grape punch, grape sherbet, grape ice cream, syllabub, and Bohemian cream.

Lights and Shadows of the Day.

ANYBODY who wants to make $25 a day can do so without work of any kind in Chicago. The pay is certain, for the city still has some money on hand, and it is the city that will have to pay.

Judge Going has announced he would allow any prisoner brought before him $25 for every day he had been confined in the South Clark street station lockup. The judge said this after he had inspected the place.

John McCarthy of Ontario was brought before the court on a disorderly conduct charge. McCarthy had been arrested at the Clark street entrance of the city hall, where he had gone to sleep Saturday night after a hard day's work. He was held for two nights in the South Clark street dungeon.

"The city owes you $50," said the court to McCarthy, "and you are discharged. I will allow any one brought before me $25 for every night he is locked up in that place."

Judge Going discharged seven other men brought before him on disorderly charges. They had all been in jail over night and therefore had a pay check of $25 each on the city due them.

It is not reported that any of the discharged prisoners have collected their wages yet.

THERE is one Chicagoan who is not quite sure whether or not "it pays to advertise." Some weeks ago Dave Lewis, the actor, bought a French bull dog, separating himself from 125 hard earned dollars. Last week the dog, while enjoying an automobile ride with Mr. Lewis, jumped from the car and disappeared.

A long chase proved the dog had fleeter legs than the actor. Then Mr. Lewis put an "ad" in THE TRIBUNE, offering a reward for the return of his dog. Next morning came a telephone call to Mr. Lewis' apartment at the Hotel Union.

"I have your dog at Nineteenth street and Kedzie avenue. Come and get him and bring the reward."

Mr. Lewis cranked up his car and started for the west side. A puncture and engine trouble delayed him. Then he saw the dog. The one lost was brown with a white spot. This was white with a brown spot.

"Home again," said Lewis to his car, and downtown it toddled him. Another call was waiting for him.

"I have your dog at Evanston and Graceland avenues," was the message.

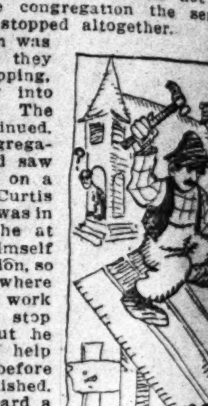

Another long trip. Another puncture. And this dog was not even a bulldog but was a fox terrier. Mr. Lewis went home to meet a third call. This time from Forty-fifth street and Indiana avenue. A third trip. A third wrong dog.

"No more 'ads' for me," muttered Lewis, as he drew up in front of his hotel for the third time that morning. "Let the dog go."

And there, wagging what answered for a tail, was the missing dog in front of the hotel.

"I guess the dog saw the paper and could read better than the others that called me up," is Mr. Lewis' comment.

SERVICES in the German church at One Hundred and Fourteenth street and Curtis avenue were interrupted Sunday forenoon. If John Beemster, one of the city building inspectors, had not been a member of the congregation the services might have been stopped altogether.

The congregation was at devotion when they heard some tapping, which soon grew into loud pounding. The pounding continued. Some of the congregation went out and saw two men working on a porch at 11355 Curtis avenue. Beemster was in the church, and he at once bethought himself of his official position, so he went over to where the men were at work and attempted to stop the annoyance, but he had to call for help from the police before this was accomplished.

"At first we heard a tapping, just a gentle tapping," said Beemster. "Then it grew louder. I was quietly praying at the time, and it made me good and sore to have my devotions interrupted, so I went out and spoke to the men.

"I asked them if they had a permit. They said they did not. Then I told them they would have to get one from the building inspector's office. Still they kept on, so I called the Kensington police station. When the men saw the wagon coming they ran, but they were caught. We then went back to the church."

THREE fashionably attired women left the office of the clerk of the Superior court together yesterday. As they stepped into the corridor of the county building there came an unmistakable sound of ripping.

The sound was not plain—it was as though laces and silks had subdued it—but nevertheless it was unmistakable. The three women stopped suddenly, all made involuntary grasps toward their skirts, and then stood upright, looking defiantly at each other.

Just then Charles Shearman, chief clerk of the Superior court, passed. He saw that something was wrong. Glancing down at the floor he noticed a small white object. Picking it up he gallantly offered it to the women.

"Did one of you ladies drop this?" he inquired with a smile. One woman sniffed as she walked away. Another looked indignant and she, too, was gone.

No. 3 blushed, stammered once or twice, and then with a faint "No, thank you," she fled down the corridor.

And then Mr. Shearman went to his office and laid a woman's garter on his desk.

"I wonder which one lost it," he said.

MORE MONEY AND CLOTHING IS SENT TO EVICTED WOMAN.

Generous Chicagoans Hasten to the Relief of Mother of Six Children Who Was Deserted by Her Husband.

A total of $44 has been donated by Chicagoans since Monday to aid Mrs. Nellie Kaczmarek who was ejected from her residence last week with six small children because she was unable to pay the rent.

A Chicago business man sent THE TRIBUNE a check for $5 Tuesday, another mailed $1, and H. C. Parker sent another dollar. J. H. Rand Jr. requested THE TRIBUNE to give Mrs. Kaczmarek $10. The money was delivered in the afternoon. She said that a woman sent her $1 and had expressed her intention of sending more.

Mrs. and Mr. J. Kaczancwski, living at 1254 North Ashland avenue, called at 2325 North Hoyne avenue, where Mrs. Kaczmarek is staying until she finds a room, and expressed a desire to adopt on of the six children.

Mrs. Kaczmarek called Eugenie, 4 years old, to her side.

"Would you want to leave me and live with this nice woman?" she asked of the girl.

The child looked at the visitor and then at her mother.

"No," she answered, burying her head in her mother's lap. The others, too, refused.

"You see," said the mother, "they want me."

A woman, who refused to give her name went to the house in the morning and left a suitcase full of clothes.

THE TRIBUNE received a letter from Mrs. Kaczmarek yesterday, expressing gratitude for its aid and saying that a man calling himself a "tramp printer" had given her $3. "He also promised," wrote Mrs. Kaczmarek, "to give me $1.50 a week if eleven others would do the same, until I can regain my health."

URGES CONCENTRATION STUDY OVER VOCATIONAL EDUCATION.

Superintendent of New York Schools Asserts Pupils Fail to Receive Training in Modern Day Methods.

Vocational education was condemned in favor of lessons in concentration as the chief essential for the elevation of present day methods of instruction by Dr. William H. Maxwell, superintendent of schools in New York, in an address at the third day's session of the Cook County Teachers' institute in Wendell Phillips high school yesterday.

"Pupils should be taught to concentrate their minds on a series of studies, and not on one individual department," he said. "Such a method would reduce to oblivion many salient features of present day teaching.

"In the child instinct rules, while the average adult is governed by habit. We can establish new habits and reform old ones. Habits generally are formed involuntarily, and while they are not bad they are wasteful. The unnatural habit, or the habit formed by the exertion of will power, is beneficial."

Dr. Maxwell, who has been identified with public education work in New York for forty years, said business men disprove educational methods now in vogue, on the theory that pupils fail to receive adequate training.

SEEKS DIVORCE FOR CRUELTY.

Mrs. Robert S. Lucas Files Suit, Demanding Alimony of from $500 to $750 a Month.

Mrs. Marie Lucas yesterday filed suit for divorce from Robert S. Lucas, a paint and oil dealer, said to be worth $250,000. She charges habitual drunkenness and cruelty. The couple were married in 1895 and have three children, the oldest a girl of 16 years. Mr. Lucas formerly was manager of the firm of John Lucas & Co. at 1521 South Morgan street. Mrs. Lucas asks alimony of from $500 to $750 a month.

The Street Called Straight

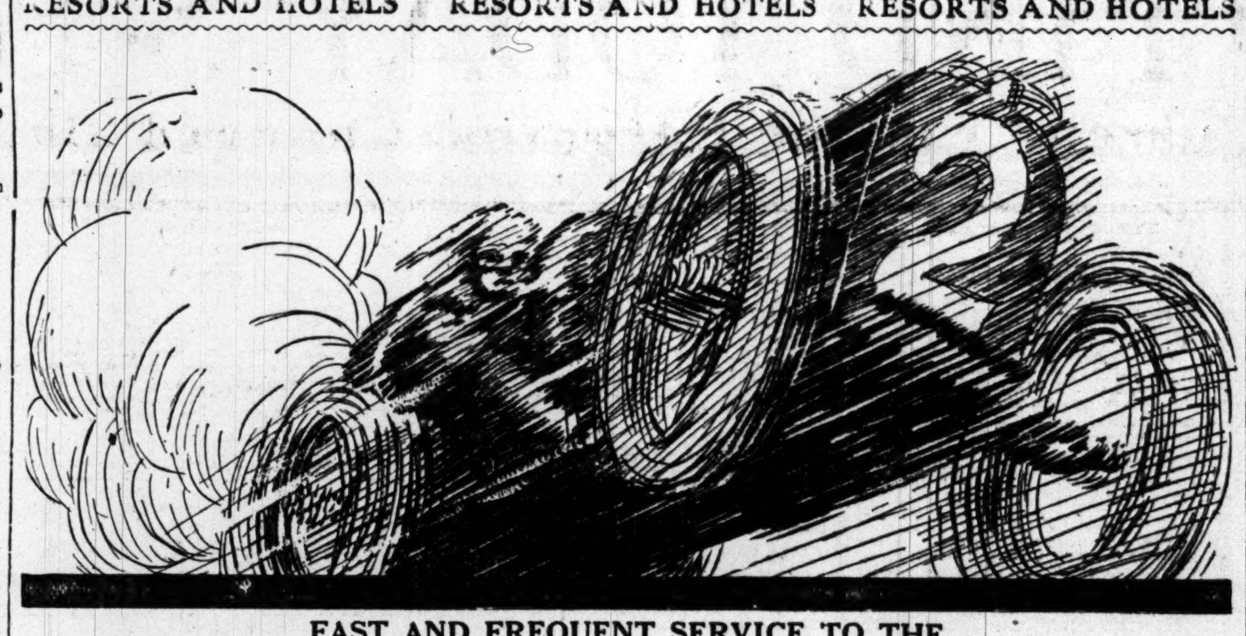

By the Author of "THE INNER SHRINE"

On the very best authority it is stated that "The Street Called Straight" is now the best-selling novel in the United States. "The story is one of tense emotional situations, treated with restraint and good taste and deep psychological insight."—Times (New York). "Standing out above the mass of recent fiction, the plot is a subtle study in character and the end is a happy one. It is one book in a thousand."—Evening Express (Portland, Me.). Little Quips and Quirks.

A Bunkephone Talk with the Officer of the Port.

BY RICHARD HENRY LITTLE.

HELLO, Central! Get me the Naval Officer of the Port of Chicago?

. . . .

Hello! Is this Admiral Torbet?

. . . .

I see; I didn't know whether you should be called admiral or commodore. I just knew that you were the United States naval officer.

. . . .

I see. Well, what I wanted to ask is why is a naval officer of Chicago?

. . . .

Well, I saw in the papers that you had succeeded Admiral Jamieson as naval officer of the port, and I thought it would be a grand little idea to find out why is a naval officer of Chicago.

. . . .

O, you say you have just been installed and that I had better ask Admiral Jamieson, who held the job for eight years and ought to know more about it than you do. All right. Is the admiral aboard?

. . . .

O, yes; he is there, signing papers and transferring the office. Well, pipe all hands to quarters or keel-haul the after bow line or do something nautical and get the admiral to the wire.

. . . .

Hello! Admiral Jamieson, how do you feel about stepping down from the bridge of your gallant ship and living a tame life ashore after eight years as naval officer?

. . . .

Well, admiral, I just thought it must seem hard on a tough old sea dog like you to take down your flag and go over the side and see another in command of your ship.

. . . .

I didn't get all of that. I wanted to get some of your thrilling experiences, admiral, since you've been naval officer. I want you to tell me weird tales of the sea and how many times you've been shipwrecked, and how you love to sail the briny deep, and that your bonny ship's your lassie, yea, ho, lads, ho, ye ho!

. . . .

No, not at all; you've been the naval officer here in Chicago for eight years, haven't you? Well, you ought to have a lot of yarns to spin. Tell me about the raging billows on the corner of Madison and State streets and the dangerous coral reefs of Michigan avenue, and how one time when cruising around Wabash and Randolph streets you had to send all hands aloft to shorten sail, and how the wind came so hard you carried away the foretop gallant studding sail and mizzentop gallant sail and the port anchor and four cans of sardines out of the cook's galley, and how you had to clew haul the compass and take a couple of reefs in the chronometer.

. . . .

Well, you were the naval officer, weren't you? I want you to tell me how you had to maroon the mutineers off the lonely island at Dearborn and Adams streets and double shot the guns and fill the barrels with scalding water and pipe all hands to stand by and repel boarders when rounding the Art Institute. Come on, admiral, spin us a few yarns of your eight years on the raging main in Chicago.

. . . .

O, I see; the proper title is naval officer of customs of the Chicago districts. O, you collect the customs. I see; that is, if people try to smuggle cigars in from Bloomington or bring in a lot of poetry concealed in the double lining of their trunks, if they have sailed from Indiana, or if they arrive at the dock in Chicago with a lot of diamonds which they are trying to slip in from Butternut Grove, Ia., without paying the duty, you have to seize the goods and imprison the smugglers. Is that it?

. . . .

Hello! Do you hear me, admiral? Well, you didn't answer, and I thought you had left the phone. I want you to tell me about how you catch the smugglers. Suppose a boat load of people comes in from, say, Springfield, Ill., and that you have reason to believe they are concealing a lot of gold rings and paving brick and thrashing machines and things like that, how do you apprehend them? And if a person sails from Aurora, Ill., or Beloit, Wis., or Kansas City, Mo., for Chicago and your agents in these foreign seaport towns have cabled you that the emigrants and tourists are sneaking a lot of empty milk cans and cook stoves into Chicago concealed in their hats and their stockings, how do you capture these people and make them pay the duties?

. . . .

Well, that's what I would understand a naval officer of customs of Chicago would do. There's a salary of $5,000 connected with the office, and I know a man has to do a lot to earn $5,000.

. . . .

Well, I know, but that is what I am trying to get at—what does the naval officer of customs of Chicago do to earn $5,000?

. . . .

Well, at least you have to open an envelope every month and take out your pay check, don't you, and you have to walk 'way over to the bank and cash it? But what—hello! hello! Say, Central, did you cut me off? I was talking to the naval officer of Chicago. Well, call them again.

. . . .

What's that? They won't answer? All right. Good-by!

Comment and Advice by Laura Jean Libbey.

Girls Who Cannot Take a Vacation

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY.

[Copyright: 1912: By Laura Jean Libbey.]

WHILE one-half of the world of women are studying the advertisements to decide if it is to be the seashore, the mountains, or just the plain old fashioned farm house to which they will go for their vacation, an equally large army of women turn their eyes resolutely away from those alluring columns. The latter cannot afford to take a summer vacation.

These usually are the women who are bread winners. It is easy for those who do not understand the situation of others to declare that every working woman should be compelled to take a week off for her vacation during the warm weather.

It goes without saying that ninety-nine women out of a hundred need the change most pitifully. But these women's shoulders are so heavily burdened that they would be put in hard straits if their pay were to be stopped for even a week. If the landlord would but give them a week's respite when rent day rolled around, and the butcher and the baker would cut their prices they might afford themselves a few days of rest and change.

While the world lasts there will be the rich and the poor. Those whom the gods have favored abundantly should set aside from their goodly store a small amount for the benefit of those less fortunate, that it might be possible for every wage earner to be able to get a week's outing without the loss of the stoppage of wages.

But to return to existing conditions: The young woman who realizes that there is to be no vacation for her should valiantly put the longing from her. She should force herself to look upon the sunny side and to believe whatever is best. What girl can foresee the kind hand of fate in it?

She must not forget that in the city, the town, and the hamlet there are a large number of young men who are lonely because of the absence of relatives and friends. A bond of sympathy draws them together.

They meet unexpectedly, on a Sunday in the park or of an evening, and are introduced by mutual friends. Their romance is just as happy as that of other couples at crowded seashore hotels or mountain resorts.

There it is often said that there are a dozen girls or more for every man to while away their time with. There's too much gaiety for him to settle himself down to thoughts of matrimony.

This little plaint from a working girl has just reached me. She says in part: "I cannot take a vacation now, and I am so discouraged. I am employed in a store and my earnings must go to the support of my parents. I am all run down for want of outdoor air. I am sure to remain single because I can never meet any one to marry.
"BERTHA."

Dear heart, let me counsel you not to give way to despair. We are often blessed by what we consider is to bring a calamity to us. The girl who is hopeful and expectant is the girl who will win in life's battle. Help God by being cheerful and accepting His plans for your future good.

Another "Dearest Man In World."

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am in love with the dearest man in the world. We know each other only slightly as we meet at our place of business every day. Kindly advise me as to the best way to win his love. C. F. F."

Casserole of Meat and Rice.

ONE cup of cooked veal run through the meat chopper, one cup of tomatoes, one cup boiled rice, one cup white sauce. Butter a baking dish, put in a layer of rice, a layer of veal, salted and peppered, a layer of tomatoes, a layer of white sauce. Repeat and cover the top with buttered bread crumbs. Bake for one-half hour. (Kindness of A. N.)

Dustless Dusters.

"Some suggestions for the two 'Elizabeths' and others to whom the information may be useful:

"Dustless dusters are sold at the department stores. They are the most wonderful and useful articles you can imagine to dust furniture, shoes, and all sorts of things with, and still use the same duster. They are chemically treated pieces of cheesecloth, and are excellent household articles. I have used them constantly since they first were put upon the market, some four or five years ago. ROSA I. O."

Spanish Bun.

"The two recipes herewith inclosed are for the member who asked for directions how to make Spanish buns. You have had other replies, yet I venture to send in mine, perhaps emboldened by a knowledge of their excellence?

"One cup of butter, two cups of sugar, one cup of sweet milk, two of flour (full), four eggs, one tablespoonful of cinnamon. Into the milk put two teaspoonfuls of cream of tartar and beat in thoroughly one teaspoon of soda.

"For the icing boil until it 'hairs' nine tablespoonfuls of granulated sugar in two tablespoonfuls of water. Pour over the beaten white of one egg. Spread on the cake while warm. The cake should rise only level in the pan and be kept in the pan until eaten. This recipe will fill a small dripping pan.

Spanish Bun No. 2.

"Four eggs, one pint of flour, shaken down in the measure, one-half pint of granulated sugar, one teacup of sweet milk, one teacup of butter, one teaspoonful cinnamon, one teaspoonful cream of tartar, one teaspoonful vinegar stirred into the milk. Then beat thoroughly into the milk. One teaspoon soda. Bake in a flat pan; put on white icing and leave in the pan until cold. S. M. B."

* *

Casserole of Rice and Cheese.

With one cup of boiled rice mix one-half cup of grated cheese and one green pepper, chopped. Salt and pepper to taste. Over this mixture pour one cup of sweet milk and bake in a moderate oven for a half hour. (Kindness of A. N.)

Plaster of Paris Pictures.

"Some one wishes to know how to make plaster of paris pictures. If she means just paper pictures, here is the formula: Put the paper picture that you have ready into a dish in the center, but first grease the dish or wet it with cold water. This will keep the picture in place. Go over the picture (which should have the picture side down) with a soft cloth, so that drops of water will not wrinkle the work when it is finished, pressing gently and firmly. Pour in the plaster of paris, which should be of a creamy consistency, and leave until it hardens. Just before it hardens slip in a little hook, a piece of string or make a hole for the picture to hang up by. In the morning shake gently, turning the plate upside down, and it will be ready to hang upon the wall. An oval meat platter makes a nice shaped picture.
"MRS. H. S. G."

School for Librarians.

"To 'S. W. R.': An experienced library assistant takes the liberty of answering your query anent schools for librarians in the south. So far as I know, there is but one library school in the south. That is in Atlanta, Ga. The principal is (or was) Miss Anne Wallace. The St. Louis public library maintains a training class of workers to be used in that library. It is impossible to outline the kind of work one would be given to do, as that would depend in a measure upon the experience one had. No young girl not imbued with the spirit of enthusiasm for the work should go into it.

"If S. W. R. wishes to gain an idea of the kind of qualifications and knowledge required for entrance to most library schools, she could write to Miss M. W. Plummer, New York Library School, 476 Fifth avenue, New York City. This is the New York and Public Library building. Library workers today begin with about $45 a month, after having studied for two years. 'S. W. R.' should not undertake the work at all if she is not very strong. The hours are long and evening duty is required. H. E."

Eugene Field Poem.

"Replying to the request of 'Alma G.' for the poem by Eugene Field, I will say that the only poem referring to his dead child—is 'The Dead Babe,' which appears in the works of Eugene Field—Vol. 4; page 145, Scribner's edition, 1898. It does not contain the quotation she mentions. However, in Vol. 1, same edition, page 204, is a poem entitled "Sometime," which I think is the one she means. M. B."

Lillian Russell's Beauty Secrets.

By Lillian Russell

Lillian Russell's Answers.

LESA R.: I do not know of a permanent dye for lashes and brows, but consider mascara a good darkener. This is not a permanent dye. You can get it at any drug store. Be careful that you do not get it into the eyes.

R. C.: The following is a simple formula for hair curling fluid. Three ounces of quince seed juice, two drams of boric acid, one-half ounce of spirits of wine, and three ounces of water. Moisten the hair with this fluid before using the tongs or curlers. It will stay in curl several days.

MRS. E. L. P.: Your freckles are probably too deeply burned in to submit to buttermilk and lemon juice. That is only a mild bleach. I shall send you a formula for a stronger bleach if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope. The article you mention is proprietary and I do not recommend proprietary articles. I shall also send you a formula for cold cream, but cannot send you a formula for face powder. It is exceedingly hard to make. You can buy powders just as good and even better. I consider a good grade of rice powder about the best.

F. E. W.: A pretty way for a young girl to dress her hair is in three coils done low in the neck. This is a very girlish style. If your hair is long, another pretty way to arrange it is to divide it in half and make two braids; then coil the braids over the ears or put them around the head. It is hard for me to give advice to one whom I never have seen on how to arrange her hair, so I would suggest that you sit in front of your mirror and do it several different styles and then adopt the one you like best.

MRS. J. T.: If you would wash the eyes with a good eye wash after coming in from an automobile trip you would find great relief. I shall be glad to send you the formula for an excellent eye wash if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

D. E. S.: The thing above all others which the short woman must do is to avoid making her head appear too large. Arrange your hair in a simple fluffy coiffure, high or medium high. It is hard for me to give advice about dressing the hair, but I would suggest that you sit in front of your mirror and do it up in several different styles and then adopt the style that is most becoming to you.

MISS H. T.: It is much easier to prevent tan and freckles than it is to remove them. When you tan or freckle easily protect your skin from the rays of the sun by first covering the face with a good cold cream, rubbing it well into the skin and then taking it off with a soft cloth and dusting with plain rice powder. Never go out into the sun without wearing a hat or shading your face. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall send you a bleach for freckles and tan, also a good cold cream.

B. T.: I shall mail you the recipe for a good shampoo for oily hair if you will send me a stamped addressed envelope. The habit of sleeping with the mouth open results in dull eyes and a sagging mouth which in time displaces the muscles of the jaw. You may correct the defect by passing a bandage over the head and under the chin at night for perhaps a month. Sleeping upon the right side instead of on the back will also help you to overcome the habit.

COURT SUMMONS TWO JUSTICES

Judge Owens Angered When Deputy Fails to Bring One of Them to Hearing.

ACCUSED BY MISS BROOKS.

Evidence Presented Involves Offices at Burnham and West Hammond.

When Miss Virginia Brooks yesterday showed County Judge Owens some original methods used in the offices of justices of the peace at West Hammond and Burnham the court immediately issued subpœnas for the two magistrates at those places. He was aroused by conditions revealed by the young woman reformer.

A deputy was unable to locate Justice Charles Wittenberg at Burnham. Another deputy found Justice Frank Green reading on the porch of his residence at West Hammond. "Judge" Green read the court order and stretched lazily.

"I'll be down in the morning," he yawned. "Tell the judge it's too hot to be moving around today."

Severely Censures Deputy.

The deputy reported this to the court. Judge Owens severely censured the deputy for not bringing in his man.

"I want both of you deputies to be here at 2 o'clock tomorrow," he ordered. "And you have those magistrates with you. If they refuse to bring their books, bring the men, and I'll find out why my orders are not obeyed."

From the evidence placed in the hands of Assistant County Attorney Thomas Johnson by Miss Brooks and Attorney Perry S. Patterson, Mr. Johnson believes the justices have been absolute monarchs, ruling a small territory in southern Cook county. He never dreamed, he said, such conditions could exist.

Justices are required to make yearly reports to the county superintendent of schools of fines collected. Justice Wittenberg reported he collected no fines between April 1, 1910, and March 31, 1912. For the year ending February, 1911, Justice Green reported fines of $5. For the year ending March 1, 1912, he reported fines of $50.

Report Cases That Get Publicity.

"It appears the justices have reported fines only in cases which have received publicity," said Mr. Johnson. "What became of the fines unreported only the justices can explain. We have evidence that Justice Green fined inmates of disorderly houses $1 and then refused to fine the keepers. This was done probably because the law provides for increased fines for keepers for repeated offenses and makes it a penitentiary offense.

"Fred Sonnestein, who was thrown out of a place owned by Billy Stevens, striking his head on the walk, died. Stevens admitted he pushed Sonnestein, but he was freed by Green.

"Green held court one Sunday and dismissed without hearing any evidence in the case of P. E. Lennan, arrested for disorderly conduct."

Discrepancies in Record Found.

An audit of Green's books by Mahony, Jackson and company states there is $163 to be accounted for. The following comment is made on Green's records:

"The magistrate's records are not written up chronologically. A case may be recorded two or three months after it was heard. We could not find any record of the first seventeen cases named in the police record. The magistrate's record differs vitally with the police record."

German-Americans to Meet.

The Illinois State Association of the National German-American Alliance will meet in Rockford on Saturday. Several hundred delegates from all parts of the state will be present, representing 20,000 German-American citizens. The local alliance will be represented by 100 delegates.

Four of Chance's Men Cross the Plate Before St Louis Players Finally Retire Locals.

LAVENDER AND SALLEE ON SLAB

BY SAM WELLER.

By means of a vicious assault in the first inning that drove four runs home, the Cubs were barely able to nose out a victory over Roger Bresnahan's Cardinals yesterday afternoon at the west side. The score was 5 to 4 and the Cubs gained half a combat on the Giants, who were idle, thereby cutting the gap to five games.

The great feature of the game was the home run drive of Heine Zim in the first inning. Heine got a full swing at a fast one, and Young Magee, out in left field, was seen to turn and run for the fence as fast as his legs could carry him. There was a crash away out there, and the ball was seen to bound up against the big TRIBUNE signboard over the bleacher seats and fall back upon the field, where Magee picked it up and hurled it back in time to make Heine stop at third base. But the umpire ruled the ball had gone over the bleacher fence and bounced out, so Heine was permitted to amble on home.

Secretary Williams, who has been employed at the west side park since the days when Anson had the team there, declares it is the first time in all these years that a ball has been hit into that bleacher, so Heine is entitled to a record. Anyway, no one disputed the word of Mr. Williams.

That Homer Needed Later.

If it hadn't been for that damaging attack in round one, however, the Cubs might have been mourning the loss of another game, for the pesky Cardinals hung on like mad and finished strong. In fact, the run needed to tie the score was on second base in the ninth inning waiting for a base hit to drive it home. The base hit didn't come and the Cubs possessed the glory.

"Slim" Sallee, the lanky southpaw hurler, was on the slab as usual when the Cardinals open a series here. Five hits, one of which was a triple by Jerry Downs and one the tremendous home run by Heine Zim, put the game in the Cubs' hands in round one after the Cardinals had started off with a lead of one run. Those wallops would have been sufficient to have driven many a hurler to cover, but "Slim" Sallee stuck, got the side out, and then pitched invincible ball for the balance of the game.

Rather he held the west side team to nothing from the second to the end of the seventh, and then gave his place at bat to a pinch hitter with hope of starting a rally. The rally went through, too, and the Cards got a couple of tallies, putting them within one of the Cubs. Then Rube Geyer came to the slab and the Cubs belted in another run.

Rally Checked in Time.

It was well they did, for the Cardinals came back pugnaciously in the ninth and whaled home one run, but were cut off before they could get a second one over and tie the count.

For the Cubs, Jimmy Lavender was on the mound and worked in dandy form for seven rounds. A couple of wallops off him in the first sent a St. Louis man home, then he tightened up beautifully and held things in his own hands until the eighth, when an error opened the way for an attack, and before the enemy could be repulsed two runs were over. Jimmy went back in the ninth and managed to stick the game out and win with a one run margin, getting some sharp fielding support to turn the trick.

Just preceding Zim's drive, Jerry Downs, who was subbing for Capt. Tinker, had landed one out against the left wall for a triple, driving home one run that tied the score, so Heine's homer sent Downs home and put the Cubs two runs to the good. A base on balls and two singles followed that, putting the Cubs three ahead, and it looked as if the three run margin would be plenty to win. However, it turned out that they needed the other run obtained in the eighth on a long three base belt by Frank Schulte, followed by a sacrifice fly, for the Cardinals revived in the final two rounds and ripped through the Cubs' defense for three tallies.

Cards Tally at Start.

A bit of luck enabled the Cardinals to get off in front with one run in the first inning. Miller Huggins led off with a carom off Lavender's glove for a single. Magee sacrificed. Smith grounded out to Evers, putting Huggins on third. Koney followed with a roller right at Evers, but it took a funny bound and jumped over him for a single, letting Huggins score. Evans closed the round with a fly to Leach.

Sheckard began for Chicago with a bounce over the pitcher's head for a single, and took second when Schulte grounded out to Huggins. Downs followed with a drive to left center for three bases, scoring Sheckard. Then Heine Zim landed his record home run into the left field bleacher, sending Downs in ahead of him. Leach got a base on balls and Saier bounced a nasty one to the left of the pitcher. Sallee pawed at it for a while, then got it and tossed too late to first base to get Saier. He also tossed it wildly, and the ball rolled to the grandstand, letting Leach go to third and Saier to second. Evers cut a hot single to left field, scoring Leach, but Saier was stopped at third. Magee was playing in close and would have thrown him out at home. Archer slapped one right at Huggins, and a double play ended the assault.

Sharp fielding and dandy pitching on each side prevented any scoring from then until the eighth inning. In that time the Cardinals made only three base hits, well scattered, off the "stuff" Lavender was handing them, and the Cubs made only two scattered singles off "Slim" Salee's widespreading curves and crossfire.

Breshns Hens Score Two.

It looked like the game would end without further fireworks, but in the first of the eighth, after one was out, Roger sent Rube Ellis to hit for Sallee and Rube reached first base when Downs made a wide throw that pulled Saier off the bag. Huggins forced Ellis at second, making things look easy, but Magee came up just then with a great drive to the far corner of right field for three bases, scoring Huggins.

Smith followed this with a liner right at Lavender's nose, and in order to save his nose he stuck his hands in front of the ball. He couldn't hold it because it was so hot, and it went on over his head, taking his cap with it. Downs made a gallant effort to get the man, scooping the ball out by second base and shooting to first, but Smith was there ahead of him and Magee had scored. With the slugging Koney at bat, Smith then tried to steal second so he could score the tying run should Koney make a safe hit, but Smith was shot out by fifteen feet on Archer's good peg and the inning was over.

With Geyer pitching in the last of the eighth the Cubs scored another run. Schulte, first up, laced out a safe one to left field. Magee played the ball badly and it bounced over him and rolled to the fence for a triple. Downs produced a fly ball to Evans and Schulte raced home after the catch. Heine Zim was hit by a pitched ball and went to first, but with the call three and two on Leach Tommy fanned and Heine was caught stealing for a double play that retired the side.

Koney then opened the ninth for St. Louis with a single. He moved to second when Saier made a great scoop of Evans' hot grounder and raced to the bag ahead of the man. Hauser got an infield single on a bounder that Heine Zim knocked down, Koney going to third. Oakes bounced one at Saier and Vic leaped in the air and pulled it down, then beat the runner to the bag, but Koney was over the home plate and Hauser on second. Wingo ended the game with a grounder to Evers.

THEY KEEP HANGIN' ROUND.

SAM WELLERISMS.

The second combat with the Cardinals will be played today.

Richie or Reulbach is the probable pitcher for the Cubs and no one can pick the probable one for St. Louis.

Vic Saier did a lot of good business around first base in the defensive end of the game. He was credited with sixteen putouts and he had to take some ugly thrown balls among the lot.

James P. Archer, prince of the mask, fell off terribly in his batting. After getting 1.000 per cent for two days, he hit into two double plays and fanned once in three times up yesterday.

Roger Bresnahan is well fortified in numbers for the present series. He has thirty-four athletes registered at the hotel, about ten of them being promising recruits.

Heine Zim's home run was his fourteenth of the season and the best one of the lot. Heine will have to go at a lively clip, however, to equal Schutle's mark of twenty-two for last year.

Ivy Wingo, the blonde catcher for the Cardinals, showed a great improvement over the playing he did early in the season. He nailed three out of four who tried to steal second on him yesterday, while in June the Cubs had great fun running the bases on him.

M. Brown, our famed pitcher, tried out his hook curve yesterday and found it working in good shape, so there's hope that he may save two or three games for us at the finish if those games will serve a purpose. His knee still is too stiff for active service on the slab.

For a substitute in the game Jerry Downs did a lot of business. He had nine fielding chances and was charged with one error when one of his throws was wide. It was a hard chance and he did well to get the ball. With the bat he drove in two of the five runs and scored another himself.

WHITE SOX FALL IN DEFEAT TWICE

Hose of Red End Eastern Invasion by Callahans in Disastrous Way.

SCORES, 5 TO 3 AND 3 TO 0.

Morris Rath Suspended, Adding to Troubles; Wood Wins Fourteenth Straight.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—A double defeat at the hands of the Red Sox wound up the last eastern trip of the White Stockings today in anything but the proverbial blaze of glory. Callahan's men were licked, 5 to 3, in the first half, and 3 to the absolute zero in the second.

The Sox left for the west tonight with an indefinitely suspended athlete in their midst in the person of Morris Rath, who is suffering for the deeds of an enemy named Carrigan. In yesterday's wrangle with Umpire Westervelt, when Weaver and Rath were chased, Carrigan, who was the cause of the trouble, sat on second base and hurled pebbles and sand at the bunch of kicking White Sox.

One of the larger pebbles hit Westervelt in the back of the neck and, suspecting Rath of the murderous deed, he reported to Ban Johnson the attempt on his life, and back came Ban with a telegraphic suspension. It did not reach Westervelt until the third inning of the first game, so after a consultation with Umpire O'Loughlin regarding the telegram Westervelt decided to let Rath finish that half of the scrap, as the game had started before the sentence arrived.

Bad Base Running Beats Sox.

Callahan's men ought to have won the first game and had a chance to break up the second game in one period, but wrecked all their best openings by poor base running by the youngsters in whom lie the hopes of the team for next year.

Joe Benz was sent against Buck O'Brien in the opener and met defeat, although he held the coming champions to four hits and the White Sox made twice as many. Benz contributed to his own defeat by issuing five bases on balls, and four of them were directly responsible for the runs the home team made in the third and fourth innings.

Ray Schalk, the diminutive backstop who caught the first game in spite of his bruises of yesterday, lost two outs at the plate after tagging his men. In both cases he dropped the ball. He would have got away with one of the slips if Umpire O'Loughlin had not wised up Westervelt, who did not see Schalk's second error and O'Loughlin was in the center of the infield when it happened. That shows how much better a good umpire can see from anywhere than a poor umpire can see even on top of the play.

Wood on Slab—What's the Use?

The second game was passed up by the White Sox when Joe Wood was announced to pitch and as a peace offering Willie Taylor was sent against him. In fact, Callahan had nobody else to use except White, as Ed Walsh was in citizen's clothing besides being too lame to work. The Texas pitching recruit gave Wood a battle as far as he went.

A cluster of three hits behind one of Taylor's frequent passes gave the Red Sox three runs in the fourth inning and that was all they could get. The White Sox made six hits off Wood and bunched three of them in the eighth inning without scoring a tally. That was how Wood won his fourteenth straight victory.

The visitors would have dodged the whitewash and might have made a bid for the game if Ernie Johnson, who played second in place of the innocent criminal, had not run head on into a double play which he might have avoided. But the same Ernie Johnson was responsible for two of Chicago's hits off Wood and without his stick they would not have had the opportunity to count. Weaver made two singles and the other pair fell to the lot of Mattick and Easterly, the pinch hitter.

Westervelt Misses Play.

In this game Umpire Westervelt gave another illustration of why he should be assigned to umpire the next world's series all alone. In the first inning Yerkes on first ran over second base, when Speaker hit a long, hard fly to Mattick. After the catch Yerkes circled back to first without going through the formality of retouching second. The White Sox made the play and claimed the decision, but Westervelt ruled against them. They made the mistake of not appealing to O'Loughlin, who saw the break and would have had to reverse his associate for the second time in one day.

Hooper attacked Benz with a three base hit to right in the first inning. He stuck to third while Rath threw out Yerkes, then scored easily on Speaker's fly to Lord. The White Sox tied this run in their third without anything that looked like a hit. Yerkes' fumble gave Weaver a life, Schalk popped out and Benz sacrificed. Rath hit to O'Brien, who posed a minute and then threw wildly to first. Weaver registered and Rath reached third. Mattick hit to O'Brien, who cut out the pose this time and got his man.

A spell of wildness gave Boston two runs and the lead in its half of the third. Benz passed O'Brien and Hooper with nobody out. Yerkes forced Hooper out and beat the double play. Speaker doubled to left scoring O'Brien and putting Yerkes on third. Lewis hit to Rath who cut off Yerkes at the plate, then Gardner doubled and gave Speaker a ride home. Engle was disposed of by Weaver.

Passes and Errors Help Red Sox.

In the fourth two more passes and two errors in quick succession by Schalk gave Boston two more runs. Wagner and Carrigan walked and O'Brien sacrificed them to third and second. Weaver took Hooper's bounder and pegged out Wagner at the plate, but the runner kicked the ball out of Schalk's hands after Westervelt had declared the out. The umpire reversed his decision. The ball rolled away a few yards and Carrigan came tearing in from third. Nobody covered the plate, so after recovering the ball Schalk had to make the play himself. He beat Carrigan to the pan and tagged him out and then dropped the ball again, but picked it up almost instantly and fired to Zeider retiring Hooper, who tried to make third on the catcher's double barreled error.

From there to the finish Benz held the Red Sox easily. He gave one more pass in the fifth, but caught the deadhead napping off first. The fourth and final hit off Benz was made by Gardner in the fifth. Only nine men faced Benz in the last three rounds he worked, but it was effort wasted.

The Callahans couldn't close the gap, because they lacked the weight. They grabbed two runs after two were out in the sixth. Bodie and Zeider singled and Weaver pulled a two bagger past Lewis, scoring his two predecessors. Schalk fouled out.

Good Start by Taylor.

In spite of three bases on balls, Taylor shut out the Red Sox in the second game without hit or run for three innings. In the third Cady was passed and was caught napping off first by Taylor. Wood walked and was forced at second by Hooper, who tried to steal, but was flagged.

In the third, with one down, Speaker walked, and the Red Sox pounded home three runs in no time. Lewis singled to center. Gardner hit one to right and the ball bounded over Ping's skull for two bases. Engle singled over Johnson's head and the three runs were in. Kuhn nailed Engle stealing second and Wagner popped out.

For seven innings the White Sox failed to get a man to second base off Wood, and in that time only three of them reached first alive. The one chance to beat him came in the eighth, which Weaver broke open with his second single. Kuhn popped out and Easterly, batting for Taylor, poked a single to left. Johnson came through with a clean single to center, but Speaker pounced on it in time to stop Weaver at third. With the bases full and Mattick up it looked promising. Mattick hit a bounder to Yerkes, who fielded it right in the base line, tagged Johnson, and tossed out Mattick at first, retiring the side.

SOX SYDELIGHTS.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—Cleveland is next in the line of march.

Zeider made two swell plays in succession in the seventh of the second game, robbing Engle and Wagner of base hits by one handed stops.

Rath's name will be spelled with a W next time he meets either Bill Carrigan or Umpire Westervelt in the dark.

Chicago won eight out of fourteen games from the eastern clubs on this trip, which is considerably better than their showing on their second invasion of this section.

The fans "Boo-ed" Ping Bodie every time he came to bat or went to the outfield. But when Ping singled in the sixth and again in the eighth of the first game the crowd cheered lustily, showing that he had friends in spite of the kidding.

The White Sox left for the west shortly before midnight. They are due to reach Cleveland tomorrow afternoon and are booked to play there on Friday and Saturday, returning home for a game with Detroit on Sunday.

One game out of three was about all the White Sox expected from the Beantown stars, but they got one victory and a draw out of four attempts. Also they ought to have won the first game today.

Harry Lord came back from his Maine home in time to play left field, but had a bad day of it at bat, as he failed to hit safely in either game. He stole a long hit from Wagner in the first game by catching the fly after falling flat on the bank that skirts left field.

Gardner staved off a White Sox run by a great play in the fourth of the first game. Lord walked and stole second after Collins and Bodie failed to advance him. Zeider cut a fast ball close to third. Gardner threw himself flat and smothered the hit, then got up and pegged Rollie out.

JOHNSON RECORD IS HALTED.

American League President Gives the Washington Pitcher Defeat on Monday and St. Louis Completes Job.

Contrary to expectations, President B. B. Johnson of the American league, who returned from the east yesterday, ruled that Pitcher Walter Johnson's winning streak was broken in the second St. Louis-Washington game on Monday. Mr. Johnson said:

"The winning run was made by St. Louis when Johnson was on the slab and the game will be recorded as a defeat. Johson made a wild pitch and a St. Louis batsman hit him for a single that sent home the deciding tally."

Inasmuch as St. Louis defeated Johnson yesterday the Washington "iron man" will not be disappointed by the official decision.

COMMISSION GIVES OUT LIST OF MINOR PLAYERS BOUGHT.

White Sox Land Many Recruits from Minors in Year—New Rule Holds Clubs to Thirty-five Men.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 28.—The national commission today gave out the list of players whose releases have been purchased by major league clubs from minor league clubs since Aug. 20, 1911, under agreements filed with and approved by the commission. The list does not include players recalled by major league clubs on Aug. 20, 1912, under optional agreements, which list was promulgated on Aug. 22. The players purchased by the Chicago clubs follow:

CHICAGO AMERICANS—From Macon, Douglas; Racine, Johnson; Galesburg, Ems and Dowling; Burlington, Bell; St. Joseph, Gossett and Johnson; Dubuque, Johnson; Vancouver, Clark; Des Moines, Douglass; Austin, McLarry and Taylor; Milwaukee, Schalk; St. Joseph, Borton; Birmingham, *Johnson; Lincoln, *Smith.

CHICAGO NATIONALS—From Scranton, Pierce; Louisville, Loudermilk.

*Agreements not received, and therefore subject to approval.

Accompanying the list was a warning to club owners that hereafter the commission would enforce strictly the rule which requires that the transfer of a player by or to a major club for immediate or future delivery must be submitted to the commission within a reasonable time.

The following regulations have been enacted by the commission to facilitate the enforcement of the national agreement restricting the number of players a major league club may carry on its annual reservation list of thirty-five, exclusive of the manager and of the players promulgated as ineligible:

"A major league club that has thirty-five eligible players on its roster on Sept. 15 will not be permitted to file a draft for a minor league player.

"Each major league club shall be represented at the meeting of the commission on the first day of the drafting period by an official with written autority to act for it, who shall file, prior to the commencement of the drafting of players, three copies of the complete list of all players to whom it has title.

"Sept. 16 will be the first day of the drafting period of this season.

"Each major league club shall annually submit to the president of its league on or before Sept. 10 a list of all of its players on that day.

"Interleague waivers, as required in section 11, article VI, of the national agreement, shall not be asked prior to Dec. 1, unless the player has been under contract for ten days and participated in one or more games with the club applying for waivers.

"The appearance of a player as an active member of his team for an inning or part of an inning of a championship contest will be construed by the commission as participation in 'one or more games' in compliance with the letter and spirit of this rule.

"The above provision applies to players purchased, repurchased, or drafted by major league clubs from minor league clubs, who report to the club securing them before the close of the season during which title to their services was obtained. A drafted player who does not so report cannot be released by the selecting club until he 'has been actually in its service during the following training or regular season,' as described in section 9, article VI, of the national agreement."

MOTORS REVOLVE AT RECORD SPEED

Experts Predict New Marks in Two Day Races Over Elgin Automobile Course.

DE PALMA TUNES UP CAR.

Bragg and Bruce-Brown Withdraw and Eddie Hearne May Pilot Second Fiat.

WARNING.

Activities of a motorcycle constable at Melrose Park have resulted in the fining of a number of motorists en route to and from Elgin. The speed limit is governed by the state law there and tourists are warned that it is rigidly enforced.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE.

BY REED L. PARKER.

Elgin, Ill., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—Thirteen racing motor cars took advantage of the improved course at Elgin today and proved by the regularity of their performances that course records will fall in most of the events on Friday and Saturday. No sensational time was made. The special cars, however, reeled off mile after mile with monotonous consistency. It is certain that the free for all and Elgin National will set new marks.

Ralph De Palma was out for the first time. Until the Italian's appearance the free for all was conceded to be a four cornered fracas between Tetzlaff, Bergdoll, Whalen, and Hughes. Now it looks as if De Palma would figure decidedly. In the Mercedes he drove at Indianapolis De Palma made several laps at seventy miles an hour.

Two Drivers Withdraw.

Caleb Bragg and David Bruce-Brown disappointed the promoters late this afternoon by withdrawing their entries. Brown's Fiat failed to arrive from France, and when offered the 120 Fiat Tetzlaff has in camp, his keenness for the race withered. Bragg had promised Fred Wagner personally and the promoters by telegraph that he would pilot the car which E. C. Patterson had promised to secure for him, but at the last minute he sent regrets.

Joe Dawson and Donald Herr arrived from Indianapolis, and for a scant hour it looked as if the speedway champion and the former Elgin winner might get the car. Dawson is under suspension by the A. A. A., but Referee David Beecroft was willing to telephone an appeal for his reinstatement to William A. Schimpf, chairman of the governing contest board, in case Tetzlaff would give him the car for the free for all. The Californian demurred, however, thus preventing the appearance of the Indianapolis victor.

Eddie Hearne of Chicago later announced he would drive the Fiat in the free for all event on Saturday. He first must receive consent from the owner of the machine. Hearne felt so confident that he would be an entrant in the race that he wired immediately for his mechanician.

The Stutz team performed quietly but gallantly. Gilbert Anderson, the former Chicagoan, and Charlie Merz breezed the sturdy little speedsters around the course without attempting anything startling. The two Indianapolis cars and the National, which Neil Whalen is driving, are the favorites for the Illinois trophy. While the Stutz drivers are making no pretensions they are worth watching in the Elgin National.

Mulford Hits High Speed.

Ralph Mulford had the Rayfield out for two laps. Mulford made seventy-five miles an hour without trouble. Hobbs, the man who was first selected to drive, is a stranger to road driving. An attempt will be made by Bill Rayfield designer of the machine, to get Mulford to take the car.

Mortimer Roberts, who won the light car race with an Abbott-Detroit last year, showed for the first time in his Mason. His work was not sensational, but thorough. Roberts is expected to win the trophy race. The Herreshoff, which is one of the Mason's contenders in the baby class, was out, but has too little speed to be a factor. Moe's Ford arrived too late for practice. It is the only other machine entered in the small race, and its ability is not known.

Clark's Mercedes was working better yesterday. Its work indicates that it will not be the black sheep. No lap time was taken on Clark, but his motor was barking encouragingly as he passed the stand.

Harry Branstetter, on whom has fallen the work of putting the course in condition, has performed wonders. By almost constant work between practice hours he has made the roadbed fairly smooth. The corners in recent years have been plowed by the stock cars, and it was feared that the big specials would furrow the turns even more. To offset this danger Branstetter has had the curves cemented. They now are in fine condition.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 28.—W. O. Westgard, official scout of the Glidden automobile tour committee, arrived here this afternoon in the Flanders electric in which he set out from Detroit several weeks ago, completing the pathfinding trip for the 1912 Glidden tour. The distance covered was 1,721.7 miles.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Aug. 28.—Aviator John D. Cooper, who arrived here today from Plainfield, N. J., met was a mishap in the first of his series of flights that wrecked his Curtiss biplane and almost cost him his life. The field was in poor condition, and in attempting to clear the fence a wing caught. The machine was demolished and Cooper was hurled violently to the ground. A new biplane has been ordered and flights will be resumed on Friday.

World's Title to Wiley.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 28.—George Wiley of Syracuse won the 100 kilometer world's championship motor paced race at the Velodrome tonight, defeating his nearest competitor, Elmer Collins, by 2¼ miles. His time was 1:24:07. Four foreign riders qualified in the trial heats for the one mile sprint championship of the world.

ROBERTSON LEADS FOR GOLF HONORS

Rock Island "Pro" Plays Twice Around Idlewild Course in 147 Strokes.

SMITH SECOND WITH 149.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

Going twice around the long 6,495 yard course of the Idlewild Country club in 147 strokes, Alec Robertson, the Rock Island professional, yesterday reached the half way mark in the western open golf championship two strokes ahead of MacDonald Smith of the Del Monte club of California.

These two Scotchmen, the first hailing from St. Andrews and the second from Carnoustie, played excellent golf, which gave them a little margin over the three eastern cracks, Tom McNamara of Boston, Jack McDermott, the national open champion, and Gilbert Nicholls.

George Simpson, who tied for third place with McNamara, led the Chicago contingent with a total of 152. It looks as if the winner should come from the first seven players unless Alex Smith should strike a brilliant streak, but he is ten strokes behind the man from the government arsenal course.

Brace Today May Help Local Stars.

Jim Donaldson, the Glen View professional, and Walter Fovargue of Skokie are both just outside the prize list, and a brace of good rounds today may put them in the money positions.

Conditions for golf were about the same as on the preceding day. A rain shower slowed up the greens for a short time in the morning and in the middle of the day there was a lot of puffy wind, but it cleared early in the afternoon and the rest of the day was fine. Scores were not quite as low as expected, the fast greens again affecting the putting of many of the men.

George Simpson of Wheaton and Walter Fovargue of Skokie led the morning play with totals of 73, Alec. Robertson getting a 74 and MacDonald Smith, 75. R. McDonald, the tall Cincinnati professional, Jim Donaldson, Tom McNamara, and Jack Hutchinson of Pittsburgh, each had 77.

A. Smith and Nicholls Off Form.

Alec. Smith, former national open champion, and Gilbert Nicholls both were a little off form, taking 78, while Jack McDermott, the national open champion, took 80.

Robertson continued his steady work in the afternoon and came home with 73. Young Macdonald Smith, largely by the aid of his excellent putting, turned in a 74. George Simpson had a bad in round of 42 and finished with 79. McNamara shot 75 and McDermott, who went out in 35, the best mark of the day, came home with a 74. H. A. Fleager, the Skokie player, led the amateurs with a total of 157, two shots ahead of L. E. Bunning, the Belmont amateur.

QUARTET LEFT IN GOLF PLAY; THREE LOCAL WOMEN REMAIN

Miss Painter vs. Miss Clark and Miss Helmer vs. Miss Chisholm in Semi-Finals Today.

Three golfers from the Chicago district and one from Cleveland reached the semi-final round in the women's western championship at the Hinsdale Golf club yesterday. In the penultimate round Miss Caroline Painter of Midlothian, the title holder, will meet Miss Inez Clark of Waukegan and Miss Ruth Chisholm of Cleveland will play Miss Myra Helmer of Midlothian.

Miss Painter defeated Mrs. E. R. Whitcomb of Milwaukee, the Wisconsin champion, 5 and 4. They seesawed through the out round, Miss Painter winning four holes and Mrs. Whitcomb three. After the turn Miss Painter improved and won four of the next five holes. The cards:

Miss Painter, out......5 7 5 4 5 4 6 6 6—48
Mrs. Whitcomb, out...6 6 7 4 4 5 5 7 6—50
Miss Painter, in..........................6 4 5 4 3
Mrs. Whitcomb, in........................7 5 5 6 4

Miss Clark played the best golf of the day when she defeated Mrs. C. L. Dering of Midlothian, former western champion, 2 up. Miss Clark was 1 up at the turn and took the next two holes, but Mrs. Dering won the next two. Miss Clark won two of the next three and halved the last two. Cards:

Miss Clark, out....4 6 6 4 5 4 5 6 5—45
Mrs. Dering, out...5 6 6 4 5 5 4 6 7—47
Miss Clark, in.....5 4 6 6 4 7 3 6 5—46—91
Mrs. Dering, in....6 5 5 5 5 6 4 6 5—47—94

Miss Chisholm, who defeated Mrs. Colburn 5 and 4, went out in 46, as against 48 by the Glen View player, and increased her lead coming home. Miss Chisholm won the driving contest after the playoff of a tie. Miss Clark was second and Mrs. Whitcomb third. Miss Helmer won the approaching and putting contest.

NOTES OF OPEN MEET.

There were ninety-five starters out of the ninety-eight entries.

Tom McNamara had a brace of twos in his out round in the morning, getting good putts at the third and ninth holes.

Alec Smith attributed his mediocre score in the morning to bad approaching, but some of this was offset by good putting.

Arthur Smith of Columbus has been suffering from inflamed eyes and played some of the holes with glasses. He shot a fine 76 in the afternoon.

The majority of the experts speak highly of the Idlewild course, which they think has many championship qualities.

Robertson got the feature hole of the match when he notched a 2 at the eleventh hole, 415 yards. His iron shot from 130 yards found the cup on the depressed green.

The dopesters figured out a best ball card of 50, the figures being 3, 3, 2, 4, 3, 2, 4, 3, 2—26, for the out round, and 3, 2, 2, 3, 2, 3, 2, 3, 4—24 coming home.

Tom Vardon, after getting 80 in the morning, had an unusual experience in the afternoon. At the fifth hole he played his second towards the green and then went to help his partner look for a ball. When Vardon came up near the green he could not find his ball and as there were two caddies close to a bunker he surmised one of them had stolen his ball. He played another ball and took seven strokes. He reported to the officials as he passed the ninth hole and the caddy master sent out an investigating party. The ball, which had a peculiar marking, was found in possession of one of the boys. After he had finished his round Tom was allowed to replay the hole, and scored a four, after narrowly missing a three.

Miss F. Warner, Windsor, defeated Mrs. H. P. Hammond, Indianapolis, 2 and 1.
Miss E. K. Banning, Cincinnati, defeated Mrs. John Worley, South Shore, 4 and 2.
Miss E. Pearce, Calumet, defeated Mrs. J. Tait, South Shore, 3 and 2.

THIRD FLIGHT, CONSOLATION.

Mrs. W. J. Totten, Hinsdale, defeated Mrs. P. V. Cassel, Westward Ho, 2 up; Miss E. J. Campbell, Wheaton, won by default from Mrs. D. F. Gardner, Hinsdale; Miss F. Meyers, Hinsdale, bye.

SECOND FLIGHT.

Mrs. M. B. Pool, Midlothian, defeated Mrs. M. P. Noyes, Skokie, 2 and 1.
Mrs. J. D. Hibbard, Homewood, defeated Mrs. J. A. Hall, South Shore, 1 up.
Miss Frances Peck, Midlothian, defeated Mrs. S. J. Chadwick, Windsor, 5 and 3.
Miss J. Acklen, Nashville, defeated Mrs. M. J. Pittsford, Wheaton, 1 up.

THIRD FLIGHT.

Miss Billie Bridge, Evanston, defeated Mrs. H. H. Piper, Ridgemoor, 1 up; Mrs. L. B. Hamlin, Elgin, defeated Mrs. H. E. Whitney, Beverly, 2 up; Mrs. E. S. Farrand, Wheaton, defeated Mrs. M. J. Fletcher, Ridgemoor, 6 and 4; Miss M. Humphrey, Hinsdale, defeated Mrs. J. A. Davis, Skokie, 1 up 19 holes.

ANKLE DEEP VICTOR IN RACE.

Hydroplane Owned and Steered by Count Mankowski Takes Second of Elimination Series.

Huntington, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Ankle Deep, a thirty-two foot hydroplane owned and steered by Count C. N. Mankowski of Lake George, N. Y., easily won the second of the series of elimination races of boats seeking the honor of defending the Harmsworth trophy. Ankle Deep covered the thirty mile course in 31:32, an average speed of 40.15 miles an hour. J. Stuart Blackton's boat, Baby Reliance III., finished second in 1:14:38.

HILTON'S 74 CARD LOW AT WHEATON

Britisher Plays Brilliantly in Practice for Open Golf Event.

OTHER STARS IN ACTION.

BY KEENE GARDINER.

Practice for the national amateur golf tournament to be played over the Chicago Golf club links at Wheaton next week started in earnest yesterday, with seventeen entrants wielding war clubs over the eighteen hole course. Of this number the majority represented clubs from out of town. Harold Hilton, present champion, and Norman Hunter, both of Great Britain, were among the number.

Hilton brought home low card, showing 74. Jerome Travers of Upper Montclair was second with 79 and Hunter was third with 80. Most of the others failed to keep score, but few went above the 85 mark. In the afternoon Hilton and Hunter engaged in an experimental match, shooting from hole to hole without covering the entire course. The most difficult holes were covered three and four times to accustom the Britishers to the course.

Hilton's play was brilliant and consistent. Although his drives were not as long as those of several of the other cracks, his approaching as well as his accurate putting may give him a decided advantage over his rivals for the national title. Ever present with the title holder is an English brand of cigaret. Without it Hilton says he never could play good golf. As soon as one cigaret is finished Hilton lights another and continues on his way until he completes the match.

Black Cigar, Travis' Companion.

Walter J. Travis and his big black cigars are exceedingly companionable. No one ever recalls a time when Travis failed to have the heavy Havana between his teeth as he drives the ball through the ambient. Walter Fairbanks of Denver, popularly known as "Forty Hole" Fairbanks, and his asbestos lined pocket will be missed. Fairbanks always smokes a pipe and when in a tight hole he places the burning pipe in the asbestos pocket.

Hilton says he likes Chicago and its golfers and he has made many friends. Hunter, his partner, played over the Wheaton links eight or nine years ago when he set the course record at 71. Later Walter Travis lowered the mark two strokes and this year Western Champion "Chick" Evans clipped another stroke off the record.

In regard to bringing an English quartet for the Olympic team contest on Saturday Hilton had the following to say: "We did everything possible to get a team together. Several were willing to come, but could not spare the time. You see, it is a long trip, and means an absence of four weeks from England and business. I did not learn until yesterday that there were two good Canadian players here who would have joined us, but then it was too late to send in the entry. Next year we hope to do better."

The four players who will represent the Western Golf association in the Olympic cup event on Saturday are: Charles Evans Jr., Warren K. Wood, D. E. Sawyer, and Kenneth P. Edwards.

From Chicago Hilton and Hunter will go to Long Island to participate in an invitation tournament, and following that meet the Englishmen may journey to Boston, providing their time is not cut short.

Arrange to Care for Visitors.

Arrangements for the care of visitors and the holding of the tournament were practically completed yesterday, when two large tents were erected near the initial tee. One tent will be used as a lunchroom, while the other will be a locker room equipped with shower baths. In order to install the shower baths it was necessary to lay pipe for more than 200 yards.

A temporary kitchen has been erected adjoining the site of the clubhouse destroyed by the recent fire. One of the cottages is used for a café and buffet. Owners of cottages near by have volunteered to house a number of visitors during the tournament.

Plans are now under way for the construction of a concrete building to replace the one which was destroyed. It probably will be built upon the same site. Insurance agents are figuring on the loss, and it is expected that the club will suffer only the inconvenience caused by temporary quarters. It is said that $36,500 was carried in insurance.

HOPKINS RETAINS GOLF TITLE.

Skokie Veteran Carries Off Honors in Southpaw Tourney with Low Gross Score of 164.

Louis J. Hopkins, the Skokie veteran, for the second year in succession carried off the honors of the annual southpaw tournament of the Midlothian Country club, and still is the port side champion of Chicago and as much territory west as he cares to claim. Yesterday he was on the scratch mark and turned in a card of 164, seven strokes better than his winning total of last year. David A. Noyes won the silver medal for low net score with a card of 168—20—148. Leading scores:

	G.	H.	N.

Woman Swims Nearly Twenty Miles.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Miss Lily Smith swam from Dover to Ramsgate, a distance of nearly twenty miles, today in six and a half hours. Capt. Webb in 1875 took eight and a half hours to swim the same course. Miss Smith will try to swim the English channel next week.

M'FARLAND LEAVES FOR FIGHT

Goes to Philadelphia to Tackle Joe Hirst Tomorrow.

THOMPSON TO BOX M'GOORTY.

Rival Middleweights Match for Scrap in Cincinnati Arena.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

Packey McFarland, his brother, and manager, Emil Thiry, left last night for Philadelphia, where Packey will engage in a six round go with Joe Hirst tomorrow night.

In preparation for this fight and the succeeding one with Champion Ad Wolgast, McFarland yesterday went through the hardest kind of work. He boxed three rounds with "Special Delivery" Hirsch, and then went four sessions with Pete Krust. In addition Packey put in about an hour's work pulling weights, punching the bag and doing the other stunts of a fighter in training.

Articles were signed yesterday by "Cyclone Johnny" Thompson and Eddie McGoorty for a ten round bout at Cincinnati, on Sept. 16. The weight will be 160 pounds at 3 o'clock.

"K. O." Brown went through nine rounds of boxing yesterday to get in shape for his ten round encounter with Mike Shelley at Terre Haute, Ind., on Labor day.

Eddie McGoorty put in a strenuous day at O'Connell's preparing for his ten round contest with Dave Smith in New York on Labor day. Eddie boxed eight rounds and did the usual amount of gymnasium work.

Harry Forbes meets Matty McCue in a scheduled ten round bout at Racine, Wis., tonight. McCue is only 17 years old, but has had twenty-five victorious fights. The weight will be 122 pounds at 3 o'clock.

Kirkwood Knocks Out Houck.

New York, Aug. 28.—At the St. Nicholas Athletic club tonight George Kirkwood of St. Louis knocked out Tommy Houck of Philadelphia in the sixth round of a scheduled ten round bout, and Arthur Sinck of Passaic disposed of "Kid" Carter of New Orleans in the third round. Willie Beecher had much the better of Tommy Ginty of Scranton, Pa., in a ten round go.

Trott Draws with Brock.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 28.—Sammy Trott of Columbus and Phil Brock of Cleveland fought twelve rounds to a draw here last night.

THREE BALLOONS ENTER RACE.

Contest for Aero Club Trophy Starts at Colorado Springs—Hope for New Record.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 28.—Carrying as much ballast as possible, in the hope of setting a new world's record, three balloons in the Aero Club of America balloon race for the Lahm and Antlers cup, made a good start late this afternoon. All the bags sailed out of sight in a course almost directly due north. There was very little wind, and the going appeared to be slow.

The first news received of the balloons came at 6:20 p. m., when they were reported in sight at Palmer Lake. A short time later passengers on a Denver and Rio Grande train reported that the big bags were following the railroad tracks toward Denver.

The balloon "X" of Akron, O., landed one mile south of Palmer Lake and fifteen miles north of Colorado Springs tonight. Paul McCullough the pilot, said that poor gas caused the early descent.

Swimmers Try Out Course.

Three swimmers, Michael McDermott, H. J. Handy, and A. C. Raithel, in company with Swimming Director William Bachrach of the I. A. C., yesterday tried out the Lincoln park lagoon course over which the one mile national A. A. U. swimming championship race will be held on Saturday. The trio swam from the boathouse to Grant's monument and return, a distance of a mile. The race will start at 2:30 o'clock from a point opposite the Grant monument. Entries close tonight.

JOE PATCHEN II. WINNER IN STAKE

Captures Neponset, Feature of Grand Circuit Meeting at Readville.

BIG SURPRISE IN TROT.

Readville, Mass., Aug. 28.—Joe Patchen II. carried away the honors in the Neponset stakes at the second day of the grand circuit meeting. Track and weather were perfect for fast time.

From the word in the first heat to the finish of the last, Joe Patchen II. never was pressed. The contest was for second money, which Knight Onwardo secured in the final heat. Cox finished fast in the second heat with Mansfield, coming from fourth position in the stretch. Grand Opera made Joe Patchen II. pace the last half in 1:00¼ in the first heat. The three first horses are all Canadian owned.

There was a big surprise in the Plymouth for 2 year old trotters, where Now-a-day Girl was a strong favorite owing to her world's record of 2:16¾ for foals of her age over a half mile track, made two weeks ago.

After taking the opening heat in comparatively easy fashion, Dillon Axworthy overtook Now-a-day Girl near the wire and won by a neck from Nathan Axworthy, which beat the Massachusetts filly for second position by a narrow margin. It was easy for Dillon Axworthy in the third heat after Nathan Axworthy had raced on even terms with him to the home stretch.

The Blue Hill stakes was for amateur drivers. J. Dodge of Middletown, N. Y., was behind the Denver mare Zarrino and she won without an effort after losing the first heat to Eva Cord, driven by Frank Jones.

ERRATIC MARKET IN WHEAT TRADE

Future Prices Slump in Last Hour After Bulge on Foreign Advices Early.

CASH INQUIRY SLACKENS.

Corn Closes at Small Advance; Country Offerings of Oats Show Increase.

A further advance at Liverpool stimulated active buying of wheat in the Chicago market yesterday, prices being forced up sharply. In the last hour the demand slackened, local buyers sold out on the break, and nearly all of the upturn was lost. Last prices for the day were a shade to ⅝@½c up. The May and December were relatively firmer than the September. There was scattered liquidation in the near month.

Clearing weather was reported in the United Kingdom, Liverpool being strong, however, as the result of the damage already done and the report of Broomhall's agent in Russia that the crop in that country had been greatly overestimated. The English market closed ⅝@⅞d higher. Paris was 1¼@2⅝c lower; Antwerp, ⅝c up; Berlin, ⅝c better; and Budapest, 1⅜c lower.

Shorts Are Chief Buyers.

In this market the recent buying was credited largely to shorts, who were influenced by the big sales made or reported made the last few days, together with the bullish foreign news in regard to the crop outlook in western Europe and the unfavorable weather in Canada. General rains again occurred in the latter country, and while no serious damage is apprehended a continuance of these conditions would result in much poor wheat. Should the Canadian wheat be lowered in quality it would tend to stimulate the demand for our wheat.

The cash buying did not follow the advance and sales here were only 100,000 bu, while the export inquiry was called slack. Country offerings were larger, Nebraska being reported a free seller of wheat here. Receipts were heavy at western points, and a few days more of good weather is expected to result in a big movement northwest.

No Accumulation of Wheat.

Failure of stocks to increase during the height of the winter wheat movement has tended to tighten up the markets, and a brisk demand for spring wheat is expected to develop. Arrivals northwest were 359 cars, against 314 cars a year ago. Winnipeg has 44 cars, against 26 cars last year. Total primary receipts were 1,410,000 bu, against 984,000 bu a year ago, and receipts here were 269 cars, with 220 cars the estimate for today.

Clearances were the heaviest in some time at 740,000 bu wheat and flour. Barrett, Harris-Winthrop, Slaughter, Bartlett-Frazier, and Logan-Bryan were good buyers early. Armour was credited with selling on the advance. McLaughlin was a buyer on the rally.

Firm Tone in Corn Pit.

Corn showed considerable strength when wheat was advanced, but also sold off with wheat in the final hour. Prices at the finish were 1-16c to ⅛c higher. Offerings early were moderate. Nye-Jenks, Armour, Geahart, and Bartlett-Frazier bought early. Lamson led the selling on the rally. The cash demand was good, the question being to get the corn to sell. Prices were ½@1c up, with sales of 140,000 bu. Receipts were 308 cars, with 279 cars the estimate for today. Primary points had 796,000 bu, against 982,000 bu last year. Weather conditions were favorable with the exception of a few sections in the southwest, where the weather has been too hot and dry. Cables were ⅝d higher. Country offerings continue moderate, although there was a slight increase in sales. Outside markets for cash corn were all strong and higher.

Oats Not Much Changed.

A sharp increase in country offerings met the advance in that cereal, checking the enthusiasm of the bulls materially. Resting prices were a shade off to ⅛c higher. The cash demand was excellent, sales being 685,000 bu, including 450,000 bu for export, and sample prices were ¼@½c off. Receipts here were 416 cars, with 376 cars the estimate for today. Arrivals in the west aggregated 1,403,000 bu, compared to 607,000 bu a year ago, or more than double.

Products Are Irregular.

Provisions were irregular at the close, nearby stuff being under considerable pressure, while the deferred months generally closed a little higher, there being a good investment demand for January stuff. Receipts of hogs were under estimates at 10,000, but the tone of the market at the yards was easier. The estimate for today is 16,000. Western points had 57,000, against 65,200 a year ago. Liverpool prices were unchanged except for lard, which was 6d off.

Rye Market Firmer.

Rye had a firm undertone, but values did not improve. No. 2 sold at 70½c and No. 3 at 68c. September sold at 70c, 10,000 bu being taken at the price. Receipts, 7 cars.

Barley was steady to strong, with malting 55@70c; feed, 40@60c; screenings, 30@38c. Receipts, 7 cars.

Timothy seed was quiet at $5.20 bid and $5.50 sellers for August and $4.50 bid and $4.75 sellers for September. Cash lots were $4.00@6.00. Clover seed was firm at $13.00@16.00 for cash lots.

Duluth flax closed ½@6c higher, with cash showing the big end of the advance and closing at $2.00. September was $1.82; October, $1.70; November, $1.67½. Minneapolis flax was 3@4c higher at $1.97 for cash on track and $1.86 to arrive. Receipts, 5 cars.

A Booklet for Investors.

The Harris Trust and Savings Bank of this city has issued a booklet entitled "Why Bonds Are Safe Investments," intended for the use of persons planning to invest in bonds for the first time. Its aim is to explain in simple terms the purposes and uses of various classes of bonds, and to indicate the value of bonds as safe investments for individuals as well as institutions. Copies can be had free on application.—Adv.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

Free selling of oats from the country was reported yesterday. Iowa sold freely, and there were also quite liberal offerings from other directions. The cash demand was good, with prices ¼@1c up, but the edge was reported off at the close. Total sales were 685,000 bu, including 450,000 bu for export. Dealers are not disposed to become bullish on the market until it is demonstrated the foreigners will follow the advances. With no attempt to bull the market, it is the general opinion there will be a good business for some months. Cash corn was strong and ½@1c up, with sales of 140,000 bu. Country offerings showed but little increase. Car shortage is complained of in many sections by both oats and corn shippers.

It was the general opinion of pit traders that several of the big local shorts had covered on the advance in wheat yesterday. However, many traders who bought on the bulge sold out on the slump in the last hour and went short. While there was evidence of some distribution of wheat on the advance, there was also more wheat bought by commission houses on the break, so there was considerable difference of opinion as to the technical position of the market. A further upturn in foreign markets, with a resumption of export business at the higher level, would be necessary, in the opinion of most grain men, for any pronounced advance. General trade did not show much improvement as the result of the flurry.

"Prices about discount conditions, and there seems to be no further bullish incentive around," said Harold Zeiss. "The market encounters good buying on the breaks, and everything points to continued strong prices for some time, with the possibility of short hog crop scares and also cholera scares when green corn is fed. With an assured abundance of feed stuffs, breeders and feeders of cattle already are competing with packers for supplies, and the higher the hogs go the greater incentive to the farmer to feed his pigs. The consumption of pork products in this country is keeping pace with the revival of industrial activity. The lard trade abroad has improved, but it must improve a lot to absorb the large stocks."

Inglis wired Logan-Bryan from McPherson, Kas: "Some of the early corn shows damage, but larger acreage is late. Much of it in the milk-white still, promising 20 to 35 bu. The continuation of intense heat makes rains desirable to finish out the crop."

A moderate demand existed for wheat in the cash market, the advance having checked the inquiry from abroad. Sales here were about 100,000 bu, including a little No. 2 hard for export. While the demand was much less urgent, the offerings from the country were larger. Receivers here reported Omaha selling quite a little wheat to arrive, and it is believed there will be a free run of Nebraska wheat here. Outside cash markets where strong relatively, but the southwest receipts continue liberal, and the country was reported selling on the bulge. In the northwest receipts are not much more than the requirements so far, and stocks there were a standoff for four days.

Broomhall's Russian agent cabled that the crop will be below former expectations, and this estimate is confirmed by conservative interests here, notwithstanding the official report, which places the yield 240,000,000 bu over that of last year.

A Liverpool cable said: "The weather is now clear, with indications of fine and warmer. Much damage to quality and otherwise has resulted from the recent heavy continued rains. Hay and feed crops are disastrously affected."

September went to a small discount under the December here and there was also enough pressure on the near future at St. Louis to force the future there to a discount.

Jacob Schreiner of St. Louis wired that if the general corn crop was anything like it is in St. Louis county the country would have the biggest crop it ever raised.

Fillmore, Mo., reported wheat all thrashed, with yields averaging 20 to 45 bu. Oats yields were 30 to 50 bu and the corn is expected to be about the same as a year ago.

Bids on the call for wheat to arrive were unchanged to ⅛c higher; corn, ⅜@1½c higher; oats, ½c higher to ⅛c lower; rye, ½@1½c higher.

Estimated receipts for today: Wheat, 220 cars; corn, 279 cars; oats, 376 cars; rye, 7 cars; barley, 7 cars; hogs, 16,000 head.

Cash corn at Kansas City were ¼@1c higher; St. Louis, 1@1½c up, and Omaha, ¼@½c up. Peoria was firm, but not much changed.

Eddy, the Boston export, wired that his cable advices showed no advances from the previous day, the demand being poor.

W. P. Anderson reported the sale of a board of trade membership at $2,325 net to the buyer yesterday.

Kansas City wired: "The east is in the market for red wheat here for the first time in several days."

A Berlin cable to Slaughter said rains continued, doing serious damage to the crops.

Roy M. Hitch has posted his membership on the board for transfer.

HIGH LIVING COST BLAMED ON WAR

David Starr Jordan Points to Immense Tax from Armament Building.

SINGS BEAUTIES OF U. S.

Transmississippi Congress Speaker Would License Foreign Tourist Agencies.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 28.—David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford university, in his speech before the trans-Mississippi commercial congress today blamed war taxes for the high cost of living.

Dr. Jordan reviewed the history of wars and the money lenders who made them possible. He said:

"The debt of Europe, mostly for war and war implements, has been controlled, not owned, by 'das consortium' of bankers, by the sixteen to eighteen families, the Rothschilds at their head, who constitute the unseen empire of finance."

The speaker went on to show that the annual expenditures of the world on armies and navies in these times of peace passes $4,000,000,000 a year.

"Almost the whole story of the rise of the cost of living is told in the story of the rise of taxes for war debt and war armament."

Dr. Jordan said war took the best blood of any country, and that only cowards remained, and from them came forward new generations who hold the nation in their grasp.

Would Tax Foreign Agencies.

J. W. Kelley of Denver, urging the "See America First" idea, suggested that license fees be required of foreign tourist agencies. He further asked that the fees "be made the basis for a fund to be devoted to carrying out such policies as may be inaugurated by this congress to turn a portion of the tide of foreign travel to the attractive scenes in the United States."

Asks Protection for Farmers.

A resolution demanding that products of the farm and ranch be given the same measure of protection as is accorded other products of the United States, was submitted by Col. Ike T. Pryor of Texas. The farmers and ranchmen had been blamed unjustly for the high cost of living, Col. Pryor said.

A resolution by Henry Walsh of Utah criticised the forestry policy of the interior department, asserting that the mining development of the west was being retarded by the regulations.

Other resolutions called for a transcontinental highway and urged a bill for the creation of a division of information in the immigration bureau to direct immigrants to suitable locations in the west.

TO BE CLOSED ON LABOR DAY.

Postoffice and Substations Will Remain Open to the Noon Hour Only.

The Chicago postoffice and all the substations will close at 12 o'clock Monday on account of Labor day, by order of Postmaster Campbell. The postal savings bank will be closed all day, but the other departments will remain open until noon and deliveries will be made until 11:30 in the morning.

IN THE BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—Several Boston coppers were strong and fairly active today. Granby and United States Smelter were leaders, and each made substantial gains. Lake was dull at first, but grew strong in the afternoon, and Shannon, which has been quiet for many days, showed signs of life. Calumet and Arizona, and Mohawk advanced on a few transactions. Utah copper was weak. Shoe Machinery was strong once more and went up to 56⅛c. Woolen preferred is slowly creeping up. Call money, 3½@4 per cent; time loans, short dates, 5 per cent; time loans, six months, 5@5½ per cent; commercial paper, 5@5½ per cent.

CHICAGO MEN ARE INTERESTED.

$6,000,000 Concern Incorporated in Delaware Will Operate in the Vicinity of This City.

The Chicago Suburban Gas and Electric Light company chartered Tuesday in Dover, Del., with a capitalization of $6,000,000, will be a holding company in which a number of Chicago capitalists are interested. A meeting of the organizers will be held within the next two weeks, when officers will be elected.

"It will be a holding company to purchase and acquire property in the vicinity of Chicago," said A. Volney Foster, one of the men interested. "It will be managed on the lines of the best public service corporations dealing with light and power."

The concern is empowered to manufacture gas and electricity for lighting and heating and to produce power for general use.

Samuel Insull denied he had any interest in the company and Mr. Foster said he could not yet give out the names of the men behind the movement.

RAILWAY MAN'S VIEW GLOOMY

J. M. Daly Sees Disaster in Attitude of Commissions.

"NEED FOR HIGHER RATES."

"We Have Not Been Treated Fairly," Complains Official.

Railroads of the United States—80 per cent of them—are rapidly approaching bankruptcy, according to J. M. Daly, superintendent of transportation of the Illinois Central.

He attributed their condition to policies of the interstate commerce commission and the various state railway commissions, taken in conjunction with rising prices for railway labor and supplies. He spoke yesterday before Traveling Engineers' Supply Men's association in convention at Hotel La Salle.

Operating Cost Increases.

"The cost of every article used by the railroads of this country is increasing, including wages," he said. "This is the upper millstone under which the railroads are being rapidly ground into bankruptcy.

"Unless the policy of the interstate commerce commission and the state commissions soon changes it will require more than the magic wand of the courts and receivers to sustain even a spark of life or usefulness in at least 80 per cent of the railroads now in existence.

"The most important problem," continued Mr. Daly, "that confronts the railroads today is train tonnage. It is just as necessary that the railroad companies ask that their traffic be handled as economically as possible so that their income may be increased. The important questions to solve are the maximum loading of locomotives and the reduction of empty car mileage.

Rate Treatment Unfair.

"When the railroads were developing the country in the '60s and '70s by extending lines into barren country they were promised fair treatment and coöperation. The railroad commissions have not treated the roads fairly with regard to the matter of rates and it is necessary for the railroads themselves to learn how to operate their roads more economically if they wish to avoid the bankruptcy courts."

BRITAIN MAKES NEW PROTEST AGAINST PANAMA CANAL BILL.

Note Sent to State Department Indicates Intention to Appeal to Hague Arbitration Tribunal.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 28.—Great Britain has reaffirmed its protest against the Panama canal bill. In a note filed today with the state department by A. Mitchell Innes, charge of the British embassy here, it was stated that if a satisfactory agreement could not be reached Great Britain would appeal to The Hague tribunal for arbitration.

The note says Great Britain will give careful consideration to both the bill and the message President Taft sent to congress regarding discrimination in favor of American coastwise shipping in the canal. If it is found that no satisfactory agreement can be reached in the matter Great Britain declares that it will be necessary to appeal to arbitration.

Mr. Innes, who has been acting as charge of the embassy during the absence of Ambassador Bryce, came to Washington recently from the summer headquarters of the British embassy at Kineo, Me., to remain during the discussion in congress of the bill and to file for his government the protests against it.

One state department official today declared he did not believe Great Britain had a case to carry before The Hague tribunal.

BOOM IN PIG IRON SENDS PRICES UP

Heavy Sales at Higher Levels for Delivery in First Part of 1913.

FOUNDRY ACTIVITY ALSO.

Demand Increased So Gradually That Volume Has Been Underestimated.

New York, Aug. 28.—[Special.]—The Iron Age will say tomorrow:

"Broadening activity in pig iron has been the pronounced feature of the market for the last week and the buying movement now under way is one of the largest in years. Prices are up in all districts and heavy sales have been made at the higher levels for delivery in the first quarter and the first half of next year.

"Demand upon the foundry industry has increased so gradually in recent months that its volume, as revealed by this latest development in the pig iron market, has been underestimated. Several hundred thousand tons of northern and southern irons has been sold in the last ten days, the greater part of it for delivery in 1913.

"Cincinnati reports 100,000 tons sold in the week: Buffalo, 50,000 tons, and Chicago one of the largest weeks of the year.

Orders for Well Into Winter.

"A large factor in the buying in central western markets has been the iron taken by malleable and other foundries manufacturing railroad equipment. Car works have orders that will run them well into the winter, and many foundries will be very busy in consequence. Pipe works have bought 30,000 to 40,000 tons of southern iron on the $12.50 Birmingham basis for No. 2, in addition to 60,000 tons reported last week.

"The $12.50 price for next year is well established and some sales have been made by southern furnaces at $13.00 for the first quarter. Ohio furnaces have advanced foundry iron prices 25c to 50c. In basic iron advances have been made in the south and east. One eastern steel plant paid $16.50 for 16,000 tons for the first quarter. A sale of 15,000 tons for the first half was made at $13.00 Birmingham.

"In the Pittsburgh district Bessemer iron has sold at $14.75 at Valley furnace and basic is nominally $14.00, though some makers ask $14.00 for first quarter.

Trust Running Nearly Capacity.

"The situation in finished material only accentuates what has existed in recent weeks. The steel corporation, with roundly 6,000,000 tons of unfilled orders, has specifications for 40 per cent of this tonnage. It is operating 95 per cent of its finishing capacity and 94 per cent of its ingot capacity.

"The steel corporation's rail orders for 1913 are now about 350,000 tons. Other rail companies are negotiating also for next year's business, but practically no Bessemer rails are wanted. The Northern Pacific has placed 10,000 tons of Mayari steel rails with the Pennsylvania Steel company for delivery this year."

LIMIT ON VALUES IS REMOVED.

Government Lifts Embargo on Packages to Be Delivered by Foreign Parcels Post.

Postoffice officials yesterday announced that the limit of value on packages to be delivered by foreign parcels post has been removed. Heretofore the limit has been $50. Beginning on Sept. 1 parcels may be sent by post regardless of value, to the following places: Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, Great Britain, Ireland, Hongkong, the Netherlands, and Norway. The new order is accompanied by a notice that packages exceeding $100 in value cannot be imported into this country unless accompanied by an invoice certified by a United States consul in the country of origin.

UNION CARBIDE GAINS 5 POINTS

Company's Increased Business Influences Day's Rise in Stocks to 171.

PIG IRON NEAR RECORD.

Production This Year Estimated at 29,000,000; Improvement of 22 Per Cent.

On a good amount of trading Union Carbide rose steadily yesterday on the local exchange from 166, a point above Tuesday's close, to 171, where it closed firm. The buying was mainly by one house and is based on the company's increased business and good prospects.

Elsewhere in the list trading was light. Pneumatic Tool picked up nearly a point from Tuesday's close and American Shipbuilding common rose a point on buying attributed to Cleveland interests. Quaker Oats preferred gained ½ point and Chicago Railways securities were firmer. There were declines in Diamond Match and Can common.

Steel Corporation's Business.

Officials of the Illinois and Indiana Steel companies report sufficient rail orders to keep the mills working at capacity into the beginning of next year. The Steel corporation is understood to have around 6,000,000 tons in unfilled orders, with specifications for 40 per cent of the tonnage and 350,000 tons of rails for 1913 shipment. The corporation is operating at 95 per cent of its finishing capacity and 94 per cent ingot capacity. According to the Iron Age iron buying is at the highest point attained in years, with a good deal of the inquiries coming from railroad equipment industries.

Record in Pig Iron.

Current estimates of the country's pig iron production this year are in the neighborhood of 29,000,000, which would represent 42 per cent of the world's probable total and establish a new high record with an increase of 22 per cent over last year.

In pig iron output the United States had grown more rapidly than any other nation up to 1906, when the maximum percentage was attained. There has been a setback since then, but the present year promises to make up most if not all of that loss.

Standard Oil Shipping.

Announcement has been made of a readjustment of the shipping business of the Standard Oil companies since the dissolution of the "trust." By the new arrangement the Standard Oil of New Jersey takes over the entire foreign business and the Standard Oil of New York all the coastwise business and lighterage. Both are billing extensively here and in foreign shipyards.

General Financial News.

Sears-Roebuck business is unofficially reported as running 15 per cent ahead of August, 1911. Loose-Wiles interests say 1912 will show a like gain in gross.

Further extensions are announced for the Middle West Utilities company, now capitalized with $4,000,000 preferred and $6,000,000 common stock. attempts being made to acquire the Tulsa (Okla.) corporation and numerous plants in Kentucky. Officials of Pacific Gas, in which the same local interests are involved, claim improved business this year.

A total of $1,300,000 gold has been engaged in New York for shipment to Canada.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Money was plentiful today. Discount rates were strong on the increasing supply of American bills and in anticipation of an advance in the bank rate tomorrow.

While rubber shares and the rest of the stock market were generally cheerful, shipping stocks were buoyant under the lead of Royal Mails, which jumped twelve points. Peruvian securities were features in the foreign section and speculation broadened in kaffirs. Great Eastern railway shares eased off on flood reports.

American securities opened steady and a fraction higher. During the forenoon prices advanced from ¼ to 1¼ under the lead of Canadian Pacific. The market reacted in the afternoon and prices eased off, with Amalgamated Copper and United States Steel leading. The closing was quiet.

MAKES BIG LEASE FOR SKYSCRAPER

Max Goldstine Gets Northwest Corner of State and South Water Streets.

RENT TOTALS $1,173,000.

Plans Erection of Sixteen Story Chemists' Exchange Building in 1914.

A ninety-nine year lease representing a total ground rent of $1,173,000 was closed yesterday under which Max Goldstine acquired from Archibald E. Freer the northwest corner of State and South Water streets, abutting the Chicago river, at an annual average rent of $11,848.

The lessee will start at once to erect at the expiration of the McLaughlin lease in 1914 a sixteen story fireproof building to be known as the Chemists' Exchange.

It is the present plan to devote the upper floors to chemists and laboratories. Plans are being prepared by Patterson & Davidson.

There also has been some thought of utilizing the building as a retail market house on account of its connection with South Water street. It is especially adapted to use for chemical laboratories on account of the light afforded on three sides. Not less than a whole floor will be rented to any tenant.

Fronts 80 Feet in South Water.

The property has a frontage of eighty feet on South Water street, fifty-five feet on State street, and eighty feet on the river and contains 4,400 square feet.

The lease is on a basis of $10,000 a year for the first five years, $11,000 annually for the second five years, and $12,000 a year for the remaining eighty-nine years. The rent to be paid is net to the owner, the lessee to pay the taxes and insurance.

The average rent, capitalized on a 4 per cent basis, gives a value to the property of $296,200, or $3,702 a front foot on South Water street and $5,385 a front foot on State street.

One of the principal features of the lease is that it does not commence until May 1, 1914, which is the expiration of the lease now held by the McLaughlin company, coffee dealers, who have occupied the site for thirty-nine years. The lessee also is given six month free ground rent for building period.

The deal was negotiated by Mark Levy & Bro., who represented all parties. The legal matters were attended to by Lawrence P. Conover for the lessor.

There has been considerable activity in this section recently, the present lessee having acquired with others last December through the same brokers the southwest corner of State and Randolph streets, known as the Bay State building, while the Field estate purchased the southwest corner of State and Lake streets.

Deal at Evanston and Leland.

Albert Pick, president of Albert Pick & Co., has bought from Elliott W. Darling the recently built Plymouth hotel and store property at the northwest corner of Evanston and Leland avenues. The consideration is not given. It is subject to an incumbrance of $175,000, in the form of serial bonds floated by S. W. Straus & Co., who placed a valuation of $375,000 on the property in making the loan. The property includes a four story brick building, of fireproof construction, containing 145 hotel rooms, seventeen offices, and fourteen stores. The ground is 152x172 feet. Mr. Darling, the seller, will operate the hotel, which will open on Sept. 6.

Henry Stafford and George Stamm have sold to Virginia H. Marshall the apartment property at the southwest corner of Clifton and Leland avenues, 107x88 feet, for a nominal consideration, subject to an incumbrance of $35,000. In part exchange Mrs. Marshall and her husband, Fielding L. Marshall, gave an undivided half interest each to Mr. Stafford and Mr. Stamm in vacant property, 121x383 feet, at the northeast corner of Sheridan road and Airdrie place.

George H. Davis Jr. has sold to H. W. Barr apartment property, 46x150 feet, at the northeast corner of Washington avenue and East Fifty-sixth street, for a consideration of $60,000, subject to an incumbrance of $35,000.

Sale in Kedzie Avenue.

Mayer Flatow has bought from Samuel Phillipson store and flat property 35x125 feet in Kedzie avenue, 133 feet north of Douglas boulevard, for a consideration of $32,000, subject to an incumbrance of $14,000.

Edward D. Stevens has sold to John W. Sturtevant apartment property at the northwest corner of Grand boulevard and East Thirty-eighth street, 100 feet to Calumet avenue, for a nominal consideration, subject to an incumbrance of $48,500.

Benjamin H. Marshall and Charles E. Fox have given a trust deed on the ten story apartment building they are erecting and ground 70x108 feet at 199 Lake Shore drive, to the Fort Dearborn Trust and Savings bank, as trustee, to secure a loan of $125,000 for ten years at 5 per cent.

The Chicago Title and Trust company yesterday filed notice in the recorder's office of its renunciation as trustee in a trust deed to several parcels of property owned by Leopold Zeman and David Zemanski, on which loans of $150,000 and $37,500 were made recently. The company asserts it was not previously notified of its selection as trustee to the deed, and since has been unable to get in touch with the parties. One of the trust deeds was from David Zemanski, on property 25x100 feet in Canal street, near Barber street, to secure a loan of $37,500 for five years at 5 per cent. The other was given by Leopold Zeman to secure a loan of $150,000 made on property 25x83 feet in West Twelfth place, 325 feet west of Jefferson street; 100x173 feet in Fourteenth place, 300 feet west of Jefferson street, and 75x100 feet in Canal street, near Fifteenth place. This loan was for ten years at 5 per cent.

Lease in North Forty-eighth Avenue.

George H. Hines has leased from Bert Schreiber for a term of eleven years the factory property at 315-317 North Forty-eighth avenue, 57x100 feet, on a basis of $400 a month for the first twelve months, $450 a month thereafter until Aug. 31, 1915, and $500 a month for the remainder of the term. Mr. Schreiber has sold the same property to Louis W. Rose for $60,000.

Francis A. Hammer has bought from Elizabeth S. Paul the vacant property in Margate terrace, 334 feet east of Sheridan road, 60x168 feet, which he will improve with a high grade apartment building at a cost of $28,000.

Hattie W. Lockwood and Bertha L. Lockwood have bought from Oscar W. Johnson the new six apartment building and a lot 60x118 feet at 931-933 Margate terrace, for a nominal consideration. It was held at $37,000. Charles F. Henry of Baird & Warner represented both parties in each of the two transactions in Margate terrace.

LONG TERM LEASES

The law of leaseholds is highly technical and the increasing value of such estates through the erection of valuable buildings makes the titles increasingly subject to attack.

This company examines with care and skill the title to leasehold estates for long terms and, being satisfied, guarantees the same, assuming all risk of forfeitures, mergers and surrenders by operation of law.

A CANADIAN WHEAT FARM As An Investment

A strong corporation composed of well-known Chicago business men is now farming with modern power machinery several thousand acres of rich grain land in Saskatchewan, Western Canada.

This Company makes a specialty of developing and operating farms in Western Canada for non-resident owners. At the present time we are operating a number of farms for Chicago people. We offer for sale a few farms now being developed and ranging in size from 160 to 640 acres each. We provide complete facilities, machinery elevators, and operating organization, and will operate these farms for the purchasers each year for a share of the crops.

At the present low prices the scientific operation of these farms assures the purchaser a net annual income upon the investment conservatively estimated at 20%. The purchaser can also expect a substantial profit through the rapid increase in value of the land itself made possible by the great development of Western Canada.

BEEVES AT $10.65 SET YARD RECORD

Lower Grades of Steers Largely $1.00 Less than Two Weeks Ago.

HOG TRADE LETHARGIC.

Surplus of 4,000 Head Carried Over; Matured Sheep Meet Favor.

High prices kept cattle buyers at Chicago yesterday in check and fresh receipts of 14,000 head, although much lighter than had been expected, proved ample for all requirements. The principal feature of the trade was the paying of $10.65 a hundred pounds for 38 beeves, averaging 1,506 lbs. This sale established a new high record for the yards. Other grades of beef steers were largely $1.00 lower than at the high time two weeks ago. Calves touched $11.00.

Only one load of prime 207 lb hogs reached the $9.00 mark and shippers secured stock suitable for their needs at around $8.90, while packers amassed their droves at an average cost of $8.51, against $8.53 Tuesday. Trade was lethargic and 4,000 of the 19,000 hogs received were carried over unsold.

Matured sheep again met favor with buyers and sold on a strong basis, while lambs were in excessive supply and easy to a shade lower. Fancy Montana wethers sold up to $4.40, an advance of 5c, while best range lambs stopped at $7.25.

AMERICAN CHEESE UP 1-2 CENT

Foreign Makes Unchanged, but Home Shapes Gain.

PEDDLERS GO ON PICNIC.

Greeks Lay Off a Day; Fruits and Vegetables Suffer.

A firmer and more active market for cheese was reported at Chicago yesterday, and prices of American makes were strong to ¼@½c a pound higher. Foreign shapes were unchanged, but in good demand at the prices. Eggs also sold readily, with receipts of 13,064 cases, but butter was slow and easy and arrivals of 11,580 tubs did not clear.

Greek peddlers held their annual picnic yesterday and did not appear on the market for their usual supplies of fresh fruits and vegetables. Their absence was felt, especially by holders of gem melons, peaches, tomatoes, and sweet corn, who had difficulty finding an outlet for their offerings.

Receipts of potatoes fell off to 30 cars, and the market had a firmer undertone, although values were not improved. Sales of good Minnesota stock were made at 45@50c a bushel, while fancy Wisconsins sold up to 57c.

Poultry trade was moderately active and prices held on a firm basis, without showing material change.

FOR SALE—
I am building on Lexington-st., near Homan, a number of two flat buildings. They are modern to the last minute, but are being constructed according to the old fashioned methods of honest work at a fair price. I am sparing no expense to make them right. Live in one flat, rent the other, and your building is soon paid for, remaining thereafter a profitable and permanent investment. Naturally I am unable to fully describe here their conveniences, beauty, and sterling qualities, but if you appreciate such things come out [Metropolitan L to Kedzie or St. Louis station] and look them over while under construction and before many of the best features of good building which do not show on the surface are covered up—as is so often the case where the builder has no ideals save profit. Bring your expert with you—every detail will more than bear his closest inspection. If you are the sort of buyer I want these buildings to go to, I am in a position to offer you the most favorable terms that one honest man can ask of another.

California.

MY INVITATION HOLDS GOOD.
I have room for four or five more congenial people who want to accompany my special Pullman party to California Tuesday, Sept. 3d, via C. & N. W. R. R. I recently purchased the famous Ranch of the Flowers in the Sacramento Valley and am offering a part of it in 10, 20, and 30 acre tracts to desirable people. Under my plan you can make the trip at no expense to you. My price for this choice land to parties interested now is $125 per acre, terms to suit. This is my offer. If you purchase ten acres or more, provided land suits you after seeing it, or if you find any misrepresentations whatever, then I will pay your round trip fare to California. And if you can assure me that you are seriously interested and have the money to make a first payment after seeing the land, then I will pay your fare to California whether you buy land or not. Reservations made at once. Car leaves Sept. 3d and there is room for only four or five more. Write, wire, call, or telephone for particulars. Special arrangements for out of town parties. Address J. M. HOYT, 1004 Otis Bldg., La Salle and Madison-sts., Telephone Franklin 3670, Chicago.

HOW COLONEL'S EYES WE[illegible]

Burlington, Vt., Aug. 29.—[illegible] Theodore Roosevelt put in a [illegible] Vermont, making the last of [illegible] here tonight. He encounter[illegible] crowds of good size everywher[illegible]

For 150 miles the Progressive [illegible] in automobiles proclaiming the [illegible] the new party. He started at [illegible] kept it up until nearly midnig[illegible] arrived in Burlington, where [illegible] night, he was covered with du[illegible] he was in fine trim and had a "[illegible]

Early in the day he waded in[illegible] ard Oil controversy. He deno[illegible] tor Penrose of Pennsylvania [illegible] Archbold as representatives o[illegible] bination between crooked b[illegible] crooked politics."

Archbold Didn't Get the [illegible]

"Archbold and Penrose," he [illegible] fied that Mr. Bliss had attemp[illegible] mail the Standard Oil company [illegible] bold didn't complain because h[illegible] mailed. What he complained [illegible] he didn't get the goods.

"Penrose testified that he tr[illegible] mail the Standard Oil compan[illegible] that if it didn't contribute it [illegible] hostility in certain quarters.

"As the senator has admitt[illegible] has done he should be thrown [illegible] senate of the United States. The[illegible] his own condemnation down hi[illegible]

The former president all day [illegible] support for the Progressive part[illegible] was the party of the present and [illegible] the old parties were parties of th[illegible]

"The procession is going alon[illegible] "I want Vermont to lead it."

He predicted victory for the P[illegible] and prophesied the passing of th[illegible] party. He referred to Presid[illegible] "the last of the reactionaries."

When His Eyes Were O[illegible]

In one of his speeches Col. R[illegible] plained how it was that he cam[illegible] the political principles advocate[illegible] gressive party. When he wen[illegible] life, he said, he had no idea o[illegible] which "big business" was con[illegible]

"I was puzzled years ago," h[illegible] the opposition I encountered [illegible] big business men who I thou[illegible] spectable. Some of them, I am [illegible] went to church and played be[illegible] ble. I was shocked and horr[illegible] learned what they were doing."

One incident after another, [illegible] vinced him while he was gove[illegible] York and later in his public lif[illegible] large corporations were "cro[illegible] he became governor, he said, he [illegible] knew what the initiative and [illegible] and other measures of the kind [illegible] It was through his experience [illegible] to the belief that such measure[illegible] sary to place the people in mo[illegible] trol of their agencies of govern[illegible]

Attacks Democrats on [illegible]

In his speech tonight in B[illegible] colonel went more fully into [illegible] purposes of the Progressives.

He demanded the immediate [illegible] Canadian reciprocity law and [illegible] Democratic party for its stan[illegible] saying that if its plank were [illegible] it would "cause utter ruin bo[illegible] cultural and industrial commun[illegible] almost no effect on helping t[illegible]

The colonel gave high praise [illegible] son, his running mate, enumera[illegible] reforms put through in Cal[illegible] Johnson.

No Hope from Old P[illegible]

Col. Roosevelt praised the ch[illegible] people of Vermont, saying the[illegible] of citizen "to whom we must [illegible] strive to make this a governm[illegible] ple."

"There is no hope," he sai[illegible] or economic reform contained [illegible] of either the Democratic or R[illegible] ties. Each is boss ridden and [illegible] trolled. Neither dares to face [illegible] of today. Each proposes s[illegible] and tries to distract the att[illegible] people from their real needs [illegible] sound and fury with which the[illegible] false issues.

"The two old parties have ut[illegible] with the facts of modern eco[illegible] they serve no other purpose [illegible] screens each for its own sini[illegible] crooked politicians and croo[illegible] who rule and pillage with imp[illegible]

"Instead of a representativ[illegible] ours has become an unrepresen[illegible] ment, and the popular will [illegible] frustrated by the politicians, [illegible] in the legislature, set at n[illegible] courts and trampled on by the [illegible] ilege.

"Neither of the old parties [illegible] least faint promise of breaki[illegible] dition of affairs. The triumph [illegible] perpetuate it. The Progres[illegible] boldly grapples with these is[illegible]

State and Nation H[illegible]

"Now, here in Vermont, [illegible] your state campaign is hitche[illegible] tional campaign. This is so[illegible] place, because our opponents [illegible] both the old machines, are doi[illegible] they can to elect their respect[illegible]
